WORKINGS OF SPY RING TOLD

Nazis Jail 6 Vienna Priests, Cardinal's Aid

BISHOP BARRED FROM SCHOOL IN WAR ON CHURCH

Homes and Shops of Jews Attacked.

VIENNA, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Six Catholic priests and one official of Cardinal Theodore Innitzer's bureau, who is not a priest, have been arrested, it was learned tonight.

[Other dispatches said the arrested clerics included a bishop, whose name was withheld. He was reported to have fought with his fists against the Nazis who arrested him.]

It was believed the arrests were in connection with publication last week of an anonymous leaflet. It was circulated to give a full report of the anti-church demonstrations at St. Stephen's square when Cardinal Innitzer was wounded by a stone thrown through the window of his palace.

Bands of Nazis smashed windows of Jewish homes and shops tonight when the Jewish Feast of the Tabernacle was ended. Jews leaving their prayer houses were insulted.

Bar Bishop from School.

Nazi quarters reported that permits of Catholic bishops to inspect religious classes in elementary schools probably would be withdrawn throughout Austria.

The first such step was taken today with a decree preventing Dr. Sigismund Waitz, archbishop of Salzburg, from entering the public schools to supervise religious education.

Following the abolition of church schools last month the Nazis gave special concessions to bishops to visit public school classes on religion and to make suggestions.

The Salzburg district school council said supervision of the religious classes would be carried out solely by state and school officials.

Voiced Fealty to Hitler.

Archbishop Waitz was one of the Catholic leaders who signed a declaration of fealty to Reichsfuehrer Hitler soon after Germany's annexation of Austria. He also had played a leading rôle in the recent negotiations between the church and state for an agreement on their respective rights.

Joseph Buerckel, Nazi commissioner for Austria, announced in his anti-clerical speech last Thursday that these negotiations were broken off. He charged that church leaders had "speculated with war" over Czechoslovakia but "the hope that Czechoslovakia would help them vanished and negotiations were broken off."

Catholic parishes in Vienna have reported that since Buerckel's speech church withdrawals have varied from 15 to 40 per cent. Similar movements were reported from Salzburg and authorized Nazi spokesmen predicted they would become general in Austria because of "public indignation over Buerckel's revelation."

Attacks Cardinal's Sermon.

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Diplomatisch Politische Korrespondenz, which often reflects the views of the foreign office, took a hand tonight in the church-state conflict centering in Vienna.

The publication said the sermon preached Oct. 7 by Cardinal Theodore Innitzer, archbishop of Vienna, which led to a Nazi mob's attack on his palace the following day, had furnished anti-Nazi elements with opportunity for deliberately insulting National Socialism [Naziism].

"The German attitude toward the churches remains the same as before—the state under no circumstances will tolerate interference or obstruction in the national resurgence from any quarter," said the Korrespondenz.

Church Given a Warning.

The publication warned the church "not to adopt an attitude of opposition toward the highest ideals of the nation."

"To represent a defensive action against the machinations of political Catholics as anti-Christian on the part of the state and party is a deliberate distortion of the truth," it said.

"Never in Germany has there been any interference with church preachings.

"The church is ill served by those of its servants or false friends who are anxious to invest it with functions which the state can neither recognize nor tolerate."

LEHMAN PICKS PROSECUTOR IN GRAFT INQUIRY

Push Brooklyn Quiz After Election.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Gov. Herbert H. Lehman tonight appointed Attorney John Harlan Amen, son-in-law of the late President Grover Cleveland, as a special prosecutor to investigate charges of official corruption in the office of District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan of Brooklyn, most populous borough of New York City.

John H. Amen.

The naming of Amen was the result of several weeks of pressure on the governor, who is opposed for reëlection by the Republican nominee, District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, rackets prosecutor.

Geoghan is a Democratic ally of Lehman and had been whitewashed by the governor on similar charges in the past. It had been charged that killers and racketeers had bought their freedom from Geoghan's office.

Delay Quiz Till After Election.

In delaying the appointment until tonight Lehman succeeded in burying the investigation and any possible damaging public disclosures until after the Nov. 8 election. Twenty days must now elapse under the law before the special grand jury can be impaneled.

Amen has served as a special assistant attorney general in charge of the federal government case against racketeering in interstate truck trafic for which seventy-six persons have been indicted.

The governor gave out a list of prosecutions in which Amen has figured and pointed out that he had served as a special assistant attorney general under the administrations of Presidents Coolidge, Hoover, and Roosevelt. Within a few days, Gov. Lehman said, he would go over the matter of the Geoghan investigation with Amen and Supreme Court Justice Francis D. McCurn of Syracuse, who will preside over the special term to hear all matters growing out of the inquiry.

Geoghan Is Criticized.

The inquiry was instigated in the first instance by William B. Herlands, former aid of Dewey and commissioner of investigation for the city in connection with the case of Isidore Juffe, racketeer in the fur business. Juffe, an ex-convict, enjoyed several dismissals until the grand jury finally indicted him. He was reported to have admitted to Herlands that he "paid plenty" to get the dismissals.

In 1935 Geoghan was criticized for his failure to obtain a conviction in the Drukman murder case, which also involved a ring of racketeers, and Joseph D. McGoldrick, running against him for the district attorney's office, charged that "murder was safe" in Brooklyn. Geoghan was reelected with the weight of the Roosevelt-Farley-Tammany-Lehman patronage machine behind him.

Assails Housing Bungling.

After Geoghan was once more ensconced in office, Gov. Lehman appointed a special prosecutor, Hiram C. Todd, who convicted the murderers in the Drukman case. A special grand jury brought charges of "negligence and gross incompetence" against Brooklyn's district attorney, alleging he was friendly with known racketeers. After fourteen hearings during the early part of the 1936 gubernatorial campaign, Gov. Lehman declared the accusations had not been proved by a single shred of evidence.

Lehman's action, timed for release just a half hour after District Attorney Dewey had attacked him in a radio speech for bungling housing improvements in New York City, stole the political spotlight.

Dewey accused the Lehman administration of failing to develop a sane, sound low cost housing and slum clearance program, although the governor had made a lot of speeches about it.

Drives to Death Fleeing 11 Gal. Gasoline Theft

A motorist driving at high speed in an effort to avoid paying for eleven gallons of gasoline met a spectacular death in Kane county last night.

The victim, tentatively identified as Edward J. Alkire, 32 years old, of Elgin, stopped at a filling station three miles west of Geneva on Roosevelt road. When his tank had been filled he sped west.

Two young friends of the proprietor saw his flight. They are Donald Bailey of Geneva and Elvin Kaltosen of Elburn. They pursued the fugitive. It was Bailey who told the story of the end of the chase.

Turns Over in Ditch.

"The man drove seventy-five miles an hour," he said. "Now and then he would turn off his lights. I guess he thought he could throw us off that way.

"He drove west in Roosevelt road to route 47, where he turned south through Elburn. A few miles farther along he swung into a dirt road leading to the village of Kaneville. He must have been doing sixty when, about a half mile from Kaneville, the car turned over in a ditch.

Car Bursts into Flames.

"It burst into flames. We were a mile or so away and when we got up to the place the fire was so hot we couldn't approach. The driver burned to death."

Tracing the license number, deputy sheriffs found that it was issued to Alkire, whose home was at 319 Brook street, Elgin. His wife said he had left in the morning to drive to Freeport, and had telephoned late in the afternoon that he was going on to Springfield. She said he hoped to get work there as a sign painter.

UNSTEADY CLIENT GETS OFF WITH A BET WITH JUDGE

Irvin Schroeder, 33 years old, a frequent visitor in the Berwyn police court, was before Magistrate Frank J. Pavek again yesterday. The charge was also familiar: Irvin had been drinking.

"You've been here at least ten times before," said the court.

"No, your honor, only six or seven," argued Irvin.

"Well, I'll bet $5 you're back again before December," said Pavek.

"You're on, your honor," said the defendant. A charge of disorderly conduct against Irwin was dismissed.

COLLEGE GIRL SURVEY REVEALS THEY'D LIKE CELLINI FOR HUSBAND

New York, Oct. 17.—[Special.]—A survey by the Wistarion yearbook of Hunter College for Women reveals that 26 per cent of the senior class would rather have Benvenuto Cellini for a husband than James Roosevelt, Edsel Ford, Nijinsky, Shelley or Gen. John J. Pershing, disregarding present age or marital status. The survey also showed that the seniors by a vote of 2 to 1 would rather waltz in crinoline than shag in "sharpie" clothes. The girls said they would rather live in Paris, Tahiti, or Capri than Chicago, Detroit, or Brooklyn.

INSIST NEW YORK TRAFIC OFFICERS GIVE NAZI SALUTE

New York, Oct. 17.—[Special.]—An order went out to trafic cops today to be more careful how they halted motorists, because certain citizens, particularly from American Jewry, had been complaining that the police were giving the Nazi salute when they raised their hands to halt trafic.

Ordinarily, New York's cops take orders in respectful silence. But today they harassed their superiors by hurling question after question.

"If we can't hold up a hand any more," they asked, "how can we stop cars? Should we wiggle our ears at motorists or lift a leg at them?"

Bachelor Solves Button Problem and Makes Money

Richmond, Va., Oct. 17.—(AP)—Garland M. Reid, 54 years old, railway machinist, is one bachelor who solved the button problem by making lady luck pay dividends. He picked up a button three years ago and nearby found a penny. A few hours later he found another button—and a dime. Becoming a bit superstitious, Reid said he continued to search for buttons—and one night found a $400 roll of bank notes. Since then he has picked up some 2,000 buttons looking for more good luck.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Stockings which "must not be transparent" and brown lether shoes with low heels and plain toecaps have been prescribed for the women's auxiliary of the territorial army [national guard]. Uniforms of a drab greeny shade have been ordered for officers while the rank and file will dress in drab serge.

Is Your Mind Up to Level of Your Job?

How much intelligence does it take to hold your job? Albert Edward Wiggam, author of "The Marks of an Educated Man" and kindred books, last night professed to give the answer.

Speaking at the midwest conference of the American Booksellers' association, Wiggam used the vocational intelligence scale of James Barr of Stanford university in warning 325 booksellers that the people who buy books are a dwindling race.

Devised by Educators.

The Barr scale was devised by thirty leading educators and is based on the relative intelligence required to perform various tasks.

The scale starts at zero with the hobo and ends with the inventive genius, credited with 2,000 intelligence units. Here are a few vocational ratings on the scale:

Hobo	000
Garbage collector	211
Day laborer	262
Barber	602
Telephone operator	717
Street car conductor	732
Plumber	875
Undertaker	1,021
Photographer	1,083
Detective	1,086
Traveling salesman	1,117
Editor	1,284
Primary teacher	1,289
Dentist	1,354
High school teacher	1,514
Industrial chemist	1,542
Mechanical engineer	1,543
Lawyer	1,575
High grade artist	1,618
Architect	1,628
Physician	1,671
High grade journalist	1,691
University professor	1,781
Great merchant	1,806
Great musician	1,814
Research leader	1,945
Great surgeon	1,377
Genius like Edison	2,000

Wiggam judiciously qualified his remarks on these classifications by saying a person employed at a vocation low in the scale might have more intelligence than needed for his job.

Points to Decline in Culture.

"The important point," he said, "is that the people in the 1,000-2,000 bracket are not perpetuating themselves. Because of declining birth rates in Illinois, for example, the cultured classes are decreasing at the rate of 16 per cent every 35 years. Illinois stands 22d in Columbia university's culture rating of states. The southern states are at the bottom of the list. And their birth rate will provide them a 50 per cent population increase every 35 years."

Benes Accepts Bid to Lecture at U. of Chicago

Dr. Eduard Benes, former president of the Czechoslovak republic, has accepted an invitation to become a visiting professor at the University of Chicago and deliver a series of lectures on democratic institutions.

Dr. Eduard Benes.

Dr. Robert Maynard Hutchins, president of the university, extended the invitation to Dr. Benes Oct. 8 through Wilbur Carr, the American ambassador to Czechoslovakia. Benes' lectures here will be under the sponsorship of the Charles R. Walgreen Foundation. Although the engagement is only for a series of lectures, hope was expressed on the Midway last night that arrangements would be made for Benes to remain.

It is uncertain when Benes will arrive. It was indicated, however, he will leave Prague soon, possibly within a few weeks, and come directly to the university. Only the settlement of important problems growing out of his retirement during the Sudeteniand crisis will delay him, it was said.

For nearly a quarter of a century Dr. Benes has been one of the great figures on the European political scene. His life has been a dramatic one.

Born of peasant parents in Bohemia 54 years ago, he first made a gallant fight to obtain an education. His people were poor and he had to work his way through the University of Prague. There he met Prof. Thomas G. Masaryk, the foremost advocate of Czechoslovak independence, and afterward worked unceasingly to make the older man's dream come true.

At the outbreak of the world war Masaryk fled to Switzerland, but Benes remained for some time in Prague. He was the leader of a group that furnished the allies with information about the internal affairs of Austria-Hungary. In July, 1915, he too fled across the border to Switzerland. Enemies were seeking him and he had to disguise himself to escape.

Strive for Independence.

Thereafter Benes and Masaryk strove to persuade the allies to make a separate country of their homeland. This was done at the peace conference at Versailles. The two patriots went back in triumph. Masaryk became president and Benes was made his foreign minister.

In this position Benes expended all his talents. He became known as "the suitcase minister." An intense democrat, he often caught trains on short notice and rode to other European capitals for conferences with their foreign ministers.

When Masaryk retired from office in 1935 he recommended Benes as his successor. There was little opposition.

Dr. Benes is no stranger to academic pursuits. He studied at the University of Dijon and the Sorbonne in Paris as well as in Prague.

ARMY DESERTER EXPOSES PLOTS OF NAZIS IN U. S.

Jury Hears Plan to Steal Secrets.

New York, Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Gustav Rumrich, two time army deserter, told a federal jury today how he joined a Nazi spy ring to steal American defense secrets. He went to the witness stand shortly after United States District Attorney Lamar Hardy had revealed to the jury an amazing charge of conspiracy involving the Nazi-German government.

Dr. Ignatz Theodor Griebl, chief Nazi spy in New York, who fled to Germany.

Rumrich has pleaded guilty to an espionage indictment naming eighteen persons, including several high German officials. The majority of the defendants are in Germany and only three members of the alleged spy ring are on trial here.

One Woman Defendant.

They are Miss Johanna Hoffman, red haired hairdresser aboard the German liner Europa, arrested Feb. 26, charged with carrying dispatches from Germany to members of the spy ring; Private Erich Glaser of the United States army, who was arrested at his post at Mitchel field, air corps base, and Otto Hermann Voss, German born aviation mechanic, seized at his work bench at the Seversky aircraft plant, Farmingdale, N. Y.

Rumrich, who received $40 a week as a spy, took the witness stand as a government witness against his three co-defendants. He said he was born in Chicago where his father served as a secretary of the old imperial consulate of Austria-Hungary. His parents took him back to Europe, where he attended schools until he was 17. Then he returned to the United States.

Deserts, Punished, Deserts Again.

He joined the United States army in 1930 and was assigned to the general dispensary, later to Governors Island in New York harbor. He said he deserted because his English was bad and his fellow soldiers "made life pretty tough for me."

Later Rumrich said he surrendered, served a brief sentence for desertion, and then was transfered to the medical corps to the Panama canal zone. There he met Glaser. After his service in Panama he was transfered to Fort Missoula, Mont., where he deserted a second time.

"That was in 1936," he testified. "There was a shortage in the ration account and I was in fear of being discovered so I came to New York. After reading a book by Col. Walter Nicolai, former chief of the German intelligence service, in the public library I decided to become a spy."

Fixes Code for Answer.

Rumrich said he wrote Col. Nicolai under a fictitious name and offered himself "for the service." In his letter he asked that an advertisment be placed in a New York newspaper if his services were wanted. The advertisment, he testified, subsequently appeared in the paper.

Previously Capt. Franz Friske and Emil Maurer of the North German Lloyd-Hamburg American lines, had told of placing the advertisment in the paper. Capt. Friske said that Capt. Ernst Mueller, one of the absent Germans accused of directing the spy conspiracy, came aboard his ship in March of 1936 and gave him $10 and the copy of the advertisment to be placed in the newspaper.

The advertisment read: "Theodore Koerner, your letter received. Please send reply address Sanders, Hamburg, Germany." Otto Sanders, referred to in the notice, is one of those named in the indictment but at present in Germany. It was this advertisment, the government contends, that served as a code notice to Rumrich that he was to serve Germany as a Nazi spy for pay.

Outlines Conspiracy.

Earlier in the day District Attorney Hardy had outlined the government's charges to the jury. He spoke plainly and dramatically and astounded a silent courtroom with the blunt import of the spy conspiracy.

Emphasizing the seriousness with which the government views the case, the federal prosecutor charged with vehemence that the Nazi spy ring went so far as to try to reach into the White House itself. He charged that in Berlin was hatched a plot to murder Col. Henry W. T. Elgin, commandant of Fort Totten, a major army defense post in the New York defense area. In all, he listed 15 requests for information received from Germany by the spy ring.

Information Sought.

"These alleged demands, if filled, would have comprised facts and figures on the strength of the United States army on the eastern seaboard; the secret signal code used in communicating between land and air and naval forces, coast artillery units stationed on the east coast, mobilization and coast defense plans, data on the anti-aircraft carriers, Yorktown and Enterprise, and other information valuable to a foreign power contemplating an attack on the United States.

In addition Hardy described means available to the spy ring for obtaining this information. German printing presses were able to furnish copies of White House stationery, he said, and a facsimile copy of President Roosevelt's signature in the form of an almost perfect forgery was available to ring members.

After informing the jury that the conspiracy was hatched in and directed from Nazi Germany, he continued by naming as among those indicted Captain-Lieutenant Udo von Bonin and Captain-Lieutenant Herman Menzel, who are, he said, "residing in Berlin, Germany, are attached to the war minisitry of the German government, and are high German officials."

Under them, he continued, came the also absent defendants, Captain-Lieutenant Ernest Mueller of Hamburg and Captain-Lieutenant Erich Pfeiffer of Bremen.

"Both of these defendants," he said, "belong to the naval intelligence service and were in charge of German espionage in the United States, and to them went the reports and information obtained within this country concerning our national defense."

After outlining the charges against the defendants, which is conspiracy to violate federal espionage laws and punishable on conviction with a maximum sentence of twenty years in a federal penitentiary, Hardy went quickly into the substance of the case, a description of the conspiracy.

Outlines Spy Plot.

"The conspiracy was operated in the following manner," he said. "Germans living in this country, having been naturalized, were employed for a definite consideration, or for love of their native country, as agents to secure information at airplane factories, shipyards where government ships were being constructed, and other information affecting our national defense. In this class you will find the defendants Lonkowski, Griebl, Voss, Gudenberg, Glaser, and Rumrich.

"When this information had been secured, it had to be passed on to German officials residing in Germany, so agents known as 'contact men' were used to act as carriers in taking the information to Germany.

"In most cases they were stewards on either the North German Lloyd or the Hamburg American Line steamers, and in this class you will find the defendants Schmidt, Schluter, Schuetz, Jaenichen, Eitel, and Hofmann. They were stewards or other employés on the S. S. Europa and the S. S. Bremen of the North German Lloyd Line and the S. S. Hamburg and the S. S. New York of the Hamburg American Line.

"Communications were sent through the mail direct from Germany or brought over on the steamers by one of the contact men and then mailed in the metropolitan district to the agents telling them what information was desired. All such information obtained was handed to one of the carriers on the steamship lines and taken back to Germany or sent through the mails to specified addresses furnished the agents."

Clearing House in Home.

Elaborating on the alleged spy conspiracy in great detail, Prosecutor Hardy went on to charge that the New York home of Dr. Ignatz Theodor Griebl, former army reserve officer and a defendant who fled to Germany, was the clearing house for Nazi operations in the east. He charged that Berlin high officials had directed the theft of fifty American passports to enable the reich to send spies into the soviet under the guise of American tourists.

Hardy's dispassionate outline—requiring more than an hour—was notable for its disclosure of the infinite details sought by the ring's masters abroad and the smooth running manner in which the alleged conspiracy functioned for more than three years.

He charged that Rumrich was given the assignment of taking over forged White House stationery so a spy could pose as President Roosevelt and write to the navy department for data on navy airplane carriers. Rumrich is expected to amplify this angle in later testimony.

Hardy also charged that one particular target of the spy ring was Fort Monmouth, in New Jersey, where the most modern American anti-aircraft guns are tested. He charged that it was Berlin, not Rumrich, who suggested that Col. Eglin might be lured from Fort Totten, with a portfolio of secret information and that the colonel be killed. The plot didn't fool the wary colonel, in the course of events, as testimony will show, Hardy said.

Defense attorneys pictured their clients to the jury either as "innocent tools" of the spy ring or "victims of a frameup." Rumrich, they asserted, was a "romancer with fantastic ideas."

Among the important witnesses who is waiting to testify is Miss Senta de Wanger, who is from a prominent banking family in Germany. At one time, before coming to the United States, she was editor of a society and sports magazine.

VIENNA, Oct. 17. — Dr. Ignatz Theodor Griebl, whose name figured in the New York espionage investigation, opened practice here recently as a specialist in women's diseases, taking a flat and consulting rooms in one of the city's best districts vacated by a Jewish physician. Griebl refused to discuss the trial or anything relating to it today.

SASSO RELEASED IN TUNNEL UNION SHOOTING QUIZ

Jerry Sasso, business agent for the Sewer and Tunnel Miners' union, local 2, who was held by the police when two companions were shot and wounded Friday night, was released yesterday on a writ of habeas corpus by Chief Justice Michael L. McKinley of the Criminal court. Sasso, also a target of the gunfire, escaped injury.

Assistant State's Attorney David Leeds questioned Peter Fosco, president of the union and Democratic candidate for Cook county commissioner. Fosco asserted that he did not believe that union affairs were the motive for the shooting. He said that the union has had no trouble in years.

The two wounded men, who are still in the Bridewell hospital, are Frank Dlondi, 5573 Van Buren street, Sasso's half brother, and Gabriel Garro, 2620 Huron street. They and Sasso were fired upon by gunmen in front of 324 South Halsted street.

HANGS HIMSELF IN HOME.

Stanley Ukso, 54 years old, a repair man for the Chicago Surface Lines, hanged himself yesterday in his home at 1858 West 47th street.

U. S. HOLDS FOUR NAZIS AS SPIES IN CANAL ZONE AREA

Put in Jail in Default of $15,000 Bail Each.

CRISTOBAL, Canal Zone, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Four Germans, one of them a girl secretary 19 years of age, were jailed today in default of $15,000 bail each on a charge of photographing fortifications in the vital Canal Zone in violation of the United States espionage act.

Arrested yesterday at Fort Randolph, which defends the Atlantic entrance to the Panama canal, the quartet was arraigned before Judge E. I. P. Tatelman in Magistrate's court and ordered held for a preliminary hearing Thursday.

Pictures taken by the four Germans, it was learned, showed positions of anti-aircraft batteries at Fort Randolph and the big disappearing long range guns at Caleta point, overlooking Cristobal breakwater.

Photograph Gun Emplacements.

United States District Attorney J. J. McGuigan, to whom the case was turned over by military authorities, said the male suspects had served in the German army or navy and were well versed in military tactics.

"We have testimony," he said, "showing that these defendants knew that it was prohibited to take photographs of anything within Fort Randolph, but nevertheless they did actually take photographs, including certain gun emplacements."

Kurt Lindenberg, chief of the German Hamburg-American steamship line at Cristobal, whose confidential secretary is the girl in the case, blamed the incident on an innocent Sunday outing. He said army officials were "within their rights to resent a stupid, though unpremediated, intrusion on the military reservation."

Face Year in Prison.

The four prisoners were Ingeborg Waltraunt Gutmann, the girl; Hans Friedrich Schackow, 26 years old; Gisbert Wilhelm Gross, 26, and Ernest Robert Edward Khurig, 29.

The affidavit charged the quartet took pictures with the intention that information obtained would be used to the injury of the United States or to the advantage of a foreign power.

They are liable if convicted to fines of $1,000 each, one year imprisonment, or both.

HOLD MOLESTER OF GIRL, 8, FOR FELONY HEARING

CRIMINAL COURT.

Louise Washington, manslaughter, sentenced to 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary at Dwight, Ill.; Samuel Starks and Louis Boone, burglary, sentenced to 1 year to life each in the penitentiary by Judge William Lindsay.

Edward E. Hansen, who was arrested Sunday after he had molested a girl, 8 years old, was ordered held for arraignment in the Felony court tomorrow on a charge of crime against children. A crowd of more than 50 men and women gathered and threatened him after he had been seized by two policemen.

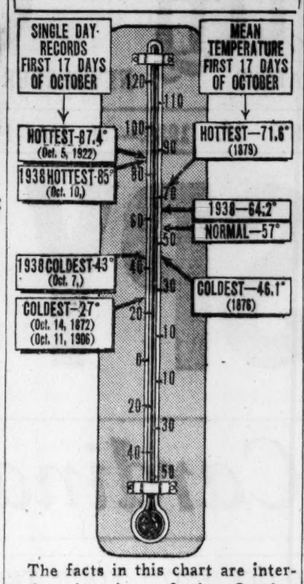
Hansen, questioned by Assistant State's Attorney Sam Papanek, said he had been drinking. He said that he had never been arrested before. He is 29 years old and lives at 3900 Wentworth avenue.

He took the girl to a truck in the rear of 315 West 37th street where he brutally annoyed her. Her screams attracted the attention of neighbors and Policemen Russell Richards and Gerald Pierce.

BOY, 10, STABBED IN PARK FIGHT.

Eugene Gieryna, 10 years old, was stabbed in the chest with a pocket knife yesterday by one of three boys who started a fight with him and his brother, Ted, 13, in Humboldt park. Physicians at Lutheran Memorial hospital said the wound was not serious.

Weather Facts



The facts in this chart are interesting in view of the October warmth in Chicago.

SUMMER DUE FOR LAST FLING IN CITY TODAY

Freak Weather Burns Up East; West Snowy.

A heat wave swept eastern states yesterday and a snowstorm blew hrough Montana and Wyoming. Meanwhile Chicago was enjoying the summery weather that has made this month the third hottest October in the annals of the weather bureau.

Forecaster C. A. Donnel expects the city to enjoy one last fling of summer today. The mercury, he predicts, will approach 84 and then tumble tomorrow as a cool wave moves in from this Rockies bringing showers with it.

Beaches and Parks Crowded.

Yesterday's maximum was 80 degrees at 11:40 a. m. Beaches, parks, and forest preserves again were crowded. Lions, tigers, and leopards at the Lincoln park zoo basked in outdoor cages. Director Floyd Young said it was the first time in his 16 years there that animals have been outside this late in the fall.

As a forerunner of the predicted change a chilly fog swept in over the city late yesterday and made rush hour driving difficult. Heavy fog still hung over many areas early today.

The first 17 days of October, 1879, hold the record for this period with a daily average temperature of 71.6 degrees, 14.6 above the normal of 57. In 1928 the average was 7.4 degrees above normal, and this year 7.2 degrees.

Nearly 90 in New York.

The highest temperature recording for any of the first 17 days of October, said Mr. Donnel, was 87.4 on Oct. 5, 1922. Highest this year was 85 on the 10th. The heat wave results from a surplus of southerly winds, caused by high pressure areas in the south and southeast and low pressure areas in the north and northwest.

In New York yesterday the all-time heat record for Oct. 17 was smashed when a mark of 87 was reached. The previous record was 84, set in 1908. Over Newark, N. J., airport a reading of 90 was registered. A girl 12 years old was overcome by the heat in Bridgeport, Conn.

Snow reached a depth of 7 inches in parts of Montana and Wyoming. Searching parties were sent out from Helena, Mont., to hunt for four deer hunters lost in the storm.

Girl, 5, Dies of Burns Suffered from Bonfire

Mary Bunczek, 5 years old, died in the county hospital last night of burns suffered when she fell into a bonfire on Sept. 26. The accident occurred in the rear of her home at 4444 South Honore street.

CITY DETECTIVE ACCUSED OF FAKE ARSON ARREST

Kidnap Charge Warant to Be Asked Today.

Detective Sal Corsi of the Maxwell street station was identified last night as the policeman who arrested a man on eight charges of murder and then forgot to report it to the police department. A warant for Corsi's arrest on charges of kidnaping and false imprisonment will be asked today by his accuser, Emil Guerrieri, according to Guerrieri's attorney, Joseph T. Harrington. Guerrieri and Frank Kolesiak were seized in connection with the fire last April that cost eight lives at Hotel Center, 1422 Madison street.

Corsi becomes the tenth person whose arrest is sought on a series of charges growing out of two fake arson confessions reported to the state's attorney by State Fire Marshal Sherman V. Coultas. Corsi's suspension from the police department also will be asked, Harrington said.

Name Another New Suspect.

Yesterday Harrington petitioned Judge John J. Rooney in the Felony court for a warant charging false imprisonment against John Ingram, 1117 North Dearborn street. A series of similar petitions had been filed by Harrington in the last few weeks. Judge Rooney declared he would rule on all of them next Friday.

Harrington declared last night that warants for the arrest of Coultas; his deputy, Frank E. Doherty Jr., and his chief investigator, Roscoe Bonjean, are of no importance now because the three state employés have submitted themselves to the jurisdiction of the court by filing a petition asking that they be not arrested.

Harrington said he will ask the court to hear evidence when the case comes up next Friday and then decide whether the three state officials should be held to the grand jury. His application for warants for the arrest of Robey Parks, Frank Marron, and James Quinn still stands, he said. In addition he expects warants naming Ingram and Detective Corsi.

Police Captain Demands Report.

Capt. John Egan of the Maxwell street station said last night was the first time he had heard about Corsi's arrest of Emil Guerrieri. He ordered Corsi to make a report to him this morning. He said he understood Corsi denied the charge of Guerreri.

Attorney Harrington told Judge Rooney yesterday that delay in issuing the warants had enabled several persons named in the charges to leave town. Others whose names he has not yet obtained are involved, he said last night. Their arrest will be asked when their identities are learned.

According to Guerrieri, he was seized on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 10, on Madison street by Corsi and Marron. Corsi, he said, showed him a policeman's badge and told him he was wanted for questioning about some counterfeit money. He said he was put into a cab and eventually taken to the Devonshire hotel.

Tells of Being Kicked Around.

"After I had been kicked around I was finally told I was wanted for setting fire to the Hotel Center, 1422 Madison street, last April 6," said Guerrieri, elaborating on sworn testimony already given before Judge Rooney to identify characters subsequently named. "I laughed at them. Then Parks told me that Kolesiak had confessed being in on the job of setting the hotel on fire. He said Kolesiak had put all the blame on me.

"Parks said Kolesiak also said I was guilty of a burglary. They told me how we had taken a lot of rags and gasoline to the hotel and left a lot of gasoline soaked rags about the fourth floor. Then, they said, I tossed the match.

Badge Wearer Intimidates Him.

"The man with the police badge kept yelling at me, 'You'd better tell.' I was kept in that hotel room all that night, getting abused frequently. Parks hit me many times and jumped on my toes with the heels of his shoes. My feet hurt for several days afterward.

"They kept me near an open window and kept saying to each other that if any one hit me the others should be careful to see that I wasn't knocked out the window. Marron kept asking me how I'd feel with my head shaved and my body strapped in the electric chair. They also kept threatening to shove a gun down my throat.

"Sunday morning I was taken to the Eastgate hotel where a Mr. McCarthy kept asking me what I knew about the fire. I told him I knew nothing about it. They kept telling me I had better talk. Later I was taken to the Medinah club where Coultas, Bonjean, and Doherty questioned me.

Forced to Pose for Photos.

"A photographer forced me to pose for many pictures so he could illustrate what was to be reported as my confession. Bonjean asked me if I had ever had my eyelashes burned off. Coultas asked me if I ever started a fire in a stove and had the flames fly back in my face.

"At this time Parks was saying: 'I'm going to bat him and when I say bat I mean bat.' He said he was going out to get a rope with which to torture me.

"When the others went out of the room Quinn advised me to confess. He said I would not be able to stand what they were going to give me. So I thought it best to tell whatever they wanted and then after that I made a confession to suit them. But I warned them it was not the truth."

When Coultas turned Guerrieri and Kolesiak over to the state's attorney's office with their confessions no mention was made of the part played by Detective Corsi. They repudiated the confessions and their innocence was established after a grand jury investigation.

Kolesiak said he was arrested by Doherty in his home and told he was wanted for questioning about a fight. He said he met Coultas a few minutes later and Coultas asked whether he would prefer to go to jail or to a hotel and he chose a hotel. So they took him to the Croydon hotel. He added:

"I was held for seven hours in a chair with the light of a 225 or 250 watt bulb on me all the time. The heat was terrific. They told me they wanted me to confess setting fire to the Hotel Center and they couldn't have surprised me more.

Says Bonjean Supplied Facts.

"After seven hours one of the officials said to me: 'We'll give you a half hour to make up your mind to confess. After that we'll bring in the wrecking crew and give you a good workout. Doherty told me I was ready for the electric chair. Finally I thought it wise to agree with them, and when I said I would tell them the story they wanted Bonjean supplied me with the facts to put in the confession. After that I wasn't abused any more."

C. & W. I. COUNSEL TELLS STAND ON AIRPORT TRACKS

Denies Liability Demand Is a Shakedown.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

Attorneys for the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad yesterday denied that they are seeking any unusual concessions in the proposed agreement to remove the tracks blocking expansion of Chicago airport. They made their denials in an attempt to answer charges made Sunday that the railroads' demands amount to a virtual shakedown of the city.

This term was applied by Ald. Bryan Hartnett [12th] to the railroad's demand that the city assume perpetual liability for any damages arising as a result of purchase of the new right of way for the tracks. The new right of way is to be bought by the city and deeded to the railroad in exchange for land where the tracks now lie.

Excepts Own Negligence.

"The railroad is ready to assume all liability for damages arising out of its negligence in connection with the operation and maintenance of the new right of way," said Attorney Samuel Kassel, speaking for the railroad's officers.

"If there is any other liability," he continued, "we believe the city should assume it. I cannot suggest what this liability might be, but the railroad feels it is the city's responsibility because the city asks for the change in location of the tracks.

"Perhaps damages might be sought by an abutting property owner who believes the presence of the new tracks near his land has reduced its value. Or perhaps a nervous invalid sues, charging the running of trains over the new right of way has aggravated his illness. "It is this sort of liability we think we should avoid."

Attorney Kassel said that he and other railroad representatives met yesterday with city officials and discussed the disputed demand. He said that apparently there had been a misunderstanding on the part of some aldermen as to the meaning of the railroad's stand.

Hopeful of Agreement.

"We talked it all over this morning," Kassel said, "and I am hopeful that we can agree on the wording of paragraphs to cover liability that will be mutually satisfactory. The ordinance virtually is in form."

Ald. Hartnett in his charges Sunday said that Attorney J. R. Barse, general counsel for the C. & W. I., had frankly stated he intended to squeeze the city as much as possible. Both the alderman and Barse were absent from yesterday's meeting.

Kassel said that Barse was on a vacation trip and would be away from the city until Oct. 31. He was asked whether Barse's absence would further delay the possibility of reaching an agreement on liability.

"It will not," Kassel said. "I will be in touch with Mr. Barse. Joe Grossman [assistant corporation counsel] is rewriting the liability provisions in the ordinance. When these are completed Mr. Barse will know about it immediately. He will be able to approve even though he is away.

"I do not know what Mr. Barse may or may not have told the aldermen, but I doubt if he said or implied that the railroad was trying to shake down the city."

Revive Downtown Airport Plan.

The city's airport engineers and traction engineers yesterday were considering suggestions presented from a score of sources that clay and other material taken from excavation of the city's new subways be used to build a downtown airport in Lake Michigan. Such an airport has been the dream of city engineers and aviation authorities for years.

"It would be logical to use the borings for this purpose," said one of the engineers yesterday. "Under the circumstances, however, it doesn't appear to be possible now.

"First it would be useless to attempt to 'make' land needed for an island in the lake without installing retaining walls. As I understand it there are no funds available now for putting in the retaining structure.

Funds for Walls Lacking.

"Second, although a million eight hundred thousand cubic yards of material will be taken out for the subways, this would be only about 30 per cent of the total filling needed to make a 350 acre island—and this is about the minimum for airport purposes."

City officials said that the only difficulty was lack of funds. It was explained that the subway borings could not even be dumped along the existing shore line because the city and the park district lack funds for erection of retaining walls in the shallow shore water.

SIGN PLANT BURNS; LOSS $2,500.

Fire early yesterday caused damage estimated at $2,500 in the Osgood Sign and Display company plant at 1312 Clybourn avenue.

Seymour Cohen filed notice yesterday of his intent to marry Faye Marks. And his brother Jules did the same thing about her sister, Pearl. Seymour is 26 years old and Jules is 23. They live at 4145 Broadway. Faye is 23 and Pearl 21. They live at 3634 Lexington street.

EVANSTON MAN KILLS SELF AFTER OBTAINING JOB

Galesburg, Ill., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Traver B. Hutchins, 26 years old, of Evanston, ended his life in a hotel here early today by slashing his wrists a few hours before he was to have started work as an instructor in English at the Lombard Junior High school.

No motive for his act had been found tonight. His father, Edgar B. Hutchins of 636 Hinman avenue, Evanston, a retired manufacturer, said he was happy and in good health, and had never intimated self destruction.

From Evanston came the suggestion of a possible motive—frustrated ambition. Young Hutchins had dreamed of being an actor. He was graduated in 1934 from Northwestern university, where he had specialized in drama. He was bright and clever, according to Dean Ralph B. Dennis of the school of speech.

After graduation Hutchins taught school in South Bend, Ind. Then last year he went to New York and studied acting. The stage success he sought did not come, friends said. This, it was said, may have preyed on his mind.

63 BOOKIES WALK INTO COURT; 63 WALK OUT AGAIN

Gambling charges against sixty-three men arrested by city police in handbook raids were dismissed yesterday by Judge Francis Borrelli in the Racket court. It was admitted the police had no warants when they made the raids.

427

But State's Attorney Courtney's campaign against handbooks continued. His ax raiders visited and wrecked eight handbooks during the afternoon, bringing their total to date to 427. The places raided were at 3925 Sheridan road, 2044 North Clark street, 911 Rush street, 610 Schubert place, 29 East Roosevelt road, 918 Wilson avenue, 3316 Broadway, and 128 West Lake street.

City police raided five other alleged handbooks. These were at 33 West Jackson boulevard, 5205 Harper avenue, 27 South Wabash avenue, 318 North Michigan avenue, and the same place later chopped up by Courtney's men at 128 West Lake street.

Battle Fire on O'Leary Estate at Lake Forest

A fire in a storehouse on the estate of John W. O'Leary, 1700 North Waukegan road, Lake Forest, gave the suburb's fire department an hour's tussle last night because of its proximity to the O'Leary residence, a chauffeur's bungalow and garage, all of frame construction. A wall of the garage was scorched, the other buildings were untouched. Sparks from a children's bonfire were said by firemen to have caused the blaze. Damage was $500.

COUNTY HOSPITAL PROTESTS 'UNFIT' BAN BY DOCTORS

AMA and Surgeons Take It Off Approved List.

The American College of Surgeons yesterday removed the Cook County hospital from the college's list of approved hospitals. This action drew angry protests from two of the chief medical figures at the hospital.

The American Medical association banned the hospital as a training center for interns last June. This fact also became public yesterday. County hospital doctors said that the A. C. S. was following the lead of the A. M. A.

Brig. Gen. Manus McCloskey, retired, who was appointed warden of the hospital last summer, referred questions about the actions of the two medical associations to Dr. Raymond W. McNealy, president of the hospital's medical staf. Dr. Karl A. Meyer, chief of staf at the hospital, joined Dr. McNealy in denouncing both the A. C. S. and the A. M. A.

Hear of No Grievances.

Both doctors said that, so far as they knew, the two medical groups had withdrawn approval of the hospital without cause. They agreed that no list of grievances against the hospital had been submitted by either the A. C. S. or the A. M. A.

Dr. Malcolm T. MacEachern, director of hospital activities for the A. C. S. in New York City attending the A. C. S. convention, refused to tell why the County hospital had been stricken from the A. C. S. list. He said that the surgeons will send a statement explaining their action to the hospital authorities.

Unable to Give Details.

Dr. Morris Fishbein, spokesman for the A. M. A., said he was "quite sure" a list of the A. M. A.'s objections to the County hospital's procedures had been sent to the hospital, but that he did not know the details of them. He said that Dr. W. B. Cutter handles hospital affairs for the A. M. A. and that Dr. Cutter was out of town.

Drs. McNealy and Meyer agreed that the A. M. A. seemed to be "shooting" at Gen. McCloskey. They said that the medical groups apparently did not approve of his appointment.

"Gen. McCloskey is a very fine man and a wonderful executive," Dr. McNealy said. "They ought not disapprove of him before he has a chance to show what he can do.

Try to Coöperate, They Say.

Both doctors insisted that the hospital authorities have made every effort to coöperate with the medical groups and that the hospital has carried out every recommendation made by the groups.

"The doctors at the hospital have taken this sandbagging just about as long as they are going to," Dr. Meyer declared. "There is less politics in the County hospital than in any other institution in the city.

"We'd be glad to have a comparative study made, banking our institution against any or all of them in the city. But they [the medical groups] won't tell us what they think is wrong—they just keep on making indirect attacks."

Dropped in 1935; Restored.

The County hospital first was dropped from the A. M. A.'s list of class A hospitals in 1935. At that time Dr. Meyer blamed the trouble on the fact that the hospital accepted graduates of the Chicago Medical school as interns.

The hospital then changed the regulations concerning the competitive examinations which candidates for interns must take so that graduates of the Chicago school were blocked from the jobs.

The hospital was restored to the A. M. A.'s approved list in 1937. It has never before been disapproved by the A. C. S., Dr. Meyer said.

WILMETTE BALKS AT PWA LOAN FOR GRADE PROJECT

A postcard referendum has indicated that Wilmette voters are opposed to a proposed $1,963,000 grade separation project, which would be partly financed with a PWA grant, Adolph Koenig, village manager, said yesterday that definite figures on the mail vote would be presented to the village council tonight.

The project would eliminate highway crossings of the North Shore and North Western railroads in Wilmette. Although PWA would furnish 45 per cent of the cost and the roads would be assessed $510,000, the village still would have to raise $570,000 with a bond issue. To pay interest on these bonds and create a sinking fund it would be necessary to raise the village tax rate from $1.11 to $1.35 per $100 of assessed valuation.

Start on State Street Bridge Called Vital to Subway Plans

BY WILLIAM BROMAGE.

One of the first concerns of the Public Works Administration engineering board which is to supervise building of Chicago's subways will be to urge an early start on a new State street bridge over the Chicago river.

Joshua D'Esposito, one of four members of the board, said yesterday the State street bridge is an important part of the subway project. The existing bridge must be torn down before the rapid transit tunnel can be built under the river.

Confer in City Today.

Other members of the PWA board are expected in Chicago today to confer with city engineers on subway plans. They are Robert Ridgway and H. H. Brinckerhoff of New York, and Col. Henry M. Waite of Cincinnati, O., chairman.

The board is the same which drew up the subway plans for PWA. Harold L. Ickes, PWA administrator, in approving an $18,000,000 federal grant toward the $40,000,000 project, said the board would supervise the work.

The council last August asked PWA for a $1,350,000 grant toward the estimated cost of $3,000,000 for a new bridge. Because the bridge is closely tied up with the subway project, it has been expected that PWA would make the allotment. Local PWA officials expect an early announcement from Washington on the bridge application.

Projects Closely Linked.

The existing bridge must be torn down, D'Esposito explained, because the subway cannot be built under its piling foundation. This will be removed. Caissons for the new bridge foundation will straddle the subway. The building of the subway and the bridge foundation logically should be done together, he said.

The new bridge has been planned for many years. The city has had money on hand for it since it sold a $3,500,000 bond issue for that purpose in 1930. If a federal grant is obtained, the money saved by the city could be used for other purposes, city officials explained.

Banks to Buy More Warants.

City Controler R. B. Upham announced yesterday that four downtown banks had increased from $14,512,000 to $19,000,000 their commitment to buy tax warants from the traction fund to finance the city's share of the subway cost.

The banks agreed last July to buy the smaller amount of warants to finance a 32 million dollar subway program. The additional $4,488,000 guarantee was necessary when the larger subway program costing $40,000,000 was accepted.

Princeton Students Hurt by Blast in Laboratory

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 17.—(AP)—An explosion today in a Princeton university laboratory broke a professor's ear drum and blew pieces of a shattered galvanized iron bucket into the flesh of four students. They went to their rooms after infirmary treatment. The explosion occurred when Prof. Charles P. Smyth, demonstrating to 100 freshmen the "energetic combination of a metal with liquid oxygen," poured powdered aluminum into a thermos flask of liquid oxygen which stood in the iron bucket.

FIREMAN IS SCALDED.

Fire Lieutenant Joseph McGinn of Engine Company 16 was burned yesterday when his company extinguished a small blaze in an apartment at 3052 Indiana avenue. A kettle of water fell from a stove and scalded his right leg.

MEDICAL TRUST INQUIRY BEGUN BY GRAND JURY

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—Dr. Hugh Cabot was called today as the first witness before a federal grand jury investigating charges that the American Medical association and the District of Columbia Medical society broke the anti-trust law.

Dr. Cabot, 66 years old, has been a critic of certain phases of organized medicine.

The government's charges are based upon alleged attempts by the medical organizations to discourage activities of Group Health Association, Inc., a coöperative offering medical services to government workers and their families in return for periodical fees paid in advance.

COURT UPHOLDS CONVICTIONS IN FANSTEEL STRIKE

State Supreme Bench Bans C. I. O. Appeals.

By refusing to consider an appeal yesterday, the Illinois Supreme court at Springfield upheld jail sentences and fines for thirty-nine men involved in a strike at the Fansteel Metallurgical corporation at North Chicago. They defied a court order to evacuate the plant last February during a strike led by the Committee for Industrial Organization.

The Supreme court's ruling yesterday held that no appeal in the case could be taken from the Appellate court at Ottawa. This court upheld the sentences for members of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel, and Tin Workers, a C. I. O. affiliate, ordered by the Lake County Circuit court. The appeal had been sought by Lodge No. 66 of the Steel Workers' union.

Ordered Off Property.

The ruling brings to a close an episode of industrial warfare begun Feb. 17, 1937, when strikers seized the plant. The following day Judge Ralph J. Dady issued the injunction ordering the union men to get off the company's property. In the injunction the judge termed the strikers trespassers and said they were unlawfully occupying the premises.

For eight more days the strikers remained in the plant. They were aided and led by Meyer Adelman and Oakley Mills, two nonresident organizers for the steel union. On the ninth day Sherif Lawrence A. Doolittle and his deputies expelled them by an attack on the plant during which tear and nausea gases were used.

A total of ninety-three alleged union members seized in or near the plant were charged with contempt of court. They took a change of venue from Judge Dady. The case was tried for ten days before Judge Theodore Forby of Zion.

Branded as Subversive.

At the end of that time the judge delivered a blistering opinion in which he described the C. I. O. organizers who fomented the strike as "subversive designers with perverted minds." He held thirty-nine of the defendants guilty, reserving his ruling on the other fifty-three. Of that number thirty-five have gone back to work for the company.

The heaviest penalties were inflicted on Adelman and Mills. Adelman was ordered to pay a $1,000 fine and serve 340 days in jail. Mills was fined $500 and sentenced to 180 days in jail.

Two other defendants, Charles Warner and Carl Swanson, strike leaders, were fined $300 each and sentenced to 180 days in jail. Eleven men were fined $150 each and sentenced to 120 days in jail. Twenty-four others were fined $100 each and sentenced to ten days in jail.

All the defendants have been out on bail pending their appeals.

Young Communists Oppose Lyons

In the present election campaign, we must defeat those who represent the interests of LaSalle Street, and reaction. Mr. Lyons, Republican candidate for U. S. Senator must be defeated at all costs if Illinois and America are to continue to move forward to greater democracy.

The Young Communist League extends a fraternal hand of cooperation to all young people and their organizations interested in defeating reaction and preserving democracy. Thru the unity of all democratic people, America and Illinois shall go forward.

COMMUNISTS ADMIT DRIVE TO BEAT LYONS

Candidate Charges It Aids Democrats.

Richard J. Lyons' charge in a radio speech last Sunday that communists are opposing his candidacy for United States senator on the Republican ticket and thereby aiding his Democratic opponent, Scott W. Lucas, was confirmed yesterday by a communist spokesman.

Jack Kling.

An anti-Lyons statement was issued by Jack Kling, state secretary of the Young Communist League of Illinois from the league's headquarters at 208 North Wells street which adjoin the state headquarters of the communist party. In it Kling admitted the organization's opposition to Lyons and proclaimed that he "must be defeated."

Seek Defeat at All Costs.

In his Sunday radio talk, Lyons said that communists have been attending his meetings and distributing circulars demanding that he be "defeated at all costs."

"Since they are so bitterly opposed to my candidacy," said Lyons, "and have no representative of their own party on the ballot, can there be any doubt as to whom they are supporting?"

Kling is 25 years old and a former fur worker. In 1935 he served time in the Bridewell after he was convicted of unlawful assembly.

The essential parts of Kling's anti-Lyons statement follow:

"To his [Lyons'] first charge that we are active among the youth of Illinois to defeat him, we plead entirely guilty.

"Our main aim in this election campaign is to help unite the youth to defeat all reactionaries. Mr. Lyons, who represents the big-business interests of Illinois, would do everything in his power to destroy and defeat all existing or pending progressive legislation.

Call Lyons People's Enemy.

"This man, despite his sweet talk of jobs in private industry at $50 a week, is an enemy of the people and must be defeated.

"Let Mr. Lyons explain to the people of Chicago why it is that progressives were threatened with arrest at one of his meetings in South Chicago for distributing material with which he disagreed.

"Furthermore, let Mr. Lyons explain if he will why it is that the communist party and Young Communist league are unable to speak at the same street corners that Mr. Lyons is privileged to address."

To the statement was appended an announcement that Morris Childs, whose independent petition as a candidate for United States senator was thrown out by the state certifying board, will speak soon at a meeting at which Lyons will be the chief target.

LYONS CALLS WOES OF RAILROADS FAULT OF NEW DEAL DELAY

Galesburg, Ill., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Unsolved railroad troubles were traced to the New Deal tonight by Richard J. Lyons, Republican candidate for United States senator. This city depends heavily upon railroad shops to furnish employment.

An enthusiastic audience heard Lyons as he made the first speech in his final week of downstate campaigning.

"The position in which the railroads find themselves today is directly due to the New Deal," Lyons said. "What did the New Deal do when legislation for the railroads and farmers was urgently needed? It wasted nine months in trying to force court packing and dictatorship bills through congress."

NEGRO PUBLISHER URGES SUPPORT OF G. O. P. TICKET

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 17.—(AP)—A Negro Democratic leader's appeal to Pennsylvania's 177,000 Negro voters to support the Republican gubernatorial candidate drew from Senator Joseph F. Guffey today a charge that the plea was "deceitful and dishonest."

The appeal was made by Robert L. Vann, Pittsburgh publisher and follower of Guffey, who asserted the move was designed to remove the present Democratic leadership and restore Guffey as the state's "number 1 Democrat." The senator split with the organization during the primary, by supporting C. I. O.-endorsed candidates, but the break later was mended.

Vann was named state Negro Democratic chairman in 1936 by National Chairman James A. Farley.

MINNESOTA RUN BY COMMUNISTS, INQUIRY IS TOLD

Says Farmer-Labor Group Ruled by Reds.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Communists have infested the Farmer-Labor party in Minnesota and are actively supporting Gov. Elmer A. Benson for reelection, witnesses today told the Dies house committee investigating un-American activities.

Henry C. Teigan.

Steve Gadler, a consulting engineer of St. Paul, Minn., and Albert Kittock of Minneapolis, who said he is a former communist, charged that communists have gained control of key positions in the Minnesota Farmer-Labor party through a "Trojan horse policy."

Gadler asserted that communists are active on the University of Minnesota campus, through the Marxist club and other groups and disseminate communist propaganda in the student body.

Ties Governor to Reds.

Gadler charged that Gov. Benson, Representatives John Bernard and Henry C. Teigan, all Farmer-Laborites, and Howard Y. Williams, director of the state soldier welfare division and a candidate for congress, are associated with communists. These officials, Gadler said, are "spoken of and written up in all communist publications as friends to their cause."

Earl Browder, head of the communist party in the United States, is campaigning for the reëlection of Benson, said Gadler. He charged that Benson has not repudiated him.

Representative Martin Dies [D., Tex.], chairman of the investigating committee, said that the committee was not investigating the Farmer-Labor party in Minnesota but "will follow the communists wherever they go, even though they lead into Minnesota or any other state."

Outside Agitators Busy.

Under examination by Dies, Gadler explained that "the rank and file of the Minnesota Farmer-Labor party resent this communistic influence, they are true American citizens." He said that communists are sprinkled throughout the party and that outside communist agitators participate in the Minnesota campaigns.

The Marxist club at the state university engaged Langston Hughes, "a communist of the first order," to make a speech there "with the O. K. of Dean Wiley" and was paid $100 from state funds, according to Gadler.

He also said that Roger Rutchick, secretary to Benson, was active in lining up communistic support for the governor's campaign. The Duluth convention of the Farmer-Labor association last month was dominated and controled by communist interests, Gadler continued.

He charged that the Workers alliance, a union of WPA employés and relief clients, is a front for the communist party and that its officers are largely members of that party. The alliance, "through Gov. Benson," ousted Victor Christgau, state WPA administrator, when he refused their demands, Gadler said.

Tells Own Experiences.

Gadler identified himself as the former campaign manager in Ramsay county, Minnesota, for Lieut. Gov. Hjalmar Peterson, defeated by Benson for the Farmer-Labor nomination for governor.

Kittock, saying he spoke from personal experience, described the communist "Trojan horse policy" by which party members worked through labor organizations to get into the Farmer-Labor association. Then, he said, they directed or sought to direct the Farmer-Labor party's activities.

The witness said that he resigned from the communist party last year because he became convinced by the soviet purge trials that "something was wrong there."

"You're testifying as a friend of labor who wants to rid the labor party of communists?" Dies asked.

"That is right," Kittock replied.

[Tornello Photo.]

MRS. WILLIAM H. FELLOWES.

Mrs. Jean McVoy Fellowes, whose wedding to William Harris Fellowes was an event in social circles of November, 1934, yesterday filed suit for divorce in the Lake county Circuit court at Waukegan. She charged cruelty, alleging her husband struck her with his fist on two occasions in recent months. Mrs. Fellowes left her husband's home on Belvidere road, Gray's Lake, July 1, 1938.

Mrs. Fellowes is the daughter of Mrs. Fortunato Jerance of Chicago and Rome, Italy. Her two sisters are Mrs. Walter J. Kohler of Kohler, Wis., and Mrs. Sidney Smith Gorham Jr. of Winnetka. Mr. Fellowes is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Adler of Evanston and Hayward, Wis. It was stated yesterday that the divorce would be uncontested. Mrs. Fellowes asks for her maiden name and alimony. Attorneys said a property settlement would be made outside court.

SUPREME COURT TO SAY IF U.S. CAN DEPORT BRIDGES

Will Rule on Expulsion of Communists.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—The United States Supreme court today agreed to review a case that is expected to guide the government's deportation proceedings against Harry Bridges, Australian communist and boss of John L. Lewis' C. I. O. unions on the Pacific coast.

The court granted a petition by the government to review a decision by the 5th circuit of appeals [New Orleans], holding that membership in the communist party is not alone cause for deportation of an alien. Joseph George Strecker, an Austrian born communist of Hot Springs, Ark., was ordered discharged by the Circuit court on a writ of habeas corpus

The 1918 immigration act authorizes the deportation of aliens who are members of organizations advocating overthrow of the government by violence.

Madam Perkins Saves Bridges.

Labor Secretary Frances Perkins last spring ordered deportation proceedings against Bridges, the C. I. O. leader, held up until a final Supreme court ruling after the Circuit court had ruled in favor of Strecker. The Supreme court agreed to review the case presumably because in previous decisions it has held that the communist party does advocate violence to overthrow the government.

More than a year ago the Seattle office of the bureau of immigration and naturalization, relying on the previous practice of the labor department and decisions of the Supreme court, requested a warant of arrest to start deportation proceedings against Bridges.

Files Shown Reluctantly.

Secretary Perkins did not authorize the warant and ordered an investigation to determine whether the witnesses against Bridges were responsible persons.

After much delay the senate commerce committee investigated the Bridges case and called upon Madam Perkins to produce her files, which she did reluctantly. Under great pressure from congress the labor department finally started proceedings against Bridges then suspended them immediately after the Circuit court's decision releasing Strecker.

QUEBEC PREMIER JOINS FIGHT ON WATERWAY; CALLS PLAN UNSOUND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 17.—Premier Maurice Duplessis of Quebec said today he was in complete agreement with the stand of Ontario's premier, Mitchell Hepburn, against the St. Lawrence waterways scheme, declaring the plan neither justifiable nor economically sound for years to come.

"Let them try it," was his terse reply when asked if it were possible for the Canadian government to undertake the project without the consent of the provinces. Premier Duplessis said the scheme, of which President Roosevelt is a strong advocate, would place Ontario and Quebec in "more than a critical position."

Premier Hepburn of Ontario made a strong stand against the waterway scheme after President Roosevelt again advocated it at the opening of the Thousand Islands international bridge in August.

ALLMAN ORDERS NEW CLEANUP OF PARTY POSTERS

Issues 2d Command on Political Eyesores.

Police Commissioner Allman repeated orders to his department to stop the activities of political billposters. He ordered Capt. John Prendergast, chief of the uniformed force, to pass on to supervising captains the order to clean up districts under their control and prevent further defacement of property.

"I told him," said Commissioner Allman, "that if I came on any evidence that the order wasn't being enforced I would pull down something more than the handbills."

Refusal Attracts Attention.

Billposting activities, which are strictly regulated by city ordinances, have attracted attention since Otto Kreuger, head of the billposters union, refused to furnish members of his union to post bills provided by the Republican county candidates reading, "Smash Nash-Kelly Boss Rule."

George A. Curran, chairman of the committee and Republican nominee for county treasurer, charged that Kreuger gave as his reason reluctance to get into the bad graces of the Democratic city administration.

As a result of publicity given Kreuger's refusal, Curran said yesterday, nearly a hundred citizens have applied to the Republican county committee for copies of the posters, which they will post in windows or on their own property.

City ordinances prohibit fixing any kind of poster to any tree, pole, sidewalk, or other public or public utility property in the city. They also prohibit bill posting on the walls of a building without the owner's permission, and in addition require a city permit for bills with an area greater than 12 square feet.

Previous Order Given.

Commissioner Allman's order was the second given the police department during the current political campaign. On Sept. 12 Allman notified all commanding officers that the billposting ordinance was being violated all over the city, saying:

"Where persons are found violating the provisions of these sections, you will make immediate arrests; and where cards, placards, posters, etc., are found on poles, etc., in your respective districts at the present time, you will cause them to be removed immediately."

G. O. P. CAMPAIGN CARRIED TO DOOR OF ROOSEVELT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today received a demonstration of Republican prowess in his back yard.

A caravan of Republican candidates inaugurated a two weeks preëlection drive through New York state with a rally at Poughkeepsie and went on to make various other stops in Dutchess county where Mr. Roosevelt is registered as a voter.

The rallying cry of all the candidates was the magic name of Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican candidate for governor against Gov. Herbert H. Lehman.

Tomorrow the President will receive Gov. Lehman as a visitor and the meeting is considered important by Democratic politicians in the state. Ever since Gov. Lehman deserted Mr. Roosevelt on the Supreme court packing issue there has been a coolness between the chief executive and the man he once called his "good right arm."

The Republican caravan today was headed by Frederick H. Bontecou, candidate for lieutenant governor. Bontecou, a Dutchess county state senator, ridiculed the theory that Lehman is invincible as a candidate for governor.

Alexander J. McKay and two associates pleaded not guilty yesterday when arraigned in federal court on charges of conspiracy and making false reports on PWA construction work.

McKay is former chairman of the Chicago board of election commissioners. Co-defendants are J. H. McCaughey of 2970 Sheridan road and J. B. Nystrom of 434 Diversey parkway. Both are former secretaries of the McKay Engineering and Construction company, which had contracts with the Sanitary district for sewer projects partly financed by the PWA. Judge Philip L. Sullivan set Oct. 31 for the hearing of motions in the case.

YARROW ACCUSES COONEY IN REPLY TO $100,000 SUIT

The Rev. Philip Yarrow, head of the Illinois Vigilance association, filed an answer yesterday in Circuit court to Dennis Cooney's $100,000 libel suit. The answer charges that Cooney, a night club operator, is a man of bad reputation.

It asserts that Cooney "headed the so-called syndicate in the loop that interfered with and controled the police, and that Cooney was the most powerful purveyor of vice and crime in Chicago . . . and that the police took orders from him." For 10 years, the answer says, Cooney was known in the press as a Capone vice monger. It was filed by the law firm of Ditchburne & Lounsbury.

CCC CORN LOAN BONUS BRANDED AS VOTE BUYING

Cancels 48c Loans for 30c Produce.

With the congressional elections only three weeks away the Roosevelt administration yesterday announced another bonus apparently intended to stem the rising tide of resentment over low prices in the corn belt.

A year ago the administration, through the Commodity Credit corporation, offered to lend money to farmers against corn of the 1937 crop to be placed under seal. Approximately 47 million bushels were thus pledged by farmers for loans averaging about 48½ cents per bushel.

Selling at 35c on Farms.

Yesterday corn for delivery in December sold at 44 cents per bushel on the futures market at the Chicago Board of Trade. Back on the farms in Iowa, however, corn was selling for as low as 28 cents per bushel and on Illinois farms for about 35 cents per bushel, according to traders in cash grain.

Into this situation yesterday stepped Ivan C. Harden, head of the Chicago office of the Commodity Credit corporation, with the announcement that the government is relieving the debtor farmers of their loan obligations by taking over from them without additional charge the corn pledged as security for loans.

It's a Bonus to Farmers.

The net effect of this step is that the government is paying the borrowing farmers an average of 48½ cents for corn which is worth only 28 cents on Iowa farms and 35 cents on Illinois farms.

Most of the loans were made to farmers in Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota, and Indiana. This means a bonus of roughly 28½ cents per bushel to farmer borrowers in Iowa and about 13½ cents to Illinois farmer borrowers.

The "generosity" of the Commodity Credit corporation's action in permitting farmer borrowers to get out of debt without contingent liability is only part of the handout that many of them have received from the government. Those who complied with the terms of the soil conservation act have received in addition about ten cents per bushel in subsidies.

Yesterday's donation to the cause of mollifying corn belt farmers indignant over the failure of the AAA to keep prices up, however, goes only to a small fraction of the nation's corn farmers. Of the more than two and a half billion bushels of corn raised on American farms last year only about 47 millions were put up for loans by the CCC.

Selling It Back for Feed.

Harden said yesterday that some of the corn had already been taken over by the government, but he was unable to give the exact amount. He said that some of it is being sold back to farmers at prices based on current market quotations with the provision that the corn is to be fed to live stock on the farm and not resold. Even though it may not be sold, however, the release of this amount of last year's corn crop from sealed cribs yesterday had a bearish effect on the market because it is competing with corn of the 1938 crop in live stock raising sections.

Despite the low current quotations on corn the government is lending money at an even higher rate this year. The new rate on number two yellow corn is 57 cents, seven cents above the 1937 rate on the same grade of corn. Borrowers are being permitted to renew their loans on 1937 corn at the new rate of 57 cents per bushel, but before getting such loans they must first pay off the old loans at the loan rates in effect last year.

Plan Sales for Relief.

In addition to selling to other farmers the 1937 corn that it is taking over from farm debtors the Commodity Credit corporation will dispose of some of it through sales to the federal Surplus Commodity corporation for relief distribution and storage at market warehouses or subterminal elevators for sale in the future. Harden said he expected that much of the sealed corn in Nebraska and western Iowa may eventually go to the Pacific coast.

LOW CORN PRICE IS MAKING IOWA DEMOCRATS SAD

Wallace Back to Father's Old Farm Policy.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Council Bluffs, Ia., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Reaction of farmers against the drop in corn prices to 28 cents, on the farm, has made Iowa one of the most critical hot spots for the Roosevelt agricultural policies in the coming election.

Secretary Henry A. Wallace galloped in today for a speech here aimed to stem the rural drift away from the New Deal enforced scarcity theories that were to have put prices in the balloon instead of on the toboggan.

Old Farm Bloc Idea.

Lester J. Dickinson, former United States senator and Republican opponent of Senator Guy M. Gillette, met Wallace and his new theories with an onslaught that sounded like jeering laughter. Dickinson, former leader of the farm bloc in congress, said that the secretary, having run around the circular track, now has arrived at the spot where his father, the late Henry Wallace, Republican secretary of agriculture, stood twenty years ago.

Dickinson, in a speech, said the Wallace idea of merchandising surpluses of corn and wheat is only another name for the surplus control policy advocated by the old farm bloc. This was warp and woof of the old McNary-Haugen bill, which twice passed congress in 1927 and 1928 and was both times vetoed by President Coolidge, reputedly on the advice of Herbert Hoover.

Both times Dickinson, then in the house, made the keynote speech of the farm bloc in support of attempts to have the McNary-Haugen bill passed over the veto without success. So Iowa, three weeks before election, is back fighting over the old corn belts fights of a decade and more ago, and the Democrats are evincing trepidation.

Deluged with Propaganda.

Democrats are deluging the rural regions with corn loan and AAA benefit payment propaganda. They are saying benefit payments were $114,816,254 in 1935 and preceding years; $27,631,217 in 1936; $18,208,669 in 1937, and about $30,000,000 in 1938.

As to corn loans, about 24 million bushels of the 1937 crop were sealed as security for government loans at 50 cents a bushel. The Democratic literature says about 15 million bushels of this will be eligible for reseaing at 57 cents, assuring the owner of at least this price despite the market drop. Corn sealed last year at 50 cents, is being bought back at the market price—31 to 35 cents—the owner can take it out and feed it or sell it for feeding purposes, but cannot put it on the market or send it to the grain terminals.

As to the 1938 crop, the Democratic handouts say about 100 million bushels of corn will be sealed in Iowa as security for loans of probably 61 cents. Through this program, they say, $61,000,000 will go into the pockets of Iowa farmers.

The stock comment one hears, is that this looks like a taste of high financing, to hoist the crop loan from 50 cents last year to 61 this year, while prices have fallen.

Republicans are figured to have their greatest chance to gain congressional seats, and the chief reason for this belief is the growing disaffection of the farmers with the Roosevelt-Wallace farm policies. There are nine congressional districts. The Republicans now have four seats, the Democrats five. They predict Republicans will carry six of secen districts.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES
This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

2 JUDGES CLASH ON CORRUPTION CHARGES AT CLUB

Green Denies Kelly-Nash Barbs by Casey.

Members of the City club left their weekly luncheon in the Hotel Sherman yesterday a little confused about alleged political corruption of the Municipal court but convinced that all is not harmony among the judges.

Two of the judges spoke at the luncheon. They are Judge Edward B. Casey, Republican, who in a scheduled speech renewed his attack on court politics, and Judge Thomas A. Green, Democrat, who appeared in the unscheduled rôle of "friend of the court."

Calls Racket Court Subterfuge.

Judge Casey charged that the racket division of the court was created so that Nash-Kelly forces could better control gambling. He said no bookmaker could have been convicted in that court even if he had pleaded guilty.

After Casey concluded his denunciations, Judge Green stood up and asserted that the charges were untrue.

"No judge can say that Mayor Kelly interfered with their cases," he said.

In the warm exchange of remarks between the judges the issue raised by Judge Casey became somewhat obscure.

Both Mixed Up on Dates.

Green challenged Casey's statement that Mayor Kelly forced the municipal judges to raise court costs in 1934. He said the increase in filing fees occurred during Mayor Cermak's administration.

"Did Mayor Cermak die before or after the beginning of the World's Fair?" Casey demanded of Judge Green.

"After," was the reply.

"The fair," said Casey, "began in 1933 and Mayor Cermak died in 1932."

[Mayor Cermak was shot by an assassin Feb. 15, 1933, and died March 6, 1933. The Fair opened May 27, 1933.]

"Is it not true," asked Green, in declaring that the court is steadily improving, "that the court is in the process of placing all employés other than judges under civil service, including your own clerk, Judge Casey?"

Charges Job Perpetuation.

"It is true," Casey replied, "that the court is freezing all the Nash-Kelly precinct captains into their jobs, and it is also true that I never would take one of those clerks."

Judge Casey declared that the racket court in 1937 failed because of political control to convict any one of the 10,000 persons arrested on charges of operating handbooks. Judge Green replied that the state's attorney could always obtain a jury trial and if the jury failed to convict it was only an indication of the gambling law's unpopularity.

Gov. Horner Leaves for Talk with Roosevelt

Gov. Henry Horner left Chicago yesterday for Hyde Park, N. Y., where he has an engagement to see President Roosevelt. He said his talk will deal with some phases of federal activity in Illinois, but declined to name the subjects. From Hyde Park he will go to Washington, D. C., to talk with several federal department heads. He expects to be back in Chicago Friday.

HALT HOP ACROSS U. S. IN 1918 PLANE; HELD TOO RISKY

Jack Knight's proposed transcontinental flight in a 1918 De Havilland biplane to show how aviation has progressed in twenty years was halted yesterday by United Air Lines. Knight was ordered to leave his old ship at Los Vegas, Nev., to which he flew from Los Angeles on Sunday, and return to Chicago by airliner.

"We felt that Jack's stunt had proved itself pretty well on Sunday," said Robert Johnson, United Air Lines official, yesterday. "For the 265 miles from Los Angeles to Las Vegas he averaged about fifty-two miles an hour.

"The worst part of the trip still was ahead—over the high mountains between Los Vegas and Salt Lake City, and thence east to Cheyenne. That old airplane he had was none too reliable, so we grounded it. Jack wanted to come on, insisted upon it, in fact, but we refused to allow it."

Knight, a veteran pilot, now is director of public education for United.

HORNER ORATORS FILL PROGRAM AT HARMONY FEAST

Only One Message from Nash-Kelly Faction.

Approximately 1,000 Chicago Democrats cheered every speaker yesterday at the luncheon in the Hotel La Salle planned as a demonstration of the restoration of harmony between Gov. Horner's downstate organization and the Cook county central committee controled by Chairman P. A. Nash and Mayor Kelly.

Neither Nash, who last week turned the direction of the local campaign over to Ald. J. M. Arvey, nor Mayor Kelly, who is in New Orleans to attend the national Eucharistic congress, was present. Mayor Kelly's assistant, John R. Nash, a son of Chairman Nash, read a message from the mayor. Except for this fact, and Ald. Arvey's officiating as chairman, the program consisted of speeches by men who were on the Horner side of the hotly fought primary battle last April.

Speakers Ask Unity.

Those speakers, in the order in which they were introduced, were Louie E. Lewis, nominee for state treasurer; County Judge Jarecki, Scott W. Lucas, nominee for United States senator; State's Attorney Courtney, and Gov. Horner.

The general tone of most of the speeches was that of party unity. There was one exception. State's Attorney Courtney told why he fought the county organization in 1936 and again last April and declared that principles are more important than party harmony.

It was Courtney's first appearance at any of the harmony events recorded since the primary. He did not attend Governor's day at the state fair in August nor the state convention in September. On both of those occasions Mayor Kelly was a principal speaker and spoke strongly in favor of party regularity.

The audience was enthusiastic from the opening to the close of the program. All of the many big Democratic pay rolls—national, state, county, and city—were well represented. Nearly all of the nominees for state and local offices were at the tables and in some instances Horner loyalists sat with some of the Nash-Kelly faithful.

Reads Mayor's Message.

Just before Ald. Arvey called on Congressman Lucas, he introduced Nash, who after a few remarks, read the message from Mayor Kelly. The message said:

"Let us make no mistake about our objective. We must uphold the hands and continue the good work of our President by electing local and state officials who will help to develop and complete his program and not to hinder it.

"Be assured that I shall be with you all in spirit, hoping that, united and impregnable, we shall clinch the entire state ticket for the Democratic party of Illinois on Nov. 8. All of us have a humanitarian duty, a definite objective to insure the continuation of Democratic leadership."

The first two speakers were brief. Speaker Lewis predicted victory in November. Judge Jarecki asked for support for the entire ticket and himself. Congressman Lucas read a speech similar in many ways to those he has made on the stump, but including one reference to the subject of the day—harmony.

"Oh, yes," he said, "we had our disagreements back in April. But when our family dispute was settled by the vote of the people, we forgot our differences and joined forces so that the ideals of democracy could be carried forward by the election of the entire ticket—county, state, and national."

State's Attorney Courtney's name was not included in the advance program for the luncheon announced by Ald. Arvey. He said there would be only three speakers — Mayor Kelly, Gov. Horner, and Congressman Lucas. Doubt was expressed that Courtney would have been present if Mayor Kelly had been among the speakers.

In his opening remarks, the prosecutor referred to the local organization leaders' action in the primary in a way that was considered an effort to rebuke them once more. He said he considered harmony with some individuals less important than harmony with party principles and spoke specifically of the Nash-Kelly attempt to prevent the renomination of Gov. Horner in 1936 and Judge Jarecki in 1938.

"I considered it a duty to disagree with those leaders," he said.

Praises Judge Jarecki.

His one allusion to his attitude toward the county ticket was this:

"I know the record of Judge Jarecki and I know the records of a number of other candidates on the county ticket and I consider it a duty and a privilege to aid in the election of those candidates."

Some of the audience thought Gov. Horner sought to erase the effect of the Courtney speech by declaring at three different points in his speech that he will support every candidate on the Democratic ticket. Each time the wording was different, but the meaning always was the same.

HOOVER CALLS FOR INDEPENDENT MEN IN CONGRESS

Asks Voters to 'Stop, Look and Listen.'

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 7.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover called on the American electorate in a speech tonight to elect independent minded men to congress in order to halt New Deal assaults on representative government.

With that plea, the former President coupled a suggestion that the voter experiment for the next two years with a "stop, look, and listen" policy.

The Republican chieftain warning that "subservience in legislative halls is the spot where liberty and political morals commit suicide," accused his Democratic successor, President Roosevelt, with attempting to control elections.

Reason for Independence.

"That alone," he asserted, "should make the election of independent minded men to congress the first task of men who would be free."

Hoover, who addressed a rally sponsored by the Connecticut Council of Republican Women as a follow-up to one he gave last month in Kansas City, Mo., charged the "New Deal and its yes-yes men in congress" had experimented "with the American way of life for six years at dreadful cost in human misery and despair."

The speaker listed the "malignant growth of personal power" among "evil products" which he charged had grown from the "New Deal corruption of liberalism."

Mentions Drive for More Power.

"Under a screen of fair sounding phrases," he said, "we have seen the President of the United States steadily driving for more and more power over the daily lives of the people. We have seen him attempt to control the Supreme court. We have seen his domination of congress.

"We have seen personal control of expenditures. We have seen the attempt through the power of government expenditure to pollute the ballot. We have seen the attempt to mix in a system of free enterprise a system of creeping collectivism. We have seen a vindictive campaign to array class against call and group against group.

"All this is the destruction of freedom and prosperity."

Asserting that the people alone "can make congress the sword and buckler of their liberties," Hoover said an "independent, courageous congress" would furnish "a start at the solution of our ills."

Makes Plea to Audience.

"Therefore my first recommendation to you tonight is: Elect to congress independent minded men," he urged. "Elect men who will stand on their own feet. Elect men of character and capacity."

"Second: Defeat every man of the kind who says he is a follower of any President 100 per cent or 50 per cent or any other per cent. Such a man is not fit to serve. Members of the congress of the United States, if they are men, do not take orders from anybody."

Hoover accused Mr. Roosevelt of massing a "praetorian army of political appointees to purge those men of his own party who have shown sparks of manhood, of independence, and obedience of their oath."

"Mr. Stalin was the founder of the political purge," he said. "Or was it Mr. Hitler?"

ARMY ENGINEERS PUSH INQUIRY INTO DAM SLIDE FATAL TO 8

Fort Peck, Mont., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Army engineers are speeding their investigation into the landslide of millions of tons of rock and earth at the Fort Peck dam last Sept. 22. Eight workmen were killed in the giant shift of earth.

Maj. Clark Kittrell, army engineer in charge of construction, said the workers are faced with the problem of completing their investigation and salvaging as much equipment and rock as possible before the severe Montana winter sets in.

STATE SOCIALISM FIASCO IN DAKOTA HURTS NEW DEAL

Collapse of Scheme Turns Spotlight on Washington.

BY LLOYD WENDT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Huron, S. D., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—South Dakota Republicans in the present political campaign are making effective use of the lessons learned from the failure of the state's bank deposit guarantee law.

This law was part of a general program to put the state government in business, which was started in 1917. The state's whole system of experiments in socialism finally collapsed with an estimated loss of $96,000,000. The bank guarantee system dropped $35,000,000 of this total.

Republican leaders are pointing out that the socialistic experiment in South Dakota is similar in many ways to the experiments of the New Deal in Washington. What may be expected from the national New Deal on the basis of the tremendous losses in South Dakota has become an issue in the campaign here.

Bank Deposits Taxed.

The bank guarantee law was passed in 1915. It provided for an annual assessment upon the assets of each state bank equal to ¼ of 1 per cent of the average daily deposits for the year. In theory, this levy was to provide a fund from which depositors in closed banks would be paid any losses incurred in bank failures.

It developed, however, that the state in a large way was merely taxing its own deposits to provide insurance for them. This was because the state, engaging in the farm loan, cement, and mining business, itself became big business. It was the heaviest depositor in the banks.

The bank guarantee law, together with easy rural credit farm loans, took all the strings off banking and credit in the state. New banks sprung up. At one time South Dakota had three and one-half times more banks in ratio to the population than the rest of the country.

Debts Jump Four-fold.

Public and private indebtedness quadrupled. Farmers with land bought more land. Everybody had a good time while it lasted.

Then the bubble burst. Banks closed and formerly prosperous farmers became penniless. The guaranty system losses first were fixed at $43,300,000, but some of this was repaid.

The depositors in banks still open then found they were being taxed twice on their deposit money. All assessments collected before the banks failed went toward paying the closed bank depositors.

New assessments on the banks still open also went to pay the old obligations, and there still was not enough. Consequently, depositors in banks which remained open were paying into a protective fund, but there was neither a fund nor protection for them. When the whole business was closed out, the final loss was placed at 35 millions.

Hail Insurance Is Better.

The state hail insurance department didn't lose so much. Latest reports put the figure at about $263,000.

Hail insurance was provided by law in 1919 to insure all crops against loss and damage by hail. Premiums were added to the tax lists and were to be paid along with other taxes on the land. All the land in the state under crop was insured unless individual owners cared to file specific objections.

The hail insurance plan failed to take into account that certain districts of the state were known to be subject to devastating hailstorms year after year. Private companies would not write insurance in these areas, but the state had no choice.

Farmers in areas free of hailstorms didn't like being burdened with the losses of others. Those who couldn't pay their tax bills naturally couldn't pay the insurance premiums.

The whole system failed, and when it was closed out in 1933, there was $567,322 in uncollected premiums. The bulk of these still are uncollected.

$25,000 Loss Matter of Pride.

The state bonding department lost only $25,000, which is a matter of pride to some people.

As a result of these disastrous social experiments, South Dakota is turning against the New Deal. The state will choose a conservative senator, opposed to wild New Deal spending, no matter whether J. Chandler Gurney, the Republican candidate, or former Gov. Tom Berry, the Democrat, is elected. Gurney's election is forecast.

Harlan J. Bushfield, Republican candidate for governor, also is believed to have an advantage over his Democratic opponent, Oscar Fosheim.

Sues Ruth Etting

Alma Alderman and her year old daughter Norma Suzanne.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Ruth Etting, the singer, was sued for $150,000 today by Alma Alderman, divorced wife of Myrl Alderman, who was shot Saturday night in Miss Etting's home. Alderman was shot by Moe Snyder of Chicago, divorced husband of Miss Etting, who is accused in today's suit of alienating Alderman's affections.

After the shooting of Alderman, Miss Etting explained that she and her former pianist had been married secretly last July in Tia Juana, Mexico. A record of the ceremony could not be found today.

Snyder was in jail tonight, unable to post $10,000 bond. His preliminary hearing was set for Oct. 31. He and Miss Etting were wed in 1922 when she was singing in Chicago. She obtained an uncontested divorce from him last Nov. 30. Snyder formerly was her manager. The Aldermans were divorced last Dec. 2.

WITNESS INSISTS CURLEY SOUGHT BRIBE OF $40,000

Repeats Conversation on Suit Against City.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 17.—(AP)—A year ago Frederick H. Graves, a star witness for the city, testified in a civil suit that James M. Curley, as mayor of Boston five years ago, discussed with him settlement of a damage suit against the city and had inquired, "How much is there in it for me?"

The testimony he gave at that time later caused him to be indicted for perjury.

Today, at the opening of the criminal trial against him, he insisted that the mayor had discussed the damage suit settlement with him.

Denies Nearly All Statements.

Before Graves went to the stand today two police officials testified that he had retracted that story after his arrest on the perjury charge, and Curley, now the Democratic nominee for governor, entered a flat denial of ever having sought or received any money from the settlement.

Graves, repeating testimony he gave last year in the civil suit against Curley and Dr. Joseph Santosuosso, denied nearly every one of the post-arrest statements the officers attributed to him.

The civil suit ended with a court judgment ordering Curley and Santosuosso to pay to the city a total of $50,000, plus interest, which they allegedly improperly received from the $85,000 out of court settlement of a damage claim. Both appealed.

Graves swore that, as adjuster for a New York insurance company pressing a water damage claim against the city, he had met Curley in the lobby of a Washington hotel in November, 1933, and had asked him "if we couldn't settle" the case.

Tells of $40,000 Offer.

"How much is there in it for me?" Graves quoted Curley as inquiring. "Forty thousand dollars," the former insurance adjuster said he replied.

"Go back and see Santosuosso and tell him to put it through," Graves testified Curley then told him.

Curley earlier today told the court that he had opposed out of court settlement of the case and that it had been made against his wishes by Samuel Silverman, then city corporation counsel.

2 WHITES SLAIN; GEORGIANS BURN A NEGRO SCHOOL

Smyrna, Ga., Oct. 17.—(AP)—A white mob tonight burned a Negro schoolhouse near here. Several Negroes were beaten and stoned. Chief of Police C. T. White said the demonstration followed a reported confession of Drew Russell, 31 years old, colored, that he had killed a white farmer and his daughter with an ax handle. The slain man was George W. Camp, 66, and his daughter, Mrs. Christine Camp Pauls, 26. The bodies were found at their home early today after Mrs. Paul's son, Cecil, 9, reached a neighbor's house after thirty hours of unconsciousness from injuries said to have been inflicted by Russell.

DELAY INQUEST INTO DEATH OF MRS. L. A. CUNEO

An inquest into the death of Mrs. Evelyn C. Cuneo, former follies girl and wife of Lawrence A. Cuneo, 3800 Lake Shore drive, was continued yesterday to Oct. 25 to allow police additional time for investigation.

Mrs. Cuneo, who was 43 years old, died Sunday of injuries suffered Friday when she plunged from a third floor window of the North Chicago Community hospital, 2551 North Clark street. She had been brought there, suffering from shock, earlier in the day after being rescued from the lake off Waveland avenue.

Funeral services were held from the Church of the Assumption yesterday with burial in Calvary cemetery.

Child Passes 3d Birthday as Sleeping Sickness Victim

Yesterday was the third birthday anniversary of Mary Ellen Reardon. She did not know it. The child has been ill of sleeping sickness at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Reardon of 5152 76th avenue, Elmwood Park, since March 25. Only slight hopes are held for her recovery. Reports that she might be helped by a blood transfusion were denied by the family physician.

Two Killed in Auto Crash; Three Critically Injured

Michigan City, Ind., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Two persons were killed and three criticaly injured in a collision of two automobiles here today. The dead were Mrs. Rose Bannwart, 72 years old, Wanatah, Ind., and Gustave Witte, 62, of Michigan City.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Fern Patricia Dull was held in the county jail tonight on a charge of murdering her sweetheart, William Holbrook, a former assistant prosecuting attorney of Berrien county. But her friends say she may escape punishment by a plea of emotional insanity.

Mrs. Dull, a divorcée and former model, shot and killed Holbrook in front of the Benton Harbor police station early this morning. She fired two shots into his head, ran away, walked back, and fired two more into his body. Then she surrendered to police, saying, "I don't remember what happened." That, it was said tonight, was a substantial start toward a possible temporary insanity defense.

Pose Six Years as Wedded Couple.

The slaying of Holbrook ended a dual life of six years in which he and Mrs. Dull posed as husband and wife. She also had been his secretary during that time. He had a wife and four children living in Kalamazoo. They were aware of the deception. To them Mrs. Dull was not the other woman, but "the blonde."

Following Mrs. Dull's arraignment today in Municipal court she told her story of an unhappy life with Holbrook. She said he was mean to her and that he beat her. She loved him, she said.

"A woman does funny things when she loves a man," Mrs. Dull said. "Why, I left him a dozen times, but always returned."

She pointed to a bruised left eye which she said was caused by one of Holbrook's punches. Then she told about the shooting.

Final Quarrel Starts.

Holbrook told her Saturday he planned to go out of town, she said. He didn't, staying at a hotel. She met him in front of the hotel late Sunday night.

"I pleaded with him to come home," said Mrs. Dull, "but he said he wouldn't go any place with me. He said he'd notify police and he went to the station. I went, too. He asked the desk sergeant to lock me up, but he wouldn't sign a complaint against me, so the sergeant refused.

"Bill left a minute later and I followed after a minute or two. He was in the middle of the street. I ran up to him. He suddenly hit me a blow on the head over my black eye. I don't remember what happened after that; he must have knocked me out."

Mrs. Dull was held without bail. She will get a preliminary hearing Oct. 27.

Mrs. Dull showed little surface remorse over the death of Holbrook, who was 42 years old. She did, however, express concern over her chow dog, Persian cat, and three kittens at home in the little bungalow she and Holbrook had bought. Once she cried when the kittens were mentioned. She has two children by a former marriage, Lester, 17, and Gloria, 15. Mrs. Dull is 34.

Under his glass Peter Ballantine found a trade mark now famous TESTING ALE in 1840 was a simple process. Peter Ballantine would have scorned a laboratory. He knew ale from the ground up, and he trusted his taste beyond any man's.

When his ale had ripened, he called for a tumbler. One healthy drink, and he set the glass down, to roll the ale on his tongue.

"It ha' the PUR-R-RITY," he said, his Scotch burr mingling with the brew in his speech.

Another gulp, and more tongue rolling. "It ha' the BODY," was his verdict, and no doubt about it.

The third drink drained the tumbler. Much pursing of the lips and squinting of the eyes.

"Ah, and it ha' the FLAVOR-R-R!" he pronounced with the final authority of a court.

When the empty glass was lifted to carry away, Peter Ballantine's eye chanced on the pattern of rings from its bottom, dewy on the oak board.

"Thr-r-ree tests—thr-r-ree rings—" he mused, "the mar-r-r-k of a good ale, standing for PUR-R-RITY, BODY, FLAVOR-R-R. See the board, lads—I ha' my trademark!"

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

THREE'S A CROWD

By CALEB

"I PLAN to be an engineer," said the young college man, "but I'm afraid the field is pretty crowded." Perhaps he is right — we do not know the field well enough to say with authority what his chances are by per cent and probability. But one thing is certain; so long as the famous twins, Friction and Combustion, stay in the field of engineering, there will always be room for new skill and brains.

A famous automotive engineer sat in the observation car of a train, and as another passed in the opposite direction he remarked, "That smoke bothers me." His companion said, "Yes, it is a nuisance — gets in your lungs, doesn't it?"

"That isn't the chief thing about it that bothers me," said the engineer. "To me that smoke spells waste—it means that more heat value goes up the chimney than is applied to useful ends. Incomplete combustion and friction—so long as those two are on deck we can never rest on our oars. And even if we eliminate smoke almost entirely, we still haven't necessarily reached perfect combustion."

Turbines, better boilers, higher steam pressures, internal combustion engines, new bearing types and surfaces, better balance—all these have contributed to the drive toward better combustion and reduced friction. Airplane motors have cut the ratio of weight to horsepower, auto engines have reduced fuel consumption, added flexibility—but the end is not yet. Indeed, as new strides are made in the sciences of chemistry, metallurgy and all engineering, tremendous and undreamed of possibilities open up a vast new field of achievement.

Of course, the field of engineering is crowded — crowded with problems to be solved, with opportunities to be grasped and won. If our friend fails to understand their significance, or if he doubts his ability to cope with problems there—perhaps he had better not tackle the field at all.

The belief that technological development limits advance and opportunities grows out of just this failure to grasp the significance of it. The beauty of mechanical or technical development is that each development instead of narrowing the field opens it infinitely wider. Far as we have come in the few generations since steam power, we still have scribbled upon only the first few pages of a gigantic book whose future possibilities are so vast and limitless that they take the breath away.

HUNGARIANS FIRE ON CZECH TROOPS ALONG BORDER

Hurl Hand Grenades Into Ranks of Foes.

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Districts along most of the length of Czechoslovakia's frontier with Hungary were under martial law tonight. Military rule was established as this republic took firm action against alleged Hungarian terrorism, pending resumption of territorial negotiations.

Thousands of persons, including Hungarian army officers and soldiers, according to Czechoslovak accounts, were arrested on charges of violence and sabotage. Numerous demonstrations among Hungarian residents were dispersed, and a general staf bulletin reported open fighting near Kraluv and Chlumec.

Czechs Hold Their Fire.

The bulletin said Hungarian soldiers opened fire there on Czechoslovak troops on patrol and threw grenades across the border. It said Czechoslovaks obeyed orders not to reply to attacks.

Officials said martial law was imposed especially in a determination to prevent a chaotic situation which might offer Hungary a reason for military occupation of the Hungarian populated regions she has demanded.

The general staf bulletin reported the arrest of 297 alleged Hungarian terrorists at Slanky. It asserted the number included 26 officers, 62 noncommissioned officers, and 205 soldiers of the regular Hungarian army.

Questioning of the men, it said, disclosed that plans for raids were made at Kisvarda, Hungary, under direction of Lieut. Col. Hejas Istvan of the Hungarian army.

Prague Warns Hungary.

An official statement warned: "If by similar acts Hungary wishes to reach realization of her extravagant plans she must take on her conscience the lives thus sacrificed. The Czechoslovak army will take all necessary measures to prevent similar actions."

In Ruthenia [sub-Carpathian Russia] the total of alleged Hungarian terrorists captured was placed at 2,000.

The bulletin also related a new series of instances in which it said it had been confirmed that German troops stepped over the boundary of the territory in the Sudetenland they have occupied.

Official circles still were without official information on when territorial negotiations with Hungary, which the latter broke off at Komarom last Thursday, would be renewed. But they declared the prospects of Prague and Budapest working out their problems by collaboration were considerably brighter.

Direct negotiations between the Slovaks and Hungarians were planned to begin as soon as possible. Informed sources said the exact course remained to be decided, but the possibility of a conference between the foreign ministers of Czechoslovakia and Hungary was "not excluded."

Sources close to the government saw grounds for new optimism for the republic's future through coöperation with Germany and repeated assurances that Rumania would support her.

Rumania was said to have insisted on the independence of Ruthenia in event either Poland or Hungary sought to slice off the eastern tip of Czechoslovakia.

Wants U. S. to Aid Jews.

Czechoslovakia meanwhile was trying to solve the problem of an estimated 30,000 to 40,000 Jewish refugees who fled from the Sudetenland before the German occupation. Official sources emphasized that reduced Bohemia was unable to accept all of them as permanent residents.

They expressed a hope that assistance might be coming from Great Britain and the United States either for financing refugee rehabilitations or through acceptance of immigrants.

Germany Backs Up Hungary.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Germany has promised support to Hungary in her demands for cession of Czechoslovak territory provided she grants increased national and cultural rights to some 600,000 German settlers in Hungary. This was learned in foreign diplomatic quarters tonight.

Germany's proposal was said to include support for Hungary's claims for the immediate return of all Czechoslovak districts in which more than 51 per cent of the population is Magyar.

At the same time Premier Bela Imredi called upon the nation to maintain "great discipline" as border reports told of mounting restlessness among troops demanding action in the Hungarian-Czechoslovak minority dispute.

"The Hungarian government is doing all possible to speed up a solution," the premier said.

Be Calm, Premier Pleads.

He told Hungarians to keep calm "to enable the foreign policy of the country to achieve its ends."

Imredi insisted upon an immediate assertion of the right of self-determination among Hungarians in Czechoslovakia and spoke bitterly against Czechoslovak tactics, which he said were calculated to postpone the issue.

The country, despite hopes that Czechoslovakia would come forward quickly with new proposals more in line with Hungary's demands, witnessed continued large scale military activity.

Two classes were called to the colors and long auto caravans moved to the border with men and equipment. Difficulty was reported in restraining the troops already at the front where Hungarian and Czechoslovak soldiers have been facing each other at close quarters for days. There were reports from across the border of alleged oppression of Hungarians.

U. S. Gift of Grapefruit Has a Tough Reception

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—(AP)—A Brooklyn woman has written to the Surplus Commodities corporation asking what is wrong with the agency's grapefruit. "I boiled one for three hours and it is still tough," she said.

Kemal Ataturk, President of Turkey, Is Seriously Ill

Kemal Ataturk.

ANKARA, Turkey, Oct. 17.—(AP)—President Kemal Ataturk, who has made east meet west in Turkey during his fifteen years as head of the state, lay critically ill tonight. His condition was slightly improved, but the nervous symptoms were persistent.

A sudden serious recurrence of an old liver complaint was described in two communiques today which said his condition was "grave." Three attending and five consulting physicians were with him.

The formal announcements emphasized the seriousness of the illness because the president's previous indispositions always have been minimized.

Country Concerned.

There was consternation in the country. It had been believed generally that President Ataturk's health had been improving since a relapse at the end of July. He is 58 years old. The nation's prime minister and most of the cabinet members have returned to Istanbul.

President Ataturk has not once left Dolmabagtche palace since then. Although under medical treatment there, he has granted many private audiences and attended personally to much state business. One communique said:

"The condition of the president, who has long been suffering from a liver complaint, suddenly grew worse on Sunday, and although a slight improvement occurred over night his illness is still maintaining a grave character."

To Celebrate Anniversary.

Turks had hoped to see their president Oct. 29 leading official functions in Ankara on the fifteenth anniversary of the proclamation of Turkey as a republic and Ataturk's election as president.

President Ataturk has partially westernized Turkey, separating the church from the state, outlawing the fez and the veil, abolishing the sultanate, and ending polygamy.

HUNDREDS SLAIN IN POLISH RIOTS; TROOPS CALLED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, Oct. 17.—Hundreds of persons have been killed and wounded in riots in Polish Galicia the last two days, reports received from Warsaw said tonight. Ukrainians opened the terrorist campaign against Polish institutions and Polish troops have been called out to restore order.

Because of strict censorship, Warsaw newspapers had been unable to publish dispatches from their correspondents in Lwow. Tonight they got messages stating that Poland faces the most serious uprising in recent history and that many Polish officials and police have been slain.

The Ukrainians are infuriated over the efforts of the Poles and Hungarians to separate Ruthenia [sub-Carpathian Russia] from Czechoslovakia. Their leaders are demanding the right of self-determination and are agitating for creation of a Ukrainian state.

BULGARIA SHUTS SOFIA PAPER FOR CRITICIZING RULE

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Sofia's only evening newspaper, Nova Campana, was suspended by the government today for failure to comply with warnings to change its policy and editorial personnel.

Recently both the publisher and the leading writer of the paper were detained and questioned. The Nova Campana was the mouthpiece of the left agrarian party, while the two arrested newspapermen were said to be followers of the revolutionary leader, Damyan Velcheff.

It was admitted officially that the investigation into the assassination last Monday of Maj. Gen. Yordan Peyeff, chief of the Bulgarian army general staf, had made no progress.

DE VALERA READY TO AID BRITAIN IF GIVEN ULSTER

Fixes New Price for Irish Help in Wartime.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Prime Minister Eamon de Valera of Ireland today announced a united Ireland as the price of Irish coöperation with Great Britain in case of war. A plebiscite in Ulster is not enough.

Ireland, or Ulster. Dark area shows Northern

Denying reports that he wanted a plebiscite in Northern Ireland, he said that instead he wanted an All-Ireland parliament in Dublin with proportional representation for the six counties of Ulster. Local matters would be left for the Northern Ireland parliament as a safeguard against any oppression by Dublin.

Even on that basis De Valera did not offer a flat promise of wartime aid, but without a united Ireland, he said, chances of coöperation were "very, very slight."

Demands Transfer of Power.

Under the plan, which he intends to present to London in the near future, he demands that powers over Northern Ireland now held by the British government be transferred to Dublin.

De Valera's plan first was revealed in an interview in the Evening Standard. This is his pet way of springing new plans on the world. It later was confirmed by other Irish sources.

A fight against the plan already has begun. The Standard published an editorial, entitled "No to De Valera," simultaneously with the interview. The basis of the opposition is first, that the British cannot afford to hand over northern Irish fortified posts and harbors as has been done in the south. The second is that the majority of Ulstermen do not want union with south Ireland and that De Valera is "not swimming with the tide of self-determination, but battling against it."

Wants All-Ireland Parliament.

De Valera claims that if the counties of Antrim and Down are excluded and a plebiscite is held in the other four as a single area he is sure of a majority against partition. But a plebiscite, he said, would not solve the problems because it would leave minority "islands" of opposition.

His dream is a "single All-Ireland parliament elected on a system of proportional representation so as to be fair to all minorities."

As a dominion, Ireland, like the Union of South Africa, claims the right to remain neutral in war, though it promises not to coöperate with the enemy.

"It is possible to visualize a critical situation arising in the future," De Valera said, "in which a united and free Ireland would be willing to coöperate with Great Britain to resist a common attack."

De Valera Wants Showdown.

That is not much for the British to go on, but it has become clear that De Valera intends to demand a showdown on the question of partition.

Ever since the Munich accord which carved up Czechoslovakia the belief here has been that he would demand a plebiscite for the six counties in the north. In today's statement—the first he has made on British-Irish relations since last spring's treaty settled most of the difficulties—he swept away that idea and took the view it did not go far enough.

He declared he intended to devote "what life is left to me" to ending the partition. "Then," he said, "I feel that our generation will have done its work."

The Northern Ireland government is certain to put up a vigorous fight against union, but De Valera insists that if once they get together differences soon would disappear.

U. of C. Campus Paper Tests Its Power, and Wins

University of Chicago students were hurrahing last night for the power of the press as exemplified by the Daily Maroon, student publication. The Maroon complained several days ago that no university restaurants were open at night for students studying late or returning from social engagements. University officials heeded the complaint. As a result the coffee shop at 57th street and University avenue was open last night from 9:30 to 11:30, and will be open during those hours hereafter every night but Saturday and Sunday nights.

Constipated? Then Ask Yourself This Question!

If constipation has you bogged down so you feel tired, sunk, all played out—it's time you asked yourself a question!

What have you had to eat lately? Just meat, bread, eggs, potatoes? It's no surprise you're constipated! The chances are you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If this is what you lack, your ticket is crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast. It contains both "bulk" and the great intestinal tonic, vitamin B_1. And it's not a drug, not a medicine!

Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and take a new lease on life! All-Bran is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

Found in Daze

Dr. H. J. Rothenberg, at the County hospital with Mrs. Madeline Bowles, found in dazed condition in Jackson park.

A young woman, first believed by police to be an amnesia victim, was found wandering in Jackson park early yesterday by Woodlawn police. They were informed by a passerby that she had been heard screaming. Later in the County hospital she identified herself as Mrs. Madeline Bowles, 24 years old, 6053 South Mason avenue, estranged wife of Robert Bowles. She had gone for a walk in the park, she said, when two men leaped from behind bushes, snatched her purse, and attempted to take liberties with her.

NAZIS TO PROHIBIT EMPLOYMENT OF JEWS BY ARYANS

Few Jewish Shops to Stay in Existence.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—A further step toward driving Jews in Germany into ghettos is expected soon in the shape of a decree prohibiting the employment of Jews by Aryans. This decree, it is forecast, will be put in force on Jan. 1, 1939.

As in the case of Jewish doctors and lawyers, a small number of Jewish retail shops will be allowed to exist to supply the needs of Jewish customers. All others must close down or pass into Aryan ownership.

Barred in Textile Industry.

It was at first proposed to allow a certain percentage of Jews to continue operations in the textile and knitted goods industry in view of the business it enjoys in foreign lands and in view of relations of Jewish factory owners with racial friends abroad. Now, however, all factories must become "Aryanized."

The question of support for the Jews who will be thrown out of employment is causing anxiety in Jewish circles. The Jews were told they must depend on Jewish welfare organizations.

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Only 175 Jewish attorneys will be permitted to practice in Germany after Dec. 1, according to special decrees published today. Those 175, who will be permitted to practice "until further notice," may serve Jewish clients only. They were selected from 1,600 Jews still practicing law in Germany.

A general decree against Jewish lawyers last Saturday specified in principle that Jews, "barring certain exceptions," must disappear from Germany's legal profession, just as Jewish doctors have had their licenses to practice revoked.

In Berlin only forty Jews will be permitted to practice law. At present 700 are practicing here, and before Nazidom came to power in 1933 there were 1,600. The 175 remaining Jewish attorneys in Germany may not call themselves lawyers but "consulenten"—consultants on legal matters.

Patent attorneys, of whom Berlin still has forty-one who are Jewish, were not included in the decree. A separate regulation, it was said, will be announced shortly for them.

BRITISH ARMY IN HOLY LAND POISED FOR MOP UP DRIVE

Prepared to Quell 10,000 Arab Insurgents.

JERUSALEM, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Roaming snipers and bomb throwers terrorized Moslem sections in the old city of Jerusalem tonight amidst British army preparations for a finish fight against an estimated 10,000 Arab insurgents in the Holy Land.

Army commanders had at their command 20,000 British troops and police, rushed in by Britain to crush the virtual civil war arising from her mandate in the Holy Land and the Arab-Jewish rivalry for the Holy Land each claims as a homeland.

Snipers blazed away from blind alleys, cellars, and housetops in the Moslem areas of the old city, adding to the Holy Land's casualties which in the last twelve weeks have totaled more than 1,850, including more than 800 dead.

Band Burns Police Station.

Practically all pedestrians and automobiles venturing on the streets were fired on indiscriminately. One insurgent band entered the police station of the old city and burned it. Snipers covered its activities by taking pot shots at police patrols from the ancient city wall. More shooting was directed at the Jewish quarter, where police protected hundreds of Jews who could not leave their homes. Police took to roofs of many churches, convents, and hospices to gain strategical advantage over the snipers and bomb throwers in the narrow passages below.

Armed bands piled up mounting damage against government buildings in sections of Palestine where troops and police were withdrawn to await reënforcements for the army's new offensive.

The customs house at Acre was burned and a government farm there was under heavy insurgent fire.

Fear Wide Rebellion.

Two Jews were killed and six were wounded by bands which fired from both sides of the Jordan river, where the Jews were boating.

Because of the dangerous situation in Jerusalem, the authorities proclaimed a curfew for six hours, beginning at 11 p. m.

The new army campaign, which touched off tonight's wave of sniping and bombings, was ordered after some quarters expressed fear the Arab rebellion constituted a threat to the peace of the whole near east.

Tonight measures were being taken by the military for the occupation of all important railway stations, police posts, and government buildings.

With these buildings as bases for operations, the army—aided by royal air force planes—will extend its activities into Arab retreats in hills, valleys, and villages.

Engaged in conferences to perfect plans for a more intensive army campaign were Sir Harold MacMichael, high commissioner for Palestine, who returned yesterday from London; Maj. Gen. Robert Haining, general officer commanding the British forces in Palestine and Transjordan, and Sir Charles Tegart, police organizer.

CATHOLICS MEET FOR EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS TODAY

Cardinal Mundelein Is Papal Legate.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Cardinal George Mundelein, archbishop of Chicago, received a tumultous welcome when he arrived here to be legate of Pope Pius XI. at the eighth National Eucharistic congress that will be opened tomorrow.

When the papal legate arrived at noon the rain that had been pouring down stopped and a wan sun broke through the clouds. Another brief rain squall cut short the welcoming ceremonies. Then the skies cleared for the most colorful feature of the day's program—the parade through streets lined with cheering throngs.

Mayor Kelly in Party.

Escorted by 3,000 persons, including 100 members of the American hierarchy, Cardinal Mundelein proceeded to old St. Louis cathedral, built in 1794, for the liturgical reception which marked his assumption of the rôle of papal legate.

Cardinal Mundelein, accompanied by his suite and by Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago, traveled here on a special train. In the suite were two prelates from the Vatican who had come to this country to attend him at the Congress, the Right Rev. Mons. Alberto Arborio-Mella Di Sant-Elia, Maestro Di Camera to the Pope, and the Right Rev. Mons. Ermano Bonazzi, papal ceremonialist.

Cardinal Mundelein was greeted by Postmaster General James A. Farley and Gov. Richard W. Leche, five Knights of St. Gregory in green uniforms and cocked hats, and members of the governor's staf.

Thousands of school children had been waiting on the sidewalks along the route followed by the procession and when the parade passed they waved American flags and banners of gold and white, the papal colors, while thousands of adults cheered or prayed. The city had been decorated magnificently for the occasion.

Message from President.

Tonight the cardinal was the guest at a civic reception which drew 10,000 persons to hear Farley, speaking as the representative of President Roosevelt. Farley read a message to the congress from President Roosevelt, which follows:

"My dear Archbishop Rummel: [Of New Orleans.]

"I send hearty greetings to you and through you to all who gather within the hospitable borders of the archdiocese of New Orleans on the occasion of the eighth National Eucharistic congress. I trust that the deliberations will quicken the spiritual life of all who participate and inspire them with new zeal for the work of the master whom we all serve.

"We have just celebrated an anniversary of the adoption of our federal constitution, which guarantees freedom of conscience as the corner stone of all our liberties. We in this country are upholders of the ideal of democracy in the government of man. We believe with heart and soul that in the long struggle of the human race to attain an orderly society the democratic form of government is the highest achievement. All of our hopes have their basis in the democratic ideal.

"Even before the adoption of our Declaration of Independence George Mason, in the Virginia declaration of rights, voiced what has become one of the deepest convictions of the American people: 'That religion, or the duty which we owe to our creator, and the manner of discharging it, can be directed only by reason and conviction, not by force or violence, and therefore all men are equally entitled to the free exercise of religion, according to the dictates of conscience; and that it is the mutual duty of all to practice Christian forbearance, love, and charity towards each other.'

"We still remain true to the faith of our fathers who established religious liberty when the nation began. We must remember, too, that our forebears in every generation and wherever they established their homes, made prompt and generous provision for the institutions of religion. We must continue their steadfast reliance upon the providence of God.

"I have said and I repeat to this solemn Eucharistic congress that no greater blessing could come to our land today than a revival of the spirit of religion. I doubt if there is any problem in the world today—social, political, or economic—that would not find happy solution if approached in the spirit of the sermon on the mount.

"May our prayers hasten the day when both men and nations will bring their lives into conformity with the teaching of Him, who is the Way, the Light, and the Truth."

BRITAIN TURNS DOWN CZECH PLEA FOR FULL LOAN OF $150,000,000

LONDON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The Czechoslovak financial mission left for Prague tonight. It apparently failed to obtain the full $150,000,000 loan requested of Britain and France for reconstruction of the dismembered republic. The Bank of England, with a British treasury guarantee, loaned $50,000,000. Informed sources said France told the financial mission that French needs precluded assistance at present. British officials were reported unwilling to advance the full amount asked alone.

2 U. S. MISSIONS IN CHINA HEAVILY BOMBED BY JAPS

HANKOW, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The United States consulate received reports today that two American missions on the Peking-Hankow railway had been damaged by Japanese bombs.

The Rev. George Holm informed the consulate that the Lutheran United mission at Kiaoshan, 200 miles north of Hankow, was damaged badly by low flying Japanese planes in two attacks on Oct. 13. The Rev. J. L. Benson reported the Augustana synod mission at Hsuchang, twenty-five miles farther north, was bombed heavily on Oct. 14 and many Chinese occupants killed.

These two missions were among the 150 in the Hankow consular district which had voluntarily complied with a Japanese request that foreigners in the interior furnish maps indicating the location of foreign property. The roofs of both the missions bore large American flags. Both missions have headquarters in Minneapolis.

DANCE MUSIC ON AIR SUNDAY STIRS BRITISH

LONDON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The first cautious venture by the staid British broadcasting corporation into Sunday broadcasting of dance music brought a quick decision by the Lord's Day Observance society today to "protest with every nerve and fibre of our religious conviction."

H. H. Martin, secretary of the society, called the twenty minutes of modified jaz at church time yesterday morning an "indefensible and deplorable desecration of the Sabbath."

The B. B. C., a government monopoly, put Charlie Kunz and his band on the air at 11:45 a. m. without calling it a dance program. The orchestra avoided crooning and extreme jaz.

MEXICO PUTS DOWN REVOLT OF INDIANS STIRRED BY LABORITES

NOGALES, Sonora, Mexico, Oct. 17.—(AP)—A dispatch to the Nogales Herald from Ciudad Obregon said today military forces, under Gen. Manuel Avila Camacho, Mexico's secretary of national defense, had restored order after an uprising by several hundred Yaqui and Mayo Indians.

The Indians are members of the CTM, labor union opposed to the political policies of Gov. Roman Yocupicio of Sonora. The rift was said to be purely a controversy between the CTM, powerful national labor organization, and the CTS, Sonora labor union, backed by the governor. The two labor organizations are sponsoring rival candidates for state offices.

Gov. Yocupicio blamed Gen. Jose Tafolla, commander of the fourth military zone, for inciting trouble last week and spurring the armed Agrarians to action. Gen. Tafolla was recalled to Mexico City by President Lazaro Cardenas. Jacinto Lopez, leader of the CTM in southern Sonora, and several other union officials were reported arrested.

LITHUANIA VOTES GAG LAW; HITS MEMEL DISTRICT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

KAUNAS, Lithuania, Oct. 17.—Lithuania's new national security law, granting the minister of interior as well as the governor of Memel extraordinary powers for control of the press, public organizations, meetings, and the wearing of uniforms and badges, was adopted following a stormy special session of parliament last night.

Deputy Packalnischkees, representing the Memel district, was assaulted by Lithuanian deputies during a repeated protest against the law. He left the meeting before passage of the bill. Other Memel deputies abstained from voting.

Memel citizens protested energetically against the bill, demanding that the government keep its promise to cancel state martial law which has existed in Memel territory since the district was annexed by the Lithuanians in 1923.

THREE BALKAN STATES TO GIVE GERMANY RAW MATERIALS, NAZI SAYS

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Walther Funk, Germany's economic minister, today predicted Germany would find through Jugo-Slavia, Bulgaria, and Turkey the raw materials she needs.

Returning from a good will tour, Funk said that the three "constitute a sort of Balkan axis extending from the German frontier to the Black sea."

They would arrange production in accordance with German needs, Funk predicted. He said Germany was prepared in return to build factories, electric works and war harbors in southeastern Europe and supply manufactured goods in any quantity desired.

BRITISH UPSURGE IN ARMAMENTS SHOCKS GERMANY

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Britain's upsurge in armament following Prime Minister Chamberlain's "peace of Munich" is regarded with "astonishment" in Germany. Nazis are asking "why?"

The Frankfurter Zeitung today hinted that the German government was awaiting an official communication from Britain "explaining the logic of this decision."

"What is going on in England is regarded in Germany with astonishment," the editorial said. "We would be the best of friends but the English do not want it."

The newspaper said that if "England wants to have a great superiority over Germany, then England is closing her eyes to realities."

THIS MAY UPSET ALL YOUR IDEAS ABOUT ANTI-FREEZE
This anti-freeze story is contrary to established beliefs. Tests made over a period of seven years in 300 cars prove that "Zerone"* makes a perfect mixture with water and that you lose little or none by evaporation or separation. Radiator losses are due mainly to mechanical causes—leaks, sudden stops, etc. Where there is boiling, the losses are of the whole solution—"Zerone" and water—and such losses are in about the same proportions as the original protection.
So, first, use "Zerone" as directed on can or protection chart. Second, never assume that it's water only, or "Zerone" only, that is lost if your cooling solution is low. Check strength of the solution, and replace the indicated combination of "Zerone" and water. Otherwise, you may have too much protection or too little, affecting performance and safety.
The materials from which "Zerone" is made are so effective you need less for protection. Replacements, if any, cost you little. So you are wiser to use "Zerone." Remember, it's only $1.00 a gallon. Du Pont, "Zerone" Division, Wilmington, Delaware.

CANTONESE HALT RETREAT; 100,000 BATTLE JAPANESE

Check Invaders 45 Miles East of Canton.

HONGKONG, Oct. 17.—(AP)—One hundred thousand well equipped Chinese troops entrenched in strong positions forty-five miles east of Canton were reported to have stopped the Japanese South China expedition tonight in bitter fighting.

The battle still raged near Wongtong, the Japanese meeting the first serious resistance of their five day overland drive from Bias bay, where they landed more than 40,000 troops last Wednesday.

The engagement appeared to be the first major battle to determine the fate of Canton, vital to Chinese defense as a source of supplies to armies 600 miles to the north. The Chinese defenders at Wongtong were said to be well entrenched and equipped with field guns and howitzers, with anti-aircraft defenses being formed rapidly.

Railway Cut at "Several Points."

The resistance apparently checked the invaders after a forty-five mile inland drive which already had resulted in cutting the Canton-Kowloon [Hongkong] railway. A Japanese army report said this was done at "several points," not named but believed to be between Pingwu, fifteen miles north of the Hongkong frontier, and Cheungmuktau, twenty-five miles farther north.

The road from Canton to Tsengshing, fifty miles east and slightly north of Canton, was reported completely blocked by Chinese reënforcements moving up. Japanese planes heavily bombed Tsengshing.

Canton was placed under martial law. The Wongsha railway station was hit by seventeen bombs yesterday and more than twenty persons were killed in extensive Japanese air raids along the Canton-Hankow and the Canton-Kowloon railways.

Bombs Raze Many Villages.

Literally hundreds of hamlets and villages were reported razed or burning as a result of air attacks.

Amazing war refugee scenes were being enacted along the East river and at Canton as tens of thousands trudged into the interior. Fully half a million civilians were reported to have left Canton.

Formosan authorities offered through the Japanese consul general here to supply Hongkong with vegetables in the event of a food shortage. The Hongkong emergency refugee committee was reported negotiating with Japanese military authorities for establishment of a safety zone for Chinese refugees in Kwangtung province just over the border from the New Territories, part of Great Britain's crown colony of Hongkong.

Severance of the Canton-Kowloon railway by the Japanese leaves in Hongkong between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000 worth of military supplies, machinery, electrical equipment, and other materials intended for China's defense.

Foreign Shipping Warned.

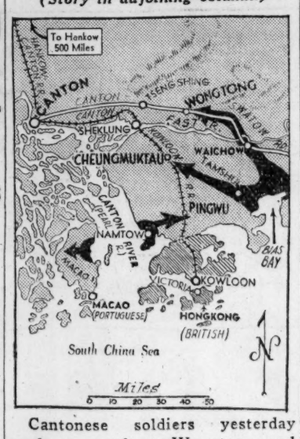
SHANGHAI, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The Japanese navy, with its forces smashing up the Yangtze river within seventy-five miles of Hankow, warned vessels of neutral powers tonight to move up stream from the Chinese military capital. The warning was contained in an official communique which said the Japanese zone of naval operations now was nearing Hankow.

The Chinese have built a boom above Shihhweiyao, which the Japanese captured yesterday. Shihhweiyao is seventy-five miles from Hankow by river, sixty by air.

The Japanese reported their forces were closing in on Hankow from three directions—from Yangsin, ninety miles southeast of Hankow, and from the northeast and east by river.

Chinese Make a Stand

(Story in adjoining column.)



Cantonese soldiers yesterday made a stand at Wongtong and were reported to have checked the Japanese advance. Two other Japanese columns (indicated by heavy arrows) had cut the Canton-Kowloon railway, and a third column was operating on Macao Island. Tsengshing and Canton were bombed by Japanese flyers.

REBELS ATTACK ON LONG QUIET CORDOBA FRONT

Planes and Artillery Blast Porcuna Highway.

HENDAYE, France [At the Spanish Frontier], Oct. 17.—(AP)—A comparative calm settled over the Ebro river sector in northeastern Spain today, but rebels struck at the Porcuna area, 25 miles west of Jaen and half way to Cordoba, in Andalusia. Jaen is 200 miles south of Madrid.

Artillery fire and the roar of planes in the early morning shattered a silence which has prevailed in Jaen province for weeks. Rebels reported their forces attacked near the road between Jaen and Cordoba.

Government reports said the valley approaches were commanded by machine gun units which blocked the rebels with a crossfire. Rebel reports said, however, that combined action of their bombing planes and artillery silenced the machine gun nests and opened the way for infantrymen who stormed the heights and conquered new positions.

Rebel air squadrons made widespread raids on the government's Mediterranean coast. A lone seaplane dropped eight heavy bombs on the port of Gandia at dawn and later dropped four missils on Denia. No casualties were reported.

Two rebel squadrons, each of five planes, raided Valencia. One dropped 50 bombs on Malvarrosa beach and the other crossed Valencia to bomb Sagunto but was driven off by government pursuit planes.

Fight on New Front

(Story in adjoining column.)

Spanish rebels yesterday attacked government lines in the Porcuna sector (indicated by arrow), a front which had been inactive for many weeks. Rebel flyers also bombed Sagunto, Valencia, Gandia, and Denia.

ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY HITS MUNICH TERMS

CANTERBURY, England, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The archbishop of Canterbury, Angelican primate of all England, today guardedly criticized Prime Minister Chamberlain's Munich peace settlement in a speech to his diocesan conference. The archbishop said:

"I think we must admit that though we are filled with thankfulness for peace, we cannot have any enthusiasm for the terms by which peace was won." The archbishop expressed "the deepest admiration for Czechoslovakia's self-restraint and dignity in a time of unspeakable trial" and pleaded for a halt in "the insane race in armaments."

$40,000 in Bonds Safe After a Street Car Ride

A package containing $40,000 in negotiable bonds which went for a ride Saturday was back yesterday in the office of the Columbia Warehouse company, 4119 South Union avenue. The package was given to a messenger boy to deliver to the Marwin Dairy Products company, 105 West Adams street. He rode downtown on a street car and stepped off without the bonds. Conductor Edward L. Haaker, 7631 Eggleston avenue, later turned them in to the lost and found department of the surface lines.

THE ULTIMATE FOLLY.

Previous to 1933 the United States was on the gold standard. We needed gold then as backing for our currency. The basic idea of the gold standard was that the government stood willing to redeem its currency with gold. To operate the system a billion dollars or a little more was thought by most people to be adequate. At $20.67 an ounce that would be about 50,000,000 troy ounces, or less than two thousand avoirdupois tons.

Actually, at $20.67 the government was able to acquire 8 thousand tons by 1913. By 1918, with foreign countries shipping their gold here in payment for munitions, we had 11 thousand tons. By 1929 this had increased to 17 thousand tons. The United States had no difficulty getting more gold at $20.67 an ounce than it had any use for while operating the gold standard.

In 1933 we abandoned the gold standard. The government no longer needs gold to redeem its currency. A nation which imports more goods than it exports would need gold also to settle the balance. But we are a creditor nation, and our exports are invariably larger than our imports. We haven't even this need for gold.

But having created a system under which gold is not needed, the government has raised the price from $20.67 an ounce to $35 an ounce. We offer the higher price to pay anybody who will send gold from anywhere. This higher price has stimulated gold production all over the world. Everywhere an attempt is being made to produce as much gold as possible to sell to us at $35 an ounce. And we are buying it all without having any use for it.

During the last week the total holdings of the treasury rose to 14 billion dollars. That means that we now have 21 thousand tons. Each year our gold pile gets higher. Apparently it was getting in the way in New York and Washington, and a great vault in the ground in which to store it was erected in Kentucky.

Some moves of the government in recent years have been exceedingly silly, but the bidding up of the price of a commodity for which we no longer have any use must be given the rank of the supreme idiocy.

MR. KRUEGER DIDN'T LIKE IT.

Otto Krueger, business agent of the bill posters' union, would not permit his men to put up a Republican bill. He said he did not like the wording—"Smash the Kelly-Nash machine." Gov. Horner and his supporters liked it last spring in the primary campaign. They wrote it. They invited Republicans to vote illegally and help them carry it out. The Republicans think that if the slogan was good in April it is still good in October and November.

Mr. Krueger is a bit of a Nazi, a good sized bit, a New Dealer, it is to be conjectured, and on the Nazi side of the New Deal. It has that side although it makes its chief play with the communist uncles, cousins, and aunts. The Nazis suppress opinion, censor utterances, turn their storm troopers on persons suspected of opposition, and fill the concentration camps. The New Dealers go as far as they dare with these tactics. They use gangsters and roughnecks. They try to make opposition disreputable. They use the purge. They bribe voters they cannot otherwise influence.

The bill posters have been violating the city ordinances by sticking the bills where they are forbidden. Mr. Krueger, the Nazi censor, rules that Republican bills must please him before they can be placed anywhere.

NO FREEDOM TO LIBEL.

The decision of the New York Court of Appeals, highest court of review in that state, in the suit of Curtis Dall against the magazine Time will be welcomed not only by the public but by the newspaper profession. It is most timely in view of the tendency apparent in recent years to attack the freedom of the press under cover of assumptions that it is not strictly limited by the laws of the land for the protection of the individual. Freedom of the press carries no freedom to commit libel.

The intermediate court of review, the appellate division of the Supreme court, which in New York is the trial court that in Illinois is called the Circuit court, had previously held the article in the suit flagrantly libelous and this judgment has now been conclusively approved in the final review, as it is unquestionably upheld by public opinion. The article was in the form of a news story purporting to report the suicide of the complainant, Mr. Dall, as an advertisment of a fictional article or feature. It was in ruthless disregard of the feelings and rights of Mr. Dall and without excuse according to the standards of responsible journalism. The publication in which it appeared alleged in defense that its fiction would not be taken as fact by its readers and therefore would not injure its victim and, as it is given less to independent news-gathering than the rehash of old news dished up in a way to please the malicious or scandal mongering in readers, there may have been a little in this assumption. But it was not enough to justify the device which, it is to be hoped, has been forever stamped out by the court. Reputable journalism will condemn it as drastically as the New York courts have done. It did not represent a tolerable exercise of freedom of the press but its shameful abuse, and the law so declares.

CHURCHILL'S ADDRESS TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE.

Winston Churchill, Conservative opponent in parliament of Mr. Chamberlain's new peace of Europe, talked to the American people Sunday, but not at the same time to the British. The British Broadcasting company did not take his talk and the British people could not hear what one of the most distinguished of their present day statesmen wanted to say on this occasion.

Mr. Churchill's talk was in a way a sequel to what Herr Hitler had said the week before at Saarbruecken, near the French frontier. Hitler said that Churchill was one of the men in Great Britain's unreliable parliamentary government who made it impossible for Germany to regard the Munich agreement as enduring. At any time the British democracy might throw Chamberlain out and put Churchill in his place. Churchill sought to reply, but American and not British broadcasting gave him a chance.

It has become a necessary part of British government and diplomacy in these critical days to suppress so far as possible comments at which the dictators might take offense. The government justifies this as a necessity forced upon it by exigencies it does not like but must heed. Dictators do not like free comment and, as Mr. Churchill said, they are more terrified by ideas and principles than they are just now by cannon and high explosives. Thus both Hitler and Mussolini have to some degree gained the upper hand in the democracies, whose practices and principles they ridicule and oppose.

Mr. Churchill said he was taking occasion to talk to the American people while he still had the chance even to do that. His view of the present situation is largely pessimistic, although he says that the time has about run against any further criticisms of what was done at Munich. Mr. Churchill did not personally face the problem which required Chamberlain's decision and he may take a bolder and more optimistic view of the crisis than was permitted to the man actually responsible for words which might have brought bombs raining down all over London.

Mr. Churchill may assume that Herr Hitler would have wilted if he had been confronted in the beginning with the declaration that he would proceed with his army against Czechoslovakia at his own peril. Mr. Churchill would have wanted, and still wants, active American coöperation on the side of the democracies.

Churchill sees the dictators reaching, sooner or later, for desirable colonies in the Americas. Americans will not wholly exclude that possibility. It is not even improbable that the old theories of the right to colonies, stopped by the Monroe Doctrin, might be revived. America will not be blind to this nor will it be unduly exercised. That it should mix European problems with its American problems is another matter.

Americans have seen that a dictatorial power, under no obligations to its own people, indifferent to sufferings which might be caused them, and not required to listen to their protests, will play a hand much stronger in any negotiations than can be played by governments which must be responsive to the feelings, desires, and opinion of the people who create the governments and can remove them.

Meanwhile, let it not be forgotten that Europe is not at war, and with the present day spared the ultimate calamity the future is not necessarily black. Time, it may be hopefully surmised, will run against the powers which now so ruthlessly dominate the world and cause the more peaceable people so many apprehensions. The worst intentions of these governments may be confined to the lifetime of a few men. Hitler's Germany may be somebody else's Germany, a greater Germany, it is true, but in other hands that greater Germany may be a more amenable member of the family of nations. Mussolini's Italy may be somebody else's Italy. And could it be hoped that Stalin's Russia may emerge into a different Russia, more tolerable for the people living in it and respected by the rest of the world?

Europe is in perceivable stages of a rapidly moving evolution. Utter despair of it is not reasonable. If all of Europe were now one vast battlefield, as it might easily have been, despair really would have held the world in its grip. In all essentials the so-called democracies are as strong now as they were before, in spite of the submission to certain realities which destroyed the remaining illusions of post-war statesmanship and popular sentiment. They are now living in the world as it is and should have no more dreams to misguide them. It is to be hoped that the United States will learn this lesson.

Another lesson to be learned is that the United States is not the keeper of the British empire nor does it guarantee the preservation of democracy in Europe.

INDIANA STONE.

[Indianapolis News.]

Spencer is to have a new postoffice built of Georgia stone. It is not surprising that Indiana's stone industry is bitterly critical of the failure in this and other instances to use Indiana stone, which has been chosen for some of the most noteworthy buildings in the United States, and which could have been obtained within a few miles of Spencer.

The construction of new federal buildings has been linked with the government's recovery program. The expenditure of vastly increased appropriations is defended with the explanation that the primary purpose of this recovery effort is to provide immediate employment in communities where it is badly needed, and to afford markets for materials that are not in general demand, due to the slump in business. The stone industry is an apt illustration of what this program was designed to assist. Owen, Monroe, Lawrence, and other Indiana stone counties have had an extremely high percentage of their citizens on relief. Hundreds who formerly worked in the quarries have had no employment because the construction industry was hard hit. The government stepped in with the promise that it would create work to alleviate these conditions, and the Spencer experience shows how in some instances it failed.

Whether Spencer needs a new postoffice is not the issue. Having decided to build one, it became the duty of the treasury department's supervising architect to choose the materials and to let the contract. The real purpose of the project was to provide work for Owen county's unemployed and to create a demand for the products of industries that were idle. The best stone known to the construction business could have been quarried in Owen county or in Monroe or Lawrence, but the government bought its stone in Georgia, paid high freight charges to Spencer and left idle quarry workers in Indiana on relief.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

ON AND OFF THE BANDWAGON.

Forty thousand customers, expecting fireworks, swarmed into Dyche stadium last Saturday afternoon and encountered that dullest of all happenstances, a 0 to 0 football game.

Four thousand, expecting to be bored, trudged to Stagg field and saw six touchdowns, startling forward passes mysteriously caught, an averted minor riot, a kiltie band that danced on its drumheads, and more miscellaneous fun than a barrelful of monkeys.

Moral: The biggest and loudest bandwagon does not always give the best ride.

Sunday, Oct. 23, Says John.

I believe that this is Indian summer, but my boss insists he knows better and that nothing governs Indian summer but the annual reprinting of the McCutcheon cartoon in the Tribune. So when? Alice M. Godfrey.

Alumni of the Line.

Now that the Line roll is being called, I should like to answer for one of the regular contributors to the column throughout B. L. T.'s régime, and intermittently during R. H. L.'s reign—"Anchusa," who was also the "Petrarch" to Charles Blandon's "Laura Blackburn," but in actuality, witty, whimsical Anne Higginson Spicer. Her sudden death at her New England summer home three years ago deprived Chicago and the Skokie of one of their sprightliest poets, a charming woman, and a keen humorist.

And what has become of "Calcitrosis," one of the foundation stones of B. L. T.'s column? He shared with "Riquarius" and "Pan" in the favor of the Maestro. I recently saw his signature in "The Voice of the People." Shouldn't he stand forth and declare himself? Ada A. Fisher.

LAST BRAVE SONG.

I never see the maple's scarlet banner
Against October's brilliant sky unfurled
But I recall how similar in manner
The last brave song you gave the mocking world.
You knew defeat, the adder, lay before you—
The darting tongue, the sly, long-waiting stone.
And I, too, knew. How could I but adore you?
How could I let you face the end alone?

Not in a single flash the song was ended,
But as the crimson leaves fall one by one
They stripped you of your hope, and none befriended.
Your useless tools lay idle in the sun.
Now do I, as of old, hear your voice calling—
Or is it but the autumn raindrops falling?

Lady Lorraine.

Hannah and Hogg's Stone Men.

A. R. Singer, who as mail clerk of the old Inter-Ocean handed the Linemaster many a letter y'ahs and y'ahs ago, passes him another from Alexander H. Hannah, trustee of the Brevoort hotel, on the subject of Chicago's Old Stone Men, as follows:

There was an old Scotchman who used to carve statues. My father [Alexander Donnan Hannah] and my uncle [David Hogg] hired him and he ultimately made fifteen statues of stone for their stores. All the sculptured personalities were Scotch literary men or highlanders except one—that was Maj. Bill Nevins, who had been a drum major during civil war days. All these stone men have disappeared from Chicago, but I am anxious to know their whereabouts, for I should like them as souvenirs. Three of them, I am told, are "guarding" the front lawn of a farmer in Wisconsin. Still another is said to be the property of a farmer in Bensenville, Ill.

I was about to buy the Hannah and Hogg stone relic that used to embellish the entrance to the stockyards when the fire of three years ago melted the stanch survivor indescribably.

I recall that it was the pastime of slickers a generation ago to plaster a western cattleman and then tell him there is one body in town he couldn't lick—a guy by the name of Stoneman. This subtle reference went unconcealed until the rancher would actually go and deliver a stiff uppercut to the adamant Scotch stone man who could not bat an eye.

* * *

Lone Rider Comes and Goes.

A lone horseman rode slowly into our town out of the past and, failing to find the hitch rack which surrounded the courthouse square forty years ago, proceeded to tie his horse to a pampered and highly prized tree in the park.

A trafic policeman approached and reproached him, whereupon he mounted his horse and rode away into the past again. Eolus.

BETTY KEEPS A DIARY.

I've always kept a diary—
But at last I've learned
That when love fades
And flickers out,
Some pages
Should be burned!
I open up my book to find
You mentioned
Here—
And here
In long-forgotten memos
Of another year.
Time changes all, the wise men say—
I wonder who's to blame
That on the page today I find
No mention of
Your name!

THE AWAKENING MIND OF THE CHILD.

THE health of every child is influenced materially by how well he is understood. Some parents never will learn that the failings and weaknesses of their offspring cannot be judged always by adult standards. In other words, they have forgotten their own early years—an age filled with hopes and fears, joys and disappointments.

One of the greatest compliments that can be paid to a grown man or woman is that he or she has retained the spirit of youth. While we cannot agree with the poets that childhood is the happiest time of life, nevertheless we are unanimous in believing that it is the most influential in the formation of good habits, character, and discernment. Ambitious then for the youngster's success, many a father or mother will overdo the job of regulating conduct, and we must recall that they—at least with their first born—are amateurs. Like the enthusiastic embryo gardener they may injure a promising plant with too much water or by surrounding it with too rich soil.

Just as these little tots are pleased easily they are as readily hurt. A physical injury may be forgotten quickly—not so one that damages pride, a growing self-respect, even dignity. People who are instinctively kind get along with children unusually well. In turn the younger generation will shun those with harsh voices or unpleasant countenances.

One quality which we frequently overlook is the desire to indulge in hero worship. We exercise this trait always, but not with the abandon of our formative years. Every one with whom we came in contact had to take his turn—the mailman, the milkman, the iceman, and the grocery boy. Of course, later "teacher" became such an important personage that whatever was said at home was promptly vetoed if Miss So-and-so had expressed herself to the contrary.

I wish it were possible for every boy and girl to have the kind of family doctor who fell happily to my lot. Filled with trepidation and fears, when I was old enough to realize that the doctor must call, he soon was idealized. Not only was he my friend but a real comrade. I know that I thought more of him because he never "storied" to me. Once when he had to do something that would prove painful—and it did not seem wise to use a general anesthetic—he told me about his experiences in the civil war in which he had served as a regimental surgeon; about operations that he had been called upon to do with crude equipment and no expert assistance; of the bravery of the soldiers and their abiding patience. Then he asked, "Will you be my little soldier? Yes, it will hurt—quite a bit. But it will be over in just an instant." With this simple preparation the operation soon was performed.

Deceit is a powerful undermining force of character and we may not realize how quickly children detect untruths and the fallacy of alibis. If parents are not extremely careful in this respect they need not wonder when one of their own may fail to tell all the story or may even deny an obvious fact.

Selfishness probably is next, but in this latter situation we are dealing with an inherent tendency which can become more intense. Here training is essential to create a more liberal attitude. We all have seen examples of the unhappy and usually unhealthy child, possessed of everything in the world to play with, tolerating a less favored neighborhood playmate—using the guest merely as a spectator and not allowing him to touch or handle anything. Neither lad is aided by such an association.

This entire preachment is designed to call attention to the fact that parents can underestimate the intelligence of their progeny. If they are unwilling to take delight in the vagaries of a budding mind—to reason, counsel, even argue with the questioning son or daughter—a great opportunity is lost for self-development. The happiest years are those in which both dad and mother take unto themselves the job of molding to fruition a youthful mind.

CAN'T ALWAYS TELL.

I. writes:

1. How can a physician tell when glandular trouble is responsible for obesity—say sixty pounds overweight?

2. Can slight glandular trouble, with lack of activity, cause so much excess weight?

3. How can it be remedied?

REPLY.

1. He cannot always. On the other hand, if the metabolic rate is quite low he will know that the thyroid gland is lazy. There are other methods of determining the efficiency of gland structures in various parts of the body.

2. Possibly, if of long standing.

3. Supplying the missing secretions.

BURNING TONGUE.

A. P. writes: What is the cause of a burning tongue?

REPLY.

The following conditions should be investigated:

1. Electric currents set up by fillings or dentures that contain different metals.

2. Infection of the tonsils at the base of the tongue.

3. Dietary deficiency.

4. Anemia.

5. Lack of hydrochloric acid in the gastric juice.

PROPERTY REDEMPTION.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Can property be redeemed if some one else bought it by tax deeds? Last taxes were paid in 1924. 1 have abstract title to place. 2. Do you have to pay cash to redeem place or [3] can you pay it on monthly terms? Person bought place for taxes. Please tell me how to redeem this property. G. H.

1. After a tax deed is issued it is too late for regular redemption, but the Illinois Revised Statutes, chapter 120, section 411, provides that if the grantee does not take possession or institute proceedings for possession or permits a tax forfeiture, the owner may tender the amount paid, with 7 per cent interest plus statutory fees and costs, and thereupon the tax deed holder shall reconvey, subject to fine of $50 to $200. An estimate can be obtained from the county clerk.

CHICAGO LABOR FIRST.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Now that the subway is to be constructed let's adopt the slogan, "Chicago labor for a Chicago project."

Chicago's citizens are paying a large proportion of the cost through taxes and Chicago's citizens should be given preference in the hiring of men in the installation of this needed transportation facility. Rex Clark.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Now that the government has allotted Chicago 18 million dollars for the building of a subway, thousands of transients will flood Chicago, looking for employment, as they did during the World's Fair.

Chicago work should be for Chicagoans first. I would advise that every voter write his alderman and the mayor, demanding that no employment be given in this project to any one not registered for the November election, or who has not resided in Chicago for the last six months. S. Edward Bloom.

THE WPA TOURS.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—I have gone on many "educational tours" conducted by the WPA. One in particular, a migratory workers' tour, was conducted very poorly. We had to walk at least eight blocks in the flophouse section at Madison and Des Plaines streets. It isn't a pleasant section.

These tours are of little educational value. Most people are there purely for curiosity's sake.

On the Lithuanian colony tour no prearrangements had been made. The Lithuanian newspaper knew nothing of it.

The tour department sends out almost as many so-called guides as they have people attending. Are Chicagoans spending their hard earned money for foolishness? Some tours are interesting but most of them are not worth the time and car fare. M. G.

SOMETHING OF A CYNIC.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—In answer to Rose Shapiro's letter, which asks, "Since we mortals visit this earth, why can't we make each other's visit as pleasant as possible?" I can only reply:

Human nature, or the desire to keep up with the Joneses. Only in sickness, or at New Year's, Thanksgiving, births, deaths, and marriages, do we even stop to consider the meaning of life and that old adage, "Live and let live." Paul Seltzer.

FREEDOM IS SLIPPING.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 13.—Thirty-nine billion dollars is a lot of money. That represents the deficit of our federal government, and here is the biggest deficit: Every 100 million added to this debt brings a big chuckle from the ones responsible.

Do we, or do we not, want to keep this a free country? W. L. Byfield.

BURNS DID A REAL SERVICE.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Thanks to Ed Burns, your sports writer, for listing the nine Cubs who voted to give Charley Grimm a cut of the world series coin. This is real service to the sporting public. As twenty Cubs voted, and nine voted for Grimm, the other eleven sure are on the spot. Clay T. Held.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—There is a sign on a Georgia highway reading: "Don't take your half out of the middle." Not bad? F. M. M.

ASKS IF COLLEGE IS WORTH IT.

Racine, Wis., Oct. 14.—Is this country going college mad? Every time we look at a paper or listen to the radio we hear college, college; what the smart college man or woman is doing or wearing.

What about the young men and women who, through no fault of their own, have to remain at home? They, too, would like to enjoy themselves about twenty hours out of every day, as one is led to believe most college students are doing. Dad spends his hard earned cash so his darling daughter and son can attend college to learn to smoke, drink, gamble, and "date" all hours of the day and night. It is a splendid way to lose the love and respect of that son and daughter. The majority of them come home and are bored with their parents, friends, and the home town in general.

That glamorous co-ed isn't nearly as glamorous in the home town. The smart college man spends his night at some bar trying to kill that bored-at-home feeling. When you think of all the students you know, hasn't it made a terrible mess of a lot of them?

EVANSTON BOYS WIN PRIZE.

Evanston, Ill., Oct. 12.—Recently the Gage Publishing company of New York sponsored a nation-wide contest in which hundreds of electrical engineers and industrial designers of the first water have been competing. The contest was held to encourage the designing of better equipment for professional use, and also for the design of smart modern products for domestic use.

On Oct. 6 Trace Christenson Jr. and Warner Hoople [both Evanstonians] were awarded first prize—a check for $200, along with certificates of award. Their prize was for the development of a new chemical-electro food dehumidifying unit. The two young men are to be warmly congratulated.

George W. Towneley.

RIPARTISANSHIP.

Barrington, Ill., Oct. 13.—Next month two Republican state senators will be "reelected" [what a laugh!] to the Illinois legislature without any opposition, as their two Democratic contenders have withdrawn from the race. The record of these two legislators has been far from glowing, and why the Democratic organization has, for the second time, permitted these two senators to run unopposed is most difficult to understand unless it is a "sell out." Thinking voters will bear this in mind when they go to the polls. Ex-Democrat.

MURDER-A-MINUTE BROADCASTS.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—For several years the air lanes have been contaminated with bloody, murder-a-minute programs unfit to broadcast. Some people have the idea that the constant relating of the fact that crime does not pay will have a good effect on criminals and potential criminals. But that is the same story society has been preaching since the beginning of mankind and since the beginning of mankind we have had crime.

A splendid work I have in mind to combat the crime tendency is that being done by Father Flannagan in Boys' Town. Student at Lane Tech.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—How the public can stand crime broadcasts, with sounds of men shot, dying, being choked, etc., is a mystery to me. I am not especially sensitive, but I simply cannot endure the gurgling of the man strangled in the radio. Jodkins.

MOVIE INDUSTRY AND CHICAGO.

Dubuque, Ia., Oct. 14.—I note Ed Sullivan's comment in the Sunday Tribune about "Will the Movie Industry Return to Chicago?" This idea should be followed up, as here might be a big opportunity to get some parts of the industry back to your city. Sullivan explains in his article just why the so-called California climate is no longer necessary in making pictures and that the Chicago climate will do as well. And see the business and publicity the movie industry would bring to Chicago and Chicagoland, including Iowa and the upper Mississippi valley.

Don't forget that Los Angeles increased in the 1930 census 114.7 per cent, while Chicago increased only 25 per cent.

WOULD SAVE WILMETTE CHURCH.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 13.—This morning I read in The Tribune of the plight of the English Lutheran church of Wilmette. The church buildings are up for sale because of the inability of the congregation to meet the interest payments on the mortgage.

In this day, when religion is being persecuted in foreign lands, the people of our country should make every effort to protect and maintain our churches. Surely there are 40,000 Christians living in the Chicago area who would not miss $1 and enable the church to buy back the buildings. Think of the joy and comfort it would bring to the present congregation, to say nothing of the future souls that may be saved. E. W.

CORONER'S JURY ASKS ELEVATION OF RAIL TRACKS

Reports in Death of Four on Harlem Ave. Crossing.

A coroner's jury recommended that the North Western railroad elevate its tracks from the Jefferson Park district to the northwest city limits. The recommendation was made as a result of the death of four persons whose car was struck by one of the railroad's passenger trains Sunday at the Harlem avenue crossing. The jurors further urged that trains reduce their speed as long as the tracks are on the ground level.

The victims, all colored residents of Evanston, were identified yesterday. They were George Smith, 38 years old, and his wife, 1910 Dewey avenue; Alonzo Gilbert, 38, of 1108½ Clark street, and Mrs. Bertha Freeman, 36, of 1945 Jackson avenue.

Killed When Train Hits Car.

An unidentified man was killed early today when he was crushed in his car by a Grand Trunk railroad freight train at 119th street near Sacramento avenue. The train, carrying fifty-seven cars, was inbound from Battle Creek, Mich., and proceeding slowly because of heavy fog. The victim apparently failed to see the train. The crossing is not protected. The license number of the car was issued for a different make of car to A. Stakenas, 3515 West 59th place.

Mrs. Catherine Svoboda, 73 years old, 5121 South Francisco avenue, was fatally injured last night when she was struck by a car driven by Policeman James Micus of the Pekin Inn station at 51st and Mozart streets. She died in the Holy Cross hospital. Micus, who lives at 4312 South Artesian avenue, said the accident was unavoidable.

De Witt Blachly, 12 years old, 4955 George street, was seriously injured at Oakdale and Long avenues last night by an automobile which sped away.

Driver Is Arrested.

The driver, Miss Harriet Luczkowski, 24, was traced by her license number and arrested by Cragin police in her home at 4459 North Major avenue. She said she had been unnerved and excited by the accident. Young Blachly, son of Dr. D. W. Blachly, a dentist, was taken to the Illinois Masonic hospital.

Charles Scott, 43 years old, colored, 10169 Elizabeth street, was killed last night when his automobile crashed into the abutment of a railroad viaduct at 83d street and Vincennes avenue.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 649 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 505 were killed in Chicago, where 15,742 were injured in the same period.

PICK FAMILY MEN FOR JURY TO TRY SLAYER SIKORA

8 Selected; Insanity Plea Indicated.

Eight jurors, mature, married, and qualified to inflict a death penalty, were chosen yesterday to try Rudolph Sikora for the murder of his wife's lover, Edward Solomon. The trial is being held in the Criminal court of Judge James F. Fardy.

It is expected the jury will be completed early today, and that the state will immediately begin presenting testimony. One of the principal prosecution withnesses will be Sikora's wife, Margaret, a slim brunette, 22 years old. She has steadfastly refused to give him any aid.

Solomon, 35 years old and an accountant, was shot to death Aug. 22 at Clark street and Winnemac avenue. Mrs. Sikora had been his secretary for four years. She and her husband had quarreled frequently over the attentions Solomon paid her, and the wife had asked for a divorce.

Although the shooting had the appearance of deliberate planning, the defendant's attorney, W. W. Smith, has indicated he will plead emotional insanity in behalf of his client.

Smith said he wanted to get into the record a letter written by Solomon, in which he promised Sikora that he would not associate further with Margaret. One of the defense contentions is that the accountant's failure to keep the promise drove Sikora to jealous madness. Sikora has had the support and sympathy of Mrs. Elizabeth Boehme, 7809 Elm Grove avenue, Elmwood Park, his mother-in-law.

Jurors chosen are Victor J. Trudel, 62 years old, 1644 East 70th street, a floor manager; William A. Schaefer, 45, of 1421 East 60th street, a bookkeeper; A. K. Rodgers, 57, of 1130 Judson avenue, Evanston, a salesman; Walter Herrmann, 43, of 5641 South Mozart street, a mechanic; Herbert A. Dartsch, 38, of 6261 Hyacinth street, an assistant department head; Russell F. Hornburg, 35, of 7135 South Wood street, a clerk; Charles Anderson, 29, of 4225 North Paulina street, a sheet metal worker, and Gust C. Leichtfeld, 38, of 4741 Magnolia avenue, a janitor.

Accident Victim Helps Free Motorist in Court

The accident victim testified that he believed another motorist was to blame. And so Matthew F. Allen of 5047 Winthrop avenue was cleared in Safety court yesterday of charges of reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident. Allen, who is 31 years old, was seized Aug. 6 after an accident in which Bryan Savage of 1913 North Keystone avenue was slightly injured.

Quick Relief for DEEP RASPY COUGHS (DUE TO COLDS)

If that cold has caused throat or bronchial irritation, put a small lump of Vicks VapoRub on your tongue and let it melt. Feel VapoRub's medication bathe the irritated membranes as it slowly trickles down your throat—bringing comforting relief—where you want it—when you want it. Next, melt a spoonful of VapoRub in a bowl of boiling water. Then breathe in the steaming medicated vapors for a few minutes. As these vapors work their way down through the irritated air-passages, they loosen the phlegm and ease the cough. The relief that VapoRub brings will delight you.

COMMUNITY FUND OPENS CAMPAIGN; $685,670 RAISED

Appeal to Be Carried to Employers Today.

Pledges of $685,670 were reported at the opening meeting of the 1938 campaign of the Community Fund in the Stevens hotel last night. The announcement was made by Rawleigh Warner, chairman of the sponsors' division, who said that the money and pledges had been raised by the 140 workers in his group.

The total amount sought for the fund, which contributes to 175 social and welfare agencies, is $3,500,000. Of this total, the sponsors' division is expected to raise about one-half The other half is to be subscribed through the industrial division. It will start carrying the appeal to 750,000 employed persons in Chicago today.

Hear Liberty Loan Veteran.

About 1,500 workers attended the dinner last night and heard speeches by Ralph A. Bard, fund chairman; John Holmes, chairman of the industrial division, and Philip R. Clarke, president of the City National Bank and Trust company. Clarke headed Chicago's Liberty Loan drives during the world war. A telegram wishing success to the campaign was received from Mayor Kelly.

Proceeds will provide 45 per cent of the money needed by the city's private charitable agencies. The other 55 per cent is raised by the charities themselves.

Goal Same As in 1937.

"The goal this year," Bard said, "is the same as that fixed for 1937. While the needs this year are greater, the officials of the fund deemed it unwise to increase the objective. As a result the budget requirements of the agencies were trimmed to the limit by the citizens' committee which supervises their expenditures throughout the year.

"The agencies included in the fund embrace those of Protestant, Catholic, Jewish and non-denominational sponsorship. The cost of administration of the fund is less than 3 per cent, including campaign expenses, and the rate of collection of pledges is consistently above 99 per cent."

KATE F. BECKER'S 4 CHILDREN GET $775,753 ESTATE

The net estate of Mrs. Kate F. Becker, widow of A. G. Becker, Chicago investment banker, was fixed at $775,753 yesterday in an inheritance tax return filed with Russ Alford, Lake county clerk.

Mrs. Becker died last Feb. 8 in her home at 636 North St. John's avenue, Highland Park. When her will was admitted to probate on Feb. 21 her estate was estimated at only $202,500.

The return was filed by her son-in-law, Herbert A. Friedlich, who is one of the executors. It showed a gross estate of $995,464, with debts, federal tax, and costs of administration totaling $219,711. The estate consists chiefly of stocks. After minor bequests it is to be shared by three daughters, Mrs. Louise B. Shire and Mrs. Friedlich of Highland Park, Mrs. Helen B. Sulzberger of 1015 Hyde Park boulevard, and a son, James Becker of Highland Park.

JOHN BARRETT, EX-DIPLOMAT, DEAD AT AGE 71

Bellows Falls, Vt., Oct. 17.—(AP)—Dr. John Barrett, 71 years old, credited by many with doing more than any other person of his generation to promote closer relations among the American republics, died today of bronchial pneumonia.

The six foot Vermonter, who as a newspaperman so impressed President Grover Cleveland that he was launched on a diplomtic career at the age of 28, succumbed within a few miles of his birthplace from a cold he contracted two weeks ago as he prepared to leave for his winter home in Coral Gables, Fla.

During his thirteen years of directorship he lifted the pan-American union from an almost "local" group into international prominence. He served the United States as minister to Siam, Panama, Colombia, and Argentina.

MRS. SUE MILLER, WIDOW OF RAIL PRESIDENT, DIES

Mrs. Sue Brown Miller, widow of Darius Miller, former president of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, died early yesterday in her home at 1510 Green Bay road, Lake Forest. Mrs. Miller, who was 78 years old, had been suffering from a heart ailment.

Mr. Miller died on Aug. 23, 1914, in Glacier Park, Mont., while on a trip in the west.

Mrs. Miller was a member of the Onwentsia, the Shore Acres Country club, the Saddle and Cycle club, and Women's Athletic club, but had not been active in their affairs in recent years. The Millers had no children. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Harry Cherrier of Los Angeles, and a brother, Joseph Brown, of Little Rock, Ark.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Adams.

Mrs. Elizabeth Mitchell Gaylord Adams, member of a Chicago banking family, died Sunday in Honolulu, Hawaii, according to a cablegram received yesterday by Thomas E. Donnelly, a brother-in-law. Mrs. Adams, who was 75 years old, was the daughter of the late William H. Mitchell, banker, and the sister of the late John J. Mitchell, president of the former Illinois Trust and Savings bank. Dr. Charles Adams, her second husband, died ten years ago. She left two children, both by her first husband, Henry Gaylord, who is dead. Burial will be in Hawaii.

Frank E. Miller.

Frank E. Miller, a retired policeman, died yesterday in his home at 4732 Byron street after a long illness. He was 60 years old and a native of Dubuque, Ia. Miller retired five years ago after serving twenty-five years on the police force. His last assignment was at the Albany Park station. He is survived by his widow, Clara; a daughter, Hazel, and a brother, the Rev. C. A. Miller, of Roseburg, Ore. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday in the chapel at 3946 Milwaukee avenue. Burial will be in Ridgewood cemetery.

Harry A. Mackey.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Harry A. Mackey, 65 years old, Philadelphia Republican leader, died today. He was mayor here from 1928 to 1931 and a one time member of the William S. Vare board of strategy. He suffered an attack of pneumonia after an automobile accident two months ago. Both at Lafayette college and at the University of Pennsylvania Mackey excelled as a football player. He captained the Penn team in 1893 and was known as one of the great tackles of his day.

Oscar E. Brooks.

Oscar E. Brooks, 69 years old, 6864 Ottawa avenue, died yesterday. Mr. Brooks was a retired contractor. He was formerly a village trustee of Edison Park. He had resided in the Edison Park district for forty-five years. Surviving are his wife, two daughters, and a son. Funeral services will be held at the residence at 2 p. m. Thursday.

George H. Norton Sr.

George H. Norton Sr., president of George H. Norton & Co., Inc., La Salle street investment house, died last night in the Berwyn hospital after a long illness. Mr. Norton, who was 67 years old, lived at 7030 34th street in Berwyn. Mr. Norton was active in Baptist church affairs, a former Berwyn alderman, and former president of the board of Berwyn school district No. 100. He is survived by his widow, Luella, and two sons, Laurence H. Norton of Western Springs and George H. Norton Jr. of the Harris Trust and Savings bank. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the First Baptist church of Berwyn.

The Rev. Samuel W. Findley.

The Rev. Samuel W. Findley, 71 years old, a retired Presbyterian minister, died yesterday after an illness of three weeks. The Rev. Findley, who lived at 3429 Vernon avenue, Brookfield, had been pastor of churches in Bainbridge, O., and Oquawka, Urbana, and Morgan Park, Ill. He is survived by his widow, Susan; a daughter, Katheryn, and a son, S. Walker Findley. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 9 a. m. at the La Grange Presbyterian church, with burial in Monmouth, Ill.

Karl Kautsky.

Models Refuse Up Hair-do for St. Luke's Show

BY JUDITH CASS.

TODAY brings the long heralded St. Luke's fashion show. It is the top in benefits each year not only from the standpoint of the net proceeds but from the standpoint of being a success from the audience's point of view. The show always has moved swiftly and surely, and unless something unforeseen happens today the twelfth annual show will be as snappy and entertaining as its predecessors.

That the St. Luke's show is more of an entertainment than a fashion show is the opinion of the beauty shop that does the hair and makes up the faces of the models. This opinion is held in spite of the fact that the forty-one exhibitors show their latest and most glamorous raiment. The opinion of the hairdressers and makeup artists is based on the fact that only a few of the 117 models will allow the experts to arrange the hair in the newest fashion and apply rouge, lipstick, eye shadow, etc., so that the faces are at their best in the glaring lights that are focused on the runway.

Most Models Keep Own Hair Styles.

The beauticians want the amateur models to be professional in every way, forgetting, perhaps, that the audience is there to see Miss Debutante Millionbucks and Mrs. Van Astorbilt as well as to see the clothes that are displayed. So Miss Millionbucks and Mrs. Astorbilt must not look too different today from the way they do in real life.

Consequently, there will be few "up-dos" on the coiffures seen on the runway in the ballroom of the Stevens hotel this afternoon or tonight.

Miss Peggy Burrows, Miss Jane Zimmerman, Miss Elizabeth Crawford, and Miss Katherine Littlefield are about the only debutantes who already have accepted the latest mode in hair style, so they probably will be the only ones of the buds to wear their hair up today. Young Mrs. Charles S. Dewey, her sister, Miss Kay Goodman, Mrs. William K. Meyers, and Princess Galitzine all wear their tresses dressed high, too, so they will be among today's sponsors of the upward trend. But if Chicago women let St. Luke's fashion show decide which it is to be, hair up or hair down, our prediction is that it will be the latter.

Afternoon Show Starts at 2:30 o'Clock.

The afternoon showing starts at 2:30 o'oclock. Long before that hour there will be hundreds of women waiting to enter the ballroom the moment the doors are open at 1:30, for there are no reserved seats except in the boxes. All seats at the evening showing, which starts at 7:30, are reserved, for dinner is served. The cocktail bar will open at 6:30 and after the showing there will be dancing in the Continental oom of the hotel.

Selling flowers and cigarets will be Miss Jane Allen, Mrs. Clymer Bowen, Miss Jane Bulger, Miss Jane and Miss Kathleen Calkins, Miss Cynthia Cleveland, Miss Sally Jane Crowder, Miss Valerie Harris, Miss Lucy Harrison, Mrs. J. Morse Ely Jr., Miss Dorothy Herbst, Miss Barbara Hess, Miss Barbara Hobart, Miss Virginia Hodges, Miss Phyllis Hollands, Miss Mary Frances Jannotta, Miss Frances Jeffery, Miss Katherine Johnston, Mrs. Charles H. G. Kimball, Miss Nancy Merrick, Miss Laura Moyer, Mrs. Montgomery Orr, Miss Nancy Otis, Miss Hester Reilly, Miss Lucy Rumsey, Miss Peggy Sargent, Miss Katherine Stenson, Miss Lois Thompson, Mrs. Theodore Tieken, Miss Mary

Miss Mary Hale, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Browne Hale of Winnetka, will be one of the loveliest models in the St. Luke's fashion show today. Mrs. Hale also is to model in the show, which will be given this afternoon and again tonight in the Grand ballroom of the Stevens hotel.

Good Morning!

"Inspector General" is a "satire" on the czarist régime in Russia during the early part of the last century.

The heavy humor of the narrative is reminiscent of Chekov's stories. Certainly it is typically Russian.

It seems that, at the period in which the story's scenes are laid, the government had a custom of sending out from Petrograd an inspector general whose duty it was to make rounds of the provinces and discover the use small communities were making of state funds.

Comes a gay imposter to one of these burgs, to be mistaken by the citizens thereof for the feared Petrograd official. . . . On this case of mistaken identity the action is hinged. . . .

The stranger, an impecunious ne'er do well, takes everybody for a ride. . . . He discovers no end of corruption and blandly accepts bribes from the city fathers to insure his silence re same when questioned by the czar. . . . His promises of promotion, special mention, etc., are many and he is having fun no end when—he finds himself about to be married to the mayor's daughter. . . . He decamps in haste—just in time to escape a run in with the REAL inspector general. . . .

Vlasta Burian, looking like the Big, Bad Wolf in "Three Little Pigs," plays the bogus inspector general with relish. He has a lighter touch than most Russian actors—verve that seems almost French. I would like to see him in real comedy. Other players in the cast are conscientious. Settings and scenery are commendable. Ditto photography.

The direction was intelligent. English titles are labored but enlightening.

See you soon.

Looking at Hollywood
By Ed Sullivan

The Reviewing Stand

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 17.—There was an actor in vaudeville who used to make his entrance carrying a shotgun. As he reached stage center, he'd fire both barrels and as the smoke and the racket died down, he'd lean across the footlights and say to the audience: "You won't go to sleep while I'm on this stage." Watching the preview of "Suez," you wondered idly to yourself if Hollywood isn't placing itself in the position of that vaudeville actor. Instead of drama, the movies are now giving you large doses of sound and fury.

"Suez" is a spree of sound. First you are deafened by the dynamite discharge that dislodged mountains and hills as well as occupants of the last row in the Four Star theater. As if that were not enough, the sound engineers gave us a windstorm as an encore, a windstorm that ran the gamut from a low, plaintive moan to a high, querulous note. The purpose of the windstorm was to kill off Annabella and add to the plot complications that harassed young Tyrone Power.

Reasonably enough, you wonder what new perversion of the sound track will come next. First we had the earthquake in "San Francisco." Goldwyn topped that with the hurricane from the picture of the same name, as the radio announcers would phrase it. Zanuck, with his back to the wall in the face of these two detonations, sponsored the fire in "In Old Chicago," and added a cattle stampede to the acoustics. It was thought that the limit in noise had been reached, but Adolph Zukor reached into his hat and pulled out the snow slide in "Spawn of the North." Zanuck now turns around and incorporates mountain blasting and a windstorm in "Suez." What next?

It has got to a stage now where a man who wears a toupee isn't safe in a movie theater. He pays his 65 cents, sits down comfortably, and, immediately his toupee is blown off by a hurricane or a windstorm on the screen. Or even if you own your own hair, you come out of a theater deaf as a result of the sound effects that are sprayed at you. If that is drama, or entertainment, I'll eat it. Hollywood has gone sound effect crazy.

The most memorable moments I can call to mind in the theater have been quiet passages. In "All Quiet on the Western Front," a boy reached out and released a butterfly from the barbed wire, and the delicate symbolism of the scene touched the world. In a Lubitsch picture, you saw boys marching to war, flags flying, bands playing, but the scene became memorable because Lubitsch photographed it through the crutches of a boy who had returned from the same war. In "Cavalcade," the young lovers, ecstatic in their honeymoon happiness, moved away from the rail of the ship and you saw for an instant "Titanic" printed on the life preserver. In "One Way Passage," two champagne glasses touched and shattered on a Tia Juana bar. In "100 Men and a Girl," you thrilled as the camera showed the hands of Stokowski beginning to move, and you knew that he'd lead the unemployed musicians. In "San Francisco," after Spencer Tracy had knocked down Clark Gable in the gymnasium, Tracy dressed and put on a priest's collar and it pulled you up straight in your seats.

None of these scenes were played out in an infernal din, because great drama doesn't need artificial struts. The low note always is the most intense note. Of the bellowers, Shakespeare said: "I would as lief the town crier spoke my lines." So I say to the movie magnates and the producers and the assistant producers and the directors and the sound engineers, have done with noise for noise's sake. Use it sparingly and judiciously. Charlie Chaplin, with the flutey notes of a little whistle he swallowed, showed how much an artist could do with a little sound. You don't need hurricanes or snow slides or cattle stampedes, honestly you don't.

Italy has barred the Marx Brothers, the Ritz Brothers, and Charlie Chaplin, according to page 1. The reason advanced is not that they are not comical, or that Italian audiences do not want to see them. The reason is that they are Jewish. To such a low estate has this world of ours degenerated. It is incredible, but it is true and you wince at the knowledge that these things have or come to pass in the twentieth century, that hatred is abroad in the world and sanctioned by great nations.

The barb sinks home most deeply in the case of Mrs. Al Ritz. She is Italian. She could tell Il Duce that her Al is a pretty nice sort of fellow, honorable, decent, hard working, considerate. She could tell him that her Al never looks at another girl, that he brings his week's pay home to her every week, that he loves her and she loves him. She could tell him, too, that as between Il Duce and Al, an Italian girl like herself would not think twice to choose.

Fall Lounging Clothes Attain New Elegance

BY RHEA SEEGER.

It's quite a trick to retain an even calm when you survey a certain showing of new late fall and early winter lounging clothes. If these lovely creations don't lure the money away from the most miserly soul, nothing else can. Hostess gowns and house coats this year must have reached the peak, but then, we think that every year with good reason.

If you demand color to revive your drooping spirits after a difficult day, take the luscious pomegranate red bagheera gown fashioned like a romantic princess outfit out of a fairy tale book. Sleeves are long and clinging to accent the long, clinging streamline of the robe itself. The neckline is deep and revealing and the gown is trimmed with gold braid.

A madonna blue velvet beauty shimmers with just enough silver kidskin trim to make you believe it came out of some old portrait. These are only two from the siren type models; others just as tempting come in all your favorite colors.

For the dashing moods, try the stunning house coat models, real honest to goodness greatcoat types, with wide flared shirts; smart, smooth, neat waistlines accented by wide snug belts, buttons and buckles.

These are knockout, whether you choose a frosty white and silver striped material, padded cozily, or an India print beauty made of that delightful multicolored material padded for luxurious comfort and then lined with a cherry red taffeta. Gold filigree buttons keep the sleeves snug from the elbow to the wrist and button down the front.

It's one of the finds of the year, for it's tagged with a grand low price mark for all the unusual combine of print, contrast color, dashing swirl to skirt, and padded luxuriousness.

Dr. Levy to Be Honored at Testimonial Dinner

Dr. Felix A. Levy, spiritual leader of Temple Emanuel, 701 Buckingham place, for the last 30 years will be given a testimonial dinner tonight at the Covenant club. Dr. Solomon Freehoff, of Pittsburgh, Dr. Solomon Goldman, president of the American Zionist organization; Dr. George Fox, president of the Chicago Rabbinical association, and Archie Cohen, officer of B'nai B'rith, will be among the speakers. Dr. Albert Buckner Coe of First Congregational church, Oak Park, will represent Christian clergymen.

Save Palestine! Theme of Zion Rally Tonight

Chicago Zionists and their sympathizers will discuss their growing apprehension concerning the fate of Palestine at a massmeeting tonight at the Civic Opera house. Rabbi Solomon Goldman, president of the American Zionist organization, will be the principal speaker.

The changed Jewish situation in many European countries also will be discussed. William M. Katz, president of the Chicago Zionist organization, pointed yesterday with especial concern to rumors of possible abandonment of the partition plan for Palestine. This plan was advocated by the first British commission to Palestine as a solution of the Jewish-Arab disturbances.

Mr. Katz added that there is increasing fear that the Balfour declaration would be abandoned as a result of pressure from Germany and Italy. The Balfour declaration, establishing Palestine as a home for the Jews, was issued during the world war. Mr. Katz said that Dr. Goldman would base his speech tonight upon information received by cable and trans-Atlantic telephone conversations with European capitals during the last few weeks.

"Chicago Jewry has been aroused as never before over the danger of doors being closed to hundreds of thousands of homeless and destitute Jews who are trapped in Europe," said Mr. Katz. "To permit the nullification of the Balfour declaration would be added tragedy for a half million people who have found refuge from European persecution."

Nearly 3,000 new members of the Chicago Zionist organization will be inducted at the massmeeting.

Loyola Favors Cap and Gown for Daily Garb

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

It is going to be the collegiate cap and gown for all students on the Lake Shore campus of Loyola university at all times, in classroom, library, and church. While final action has not been taken university sources expect this ancient custom of the great seats of learning at Paris, Salerno, Bologna, Cambridge, and Oxford to be adapted.

The Loyola student council has urged the adoption of the academic garb and the Loyola News, student paper, is supporting the movement. "Loyola," said the paper, "would stand as one of the few universities in the whole world to be so proud of its student body that it wants all men to know its scholars on sight."

The gowns considered by the student council would be of long wearing black cloth reaching below the waist, with certain distinctive features of sleeves to designate class—freshman, sophomore, junior, or senior. Another mark, in appropriate academic color, would be on the shoulder to designate the student as a candidate for a certain degree. Bachelor of arts candidates would be marked, for instance, with the white chevron, the bachelor of philosophy candidate with blue.

Fordham is the sole university in the country now requiring any portion of the student body to wear "academics." The garb there, however, is reserved for seniors.

At Cambridge the cap and gown, worn by students at all times except to and from the athletic field, was required so that students could be distinguished from townfolk by the proctors or campus police.

A Door Closed Softly

By Alice Campbell

[Copyright, 1938, By Alice Ormond Campbell.]

SYNOPSIS.

David Beddoes, young American, accompanies his cousin, Alison, to a party at Lady Wibbe's. By mistake they go to the house next door. While they are talking to the spinsterish woman who receives them they hear a woman scream and a body fall. The spinster explains it is a parrot. But young Penelope Wibbe says their strange neighbors have no parrot. But they acquire one next day. While in the house David had seen a favorite book of his former love, Betsy Greentree, with her initials in it. Betsy's father died after losing his money. While traveling in Europe with her aunt, Fanny Rush, Betsy met and married an Englishman, Geoffrey Scarpath. David learns the Scarpaths live in the mysterious Louse and sends a letter to Betsy, which is unanswered. David confronts Scarpath, who explains that Betsy is suffering from a chronic nervous condition and can have no visitors, that she is being taken care of by his sister, Evelyn. In the guise of a telephone repair man David gains a secret interview with Betsy and learns she did not receive his letter. She tells David her husband is not in love with her and she doesn't know why he married her. David arranges a scheme whereby they may communicate, with Penelope Wibbe's aid. Then Betsy's writing materials disappear. When Dr. Broderick, the specialist attending Betsy, insists on her taking the medicine, which always makes her feel worse, she grows desperate. Alison's friend, Dr. Colin Ladbroke, leaving her flat one night, finds Betsy unconscious on the threshold. Revived, Betsy explains Penelope helped her escape. She is half starved.

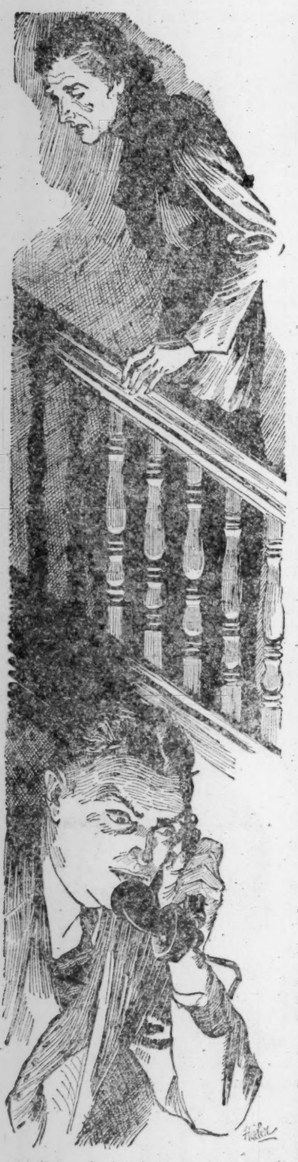
INSTALMENT XXVI.

A HASTY EXIT.

Evelyn Scarpath roamed from attic to basement, twisting her red hands, too shattered to realize that since her morning cup of tea she had not thought of nourishment. In every front room she gravitated to the window and hung out, watching without the smallest hope for her brother's return. She did not even know where Geoffrey had gone. Eventually he would come—and she would have to tell him that Elizabeth had flown. Elizabeth, only just out of danger, too weak to rouse properly—or so one had supposed.

Flown where? Evie thought it could scarcely matter, seeing that in that silly little nightgown she must at once have caught a fatal chill. In addition she had seemed nearly blind and out of her head.

Parsons had mumbled something about the likelihood of her having been picked up dying and unconscious and taken to a hospital, but this, apparently, hadn't happened. She had vanished utterly, just as though the frozen pavement had opened up and swallowed her, red toenails and all.



As Evie slunk aloft she heard—"Dr. Broderick, get him here quick."

She, Evie, would be blamed. Goeffrey might even kill her in his rage, but she was almost past caring.

On top of all, the cablegram. Instantly assuming it meant news of Elizabeth—so long since she'd seen the foreign kind!—she had torn it open, only to grasp her mistake. More trouble—plus the unpardonable sin of reading Geoffrey's messages.

She gasped like a fish suddenly yanked to land, and clutched the flaking column beside her. Geoffrey! Turning in at the gate. She began to whimper and shake.

"O," she mouthed, "I couldn't have helped it! So quiet, not a sound! Last night, I was asleep . . ."

Half hoping he would strike her—as, strictly speaking, he had not done since he was about 12—she cast herself, sodden with weeping, on his breast. Thus it was she felt him stiffen to stone. The following moment he had thrown her off, and retaining a steel clutch on her shoulder thrust her into the hall. No light—but she knew he had gone ashen.

"She's gone?" he breathed sternly. "It's not true, damn you! Quick—what the devil are you telling me?"

"Since last night. O, I know it's incredible! Just as she was, down the stairs, out this door, and—O, Geoffrey, that's all!"

He stood absolutely motionless—a shadowy blur. Only—and this bewildered her—she heard his pent breath exhale in a long, explosive sigh. It came to her as it often did how little she understood Geoffrey. Expecting to be driven by a hurricane she found him petrified, blank, and mysteriously relieved!

"Well," he said, "go on. When did you say this happened?"

She could see him now, still pale, every separate crisp hair seeming to bristle above features set in the dangerous composure she recognized.

". . . No idea till this morning. The bed was empty. Simply gone . . ."

Miserably Evie babbled that she had not dreamed of turning the key, never faintly conceiving . . . and where could Elizabeth go, nearly naked, late at night? As Parsons had said . . . .

"What have you and he done about it?" He jerked round.

"Nothing, except ring the police and all the hospitals. That was right, wasn't it? Do you think she's gone mad?"

He seemed not to hear. With the stillness that showed how concentratedly his brain was working he brought his gaze to bear on the fluttering cablegram forgotten in her hand.

"What's this?" he demanded, and seized it. She began a new chatter of excuses, but they, too, were not noticed. He was absorbing the two lines of printed words, running his glance to the heading, then back to the name at the end. He was like stone no longer—more like a taut, coiled spring. Still staring he smiled, so faintly the watching woman guessed it only from the deepened shadow along his cheek. He strode to the telephone, recalled her presence, and ordered her upstairs.

Tears streaming, Evie slunk aloft, clinging to the rail. So unexpected! Geoffrey couldn't be pleased this had happened? No, not that, but somehow ready to cope with it, how she could not imagine. From his first reception of the news she had supposed him as helpless as herself—and even more horridly stunned. As she crept along she caught the terse words, "Doctor Broderick . . . Dining? Well, get him here—quick!"

Geoffrey appeared to be making a lengthy business of his calls, but at last he came up, and seemed to be throwing things about in his room. Presently, just as she was wondering if she dared steal down to get herself a boiled egg and tea, he summoned her. Stepping timorously inside his door she gasped. Confusion—clothes cupboard stripped, books and music piled helter-skelter with suits, shirts, pajamas.

He was whistling under his breath. He finished hauling from under the bed the largest of his suitcases, straightened, and eyed her unseeingly.

"How would you like," he said, "to go down to Hampshire? Any one who'd take you in?"

Hampshire! Her lashless eyes glowed as she stammered that, of course, she'd like nothing better. Kind Mrs. Todd-Bryce had always offered to have her at any time.

"Well, make it now. I'll send a wire and you can get off in the morning—till I want you again."

What about Elizabeth? The question trembled on her lips, but what she faltered was, "And Parsons—the house?"

"They won't run away," he returned grimly. "Now help me pack."

Alison, at this moment, was opening the flat door on a scene very different from the usual homecoming one. Beige curtains closed, a bright fire, and what a wonderful aroma of roast chicken coming from the kitchen!

The room seemed filled with flowers. Surely she hadn't bought so many? She identified the gold and rust chrysanthemums hastily chosen that morning, alongside the tangerines and grapes heaped in the black Wedgwood bowl, but what about the blush roses massed in the white jar? These roses were Colin's, obviously his tribute to beauty in distress. Very nice of him, too, but the wage earner all of a sudden felt wretchedly fagged.

Wearily she dragged off her coat. She was just preparing herself for a light tap on the bathroom door when to her astonishment out came Elizabeth! Lost in a blue quilted dressing gown—looking very young, very shy, and despite a tremulous don't hit me expression, miraculously revived. She came forward and put hesitating arms around her hostess.

"Alison! I meant to be letting you in. Give me those, please! I'll hang them up for you."

"You? Not a chance! Here, why aren't you in bed?"

The melting process was at work again. Alison kissed the cool little cheek, touched the neat dark hair with a protective hand. Poor Elizabeth—and to grudge her a few roses!

"Your doctor friend said I could sit up just for a little. I'm much better, really! Quite marvelous, isn't it? He's coming back, you know. O, and this!" Elizabeth looked contritely down at the dressing gown. "Do you awfully mind? That nurse made me. You see, I've nothing. Not even," —she giggled—"a comb."

"Silly! Get yourself straight into this chair. I see it's all ready for you. Put your feet on this cushion. Now let me look. . . . . You are better, I can see it."

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: Silence Reigns

Diva Deplores Too Lavish Use of Perfumery

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

As far as sparkling personality, smart appearance, and other excellent qualities are concerned, the American girl deserves a much higher rating than her European sister, but when it comes to the art of using perfume, she is in very great danger of flunking. Mme. Elizabeth Rethberg, world famous singer, believes that our local ladies' low mark in this course is due to the fact that they have not learned the first lesson: "A little goes a long way."

Any woman, declares the prima donna, who has her dressing table looking like a miniature cocktail bar with ample ingredients for the most complicated thirst quencher, should take a firm grip on herself, bestow a large majority of her precious bottles on her friends, and ask to be led past the perfume counters with her eyes closed.

"Some women," says Mme. Rethberg, "have not yet achieved the finesse that is necessary in the use of perfume. They splash it on lavishly, seeming to think 'the more the merrier' and not realizing that such a conglomeration of scents produces a very disagreeable effect. Every woman should find two perfumes, one for morning, one for evening, that are expressive of her personality and, when she wearies of them after a time, it is easy enough to find two more that are equally expressive. In fact, it's an excellent idea to change your perfume."

Trumbull, Mrs. Thomas Tyler, Mrs. English Walling, Miss Jane Weary, Miss Dorothy Wilder, and Miss Margaret Wilder.

The Blackstone hotel always is crowded with pre-fashion show luncheon parties, for it is only a few steps from there to the Stevens. Among those who have made reservations are Mrs. T. Albert Potter, Mrs. Arthur Cutten, Mrs. Frederick L. McNally, Mrs. David B. Gann, and Mrs. Augustus W. Eddy, who will be entertaining for Miss Elizabeth Arden, who has come from New York for the show. Mme. Lily Daché has come from New York to see the show, too.

Nearly every one having luncheon at the Woman's Athletic club, following the first of a lecture series by Clifton Utley, will go on to the St. Luke's show. Mr. Utley is to speak at 11:30 o'clock. He will be heard again at the same hour on Nov. 1 and 15.

Holiday Party for Two Debutantes.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Newton Perry and Mr. and Mrs. John Adams Chapman will give a dinner-dance at the Casino on Thursday, Dec. 29, for their debutante daughters, Sally Perry and Carolyn Chapman. Miss Perry's brother, "Young Newt," and his swing band from Yale will furnish the music.

The Laurance H. Armours and the A. Watson Armours have planned a dinner-dance for the evening of Dec. 2 for Miss Perry and Miss Margaret Hutchins. The party will be at the Racquet club.

The Halloween dinner-dance at the Saddle and Cycle club will be enlivened by a group of debutantes and their beaux, for Fielding Marshall is entertaining that night for his niece, Miss Jane Allen. Miss Allen is the C. Durand Allens' bud.

Every other Tuesday night for ten weeks beginning tonight a group of members of the Saddle and Cycle will meet for dancing lessons at the club. Dinner will be served before the class starts.

Among those who have made dinner reservations for tonight are Louis C. Sudler, who has become president of the club, succeeding the late Robert Stevenson; Thomas I. Underwood, who is filling Mr. Sudler's former office of vice president; the Merrill Shepards, the Herbert S. Stones, Mrs. Ruth Meeker, Mitchell Follansbee Jr., William T. Welch, and Robert A. Doyle.

Frank Gunther Will Wed Eastern Girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Hazen of Easton, Md., formerly of Rye, N. Y., announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Wright, to Frank Berkshire Gunther of Evanston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Gunther of Evanston and Owensboro, Ky. The wedding will take place in December in Evanston.

The secretary of the Chicago Farmington society, Mrs. Robert B. Upham Jr. [Louise Forgan], left on her wedding trip leaving the organization's files locked. So only the treasurer's list was available when the society issued invitations to a meeting and luncheon on Thursday at Mrs. Harold C. Smith's in Lake Forest. And as is so often the case, the treasurer's list was not nearly as complete as the secretary's, so very few replies have been received.

However, all the graduates of Miss Porter's school are invited to the meeting and luncheon—but they must telephone Mrs. Smith's home at 611 Woodland road, to leave word they will be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Knott [Constance Burtenshaw] are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, their first child, last Friday in Passavant hospital. The baby has been given two of Mr. Knott's family names: Alexander Waller. The infant's paternal grandfather is Henry Adams Knott, who celebrated his 87th birthday yesterday in Tryon, N. Y. His maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William H. Burtenshaw of Tryon. Mrs. Burtenshaw is in Chicago.

Melvin McIntoshs Married Fifty Years.

Although Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Clark McIntosh are celebrating their fiftieth wedding anniversary today, the reception their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. White, are giving for the occasion will not take place until Sunday at 4 o'clock at the Whites' apartment, 1260 Astor street.

Mrs. William Allen of Momence, who was a bridesmaid at the McIntosh-Nate wedding is coming to the reception. Also present will be Edwin B. Johnson of Morgan Park, who was Mr. McIntosh's best man.

Duncan Phillip, director of the Phillip Memorial gallery in Washington, D. C., is arriving in Chicago today. At 2:30 o'clock he will give a Scammon lecture at the Art institute on "The Expression of Personality Through Design." This evening he will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel C. Rich at a banquet at the Palmer house for L. Mies van der Rohe, the new head of the department of architecture at the Armour Institute of Technology.

Friends Entertain for Miss Flitcraft.

Friends are giving parties for Miss Mary Elizabeth Flitcraft, daughter of Mrs. Roland Bruce Flitcraft of Oak Park, and Carl Eugene Nyquist, son of the Carl Nyquists of River Forest, who are to be married on Saturday. Mrs. John M. Lee Jr. gave a closet shower yesterday, Mr. Nyquist is giving his bachelor dinner, and Miss Flitcraft is giving a spinster dinner tonight.

Mrs. Chester Flitcraft is giving a luncheon and miscellaneous shower today for her niece; Robert Heck is giving a cocktail party and vice shower tomorrow. Mrs. Nyquist is giving a dinner Thursday night and Mrs. Flitcraft is giving the bridal dinner Friday night.

The wedding is to take place at 3:30 o'clock in the parish house of St. Edmond's church in Oak Park, with only the families present. A reception will follow at 4:30 o'clock at the Union League club. Mrs. Lawrence Archer will be her sister's only attendant. Kerth Loomis of New York will be the best man.

The Modified Dirndl Mode

DIRNDL IN JUNIOR SIZES.

One of the smartest couturieres in Paris is sponsoring the tiny waistline as one of her major contributions to the fashion season. She combines, with the slim waist, the accented bustline and full skirt for contrast. In short, this is a modified dirndl mode, the virtue of the dirndl being resurrected for the creation of a new style. We're offering you our version of this new trend in the pattern today, a frock styled for junior size figures, not for any specific age. If you wear size 11 to 19, this becoming dress is ace high for you. And it's dressy enough to double for informal social occasions after a strenuous day of office or club activity.

There are at least two ways in which you can style it, both versions being sketched. One gives the front a V neckline with a contrasting collar and a little clip at the base. No other trimming is used, and the frock is made of satin, silk, or sheer woolen. The other design has a jumper effect achieved with a yoke, the neckline of which is high. It contrasts a plain or figured silk. Around the waist is a soft sash.

Style No. 2135 is designed for size 11, 13, 15, 17, and 19 years. Size 15 requires 4⅝ yards of 39 inch material, with ⅝ yard of 35 inch contrasting for the long-sleeved version.

Art Galleries Have Variety of Good Shows

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

A delightful group of American paintings by such men as Frederick Waugh, Frieseke, Ernest Lawson, and Elmer W. Schofield [painters whom one knows to be the backbone of contemporary American painting] has been placed on view in the Findlay galleries, 424 South Michigan avenue.

Also in the gallery is an exhibit of recent portraits on metal by Buell Mullen, a unique and effective show.

Two new exhibitions this month are sponsored by the All-Illinois Society of the Fine Arts. At the Drake hotel, in the West Mezzanine gallery, are flower paintings and landscapes by Berenice Newman, a lovely show, rich in decorative canvases.

Mrs. Newman has succeeded in presenting flowers in innumerable charming aspects, and in giving us a gorgeous succession of differing blossoms. Petunias, roses, dahlias, fresia, and phlox are only a few of the varieties that fill her painted garden. Her show is charming.

At the Stevens hotel, in the Third Floor Corridor gallery, are recent paintings from Alaska by Dale Nichols. Here we feel the touch of the practised artist making straight for an intelligible and clearly-seen goal.

Mr. Nichols follows certain precise and definite rules in his painting. His work is sure, balanced and sincere. If it is a little stiff, a trifle formal, that is a fault which in these days of sketchy conceptions we are only too willing to forgive. A haunting dignity and majesty of color and drawing pervades these Alaskan landscapes, mysterious in their dark greens and blues.

The Chicago Artists Group has opened an exhibit of lithographs and etchings by members in their gallery, 645 North Michigan avenue. The exhibit will run to October 31.

In the Ackermann galleries, 408 South Michigan avenue, there is an attractive exhibit of hunting and shooting prints—American Sporting Pictures—with enormous capitals, a good show.

Jewish Big Sisters.

The Jewish Big Sisters will hold the opening luncheon meeting of the season this noon at the Standard club.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

The current fashion for very fair, very smooth complexions certainly adds to the white woman's burden. Even the most careful of us will have to double our efforts to achieve the lily-white and satin-smooth skin.

And the first nip of frost in the air should remind you that the beauty program for skin inclined to be dry begins and ends with lubrication, with a judicious bit of bleaching tossed in. You just can't overdo on the oiling and if the bleaching is slow, safe, and sane, you'll find you can't overdo on that either. Skin must be as fair as it's smooth.

You can kill both these birds with one cream if you wish. One of the most useful preparations to be found is a rich lubricant that oils the skin wonderfully. It's a heavy cream, the color of strawberry ice, that lends itself well to massage of face and neck. It's not a cleanser; it's an emollient, to be used at night or during the day when you can steal a short time for a good creaming. But it's an emollient with bleaching properties. Used at night on dry, crinkly skin, it has an immediate softening effect that you'll notice next morning. The bleaching action is not so pronounced—and this is just as it should be. The strong bleach does a great deal of harm to sensitive skin. Used faithfully, this lubricating and bleaching cream will whiten the skin by almost imperceptible degrees. And because it is a most efficient softener, it will smooth it at the same time.

The dry skin season is getting well under way. Prevention of your usual winter complexion ailment of crinkles that grow into wrinkles should be your watchward from now on. You'll find this cream a help.

Canned Royal Anne cherries make a good dessert or breakfast fruit by themselves, but they probably are at their best when combined with other fruits in some kind of salad.

Twenty-four hour salad was popular a number of years ago, but has been almost forgotten amid the flood of other new and different frozen salad recipes. But the fact that it keeps well for several days in the refrigerator, without any injury to flavor, is excuse enough for bringing this salad again into the light.

Twenty-Four Hour Salad.
[Serves eight.]

2 egg yolks
¼ cup cream
¼ cup sugar
½ cup lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups diced pineapple
1½ cups seeded Royal Anne cherries
½ cup seedless or seeded and halved grapes
½ cup chopped blanched almonds
½ pound marshmallows, cut in fourths

Combine first five ingredients and cook in the top of a double boiler, stirring constantly, until thickened. Remove from heat, beat until smooth, cool, and chill. Add fruit, nuts, and marshmallows to the dressing. Mix well and chill in the refrigerator for twenty-four hours before using. Serve on lettuce or other greens, with mayonnaise or whipped cream dressing.

THREE FRUITS SALAD.

On each individual salad plate arrange a group of three small lettuce cups. In one cup place sliced banana, in another diced pineapple, and in the third seeded Royal Anne cherries. Sprinkle whole pecans over all the fruits and add to each cup a dab of mayonnaise and whipped cream dressing.

Frozen Fruit Salad.
[Serves six.]

1 orange
2 slices pineapple
¾ cup Royal Anne cherries, seeded
1 banana
2 canned pear halves
¼ cup blanched, chopped almonds
¼ cup chopped maraschino cherries
½ cup boiled salad dressing
½ cup cream, whipped

Remove rind and skin from orange and cut in small pieces. Chop other fruits or cut them fine and add nuts. Add mayonnaise and fold in whipped cream. Freeze in refrigerator tray without stirring.

A little more piquancy of flavor may be added to this frozen salad if a cake of cream cheese is included with the ingredients. Mix the cheese with a little cream until soft, and blend it with the mayonnaise. The recipe is one from our booklet, "Freeze the Salad," which contains thirty-one other recipes for refrigerator made salads, and may prove a boon if holiday meals and party menus are going to be puzzling. The booklet sells for 5 cents by mail. Address requests to Mary Meade, CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

An appeteasing first course gets the company dinner off to a good start. For smart and tasty hors d'œuvres, canapes, and nonalcoholic cocktails see Mary Meade's "Taste Teasing Appetizers," on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower. Price 3 cents; by postpaid mail 5 cents. Address mail requests to Mary Meade.

Episcopalians Meet Nov. 7 to Consider New Property Setup

Bishop George Craig Stewart of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago has announced a call for a special convention of the diocese at St. Luke's procathedral, Evanston, on Nov. 7 to consider a revision of the corporate structure of the diocese.

At present the bishop of the Chicago diocese is corporation sole, or an incorporated holding agent of diocesan properties by act of the Illinois legislature. Cardinal Mundelein is the corporation sole of the Catholic archdiocese of Chicago, the only similar church official in Illinois. A committee of business men under the leadership of George A. Ranney has been studying the corporate setup for the last year and is now advocating the establishment of a new corporation headed by the bishop, but including a group of clergymen and laymen to supplant the corporation sole.

Today is the actual start of the Second Annual Self-Rating Bridge Examination. The answers to the questions posed below will appear in this column next Tuesday. Hence, you can easily "rate yourself" by keeping a memo of your answers, comparing with the official answers and, if you are wrong, deducting the number of demerit points that will be found next to each answer. Remember, you start with 1,000 points. Every time you make an error deduct the stipulated points from your current total. Also remember that, if you prefer, you may send your answers to me for rating, putting each week's batch into one envelope that must be posted before 5 p. m. on each Sunday. When the exam is over I will send certificates of merit, signed by myself, to all examinees who have attained the rank of master, expert, or advanced player. This service will be entirely free of charge.

Tomorrow I will state the basis upon which final grades will be determined.

1 diamond	Pass	1 spade	Pass
2 hearts	Pass	4 hearts	Pass
4 no trump	Pass	5 no trump	Pass
7 hearts	Pass	Pass	Double
7 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

East doubled the seven heart bid as a lead directing effort. He felt that only a spade opening and a ruff by himself would defeat the contract. South shrewdly guessed East's intention and, since every suit was well controled, went to seven no trump.

West opened a low spade and East showed out. Declarer won with the ten. He then cashed the spade ace, after which he led the king, queen, and jack of hearts, overtaking the third named with dummy's ace. West's following suit located him with seven spades and three hearts. Now, to get a final count on West's hand, declarer cashed the club king and his own ace. When West followed to these, the situation was clear: He could have no more than one diamond. This knowledge guided declarer to the winning line of play. He led a low diamond to the ace, then returned the ten spot. East, holding jack-nine, covered, and declarer's queen won. The seven of hearts then was overtaken in dummy, and the deuce of diamonds was led through the 9-7, up to declarer's Q-8 for the fulfilling tricks.

Advantages to Having Baby Eat by Himself

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Shall the baby eat alone? Mothers ask me this question but I cannot give a "blanket" answer. There are pros and cons to this as to many other subjects connected with children. Also, there are always individual aspects to be considered.

Let's cover it as thoroughly as we can in one day's column.

There are certain advantages in having a baby eat all his meals by himself. These are the possibility of planning the proper time for his meals and not having the routine thrown out by unavoidable changes; less distraction by the sociability of a family in learning the difficult art of feeding himself; less temptation for the grownups to give him "nibbles" of their food and therefore make him dissatisfied with his own; less nervous fatigue caused by the excitement of eating with the family; less attention, either of approval or disapproval, centered on him and his first efforts at achieving independence in eating.

Some mothers let their child eat by himself until he has mastered the rudiments of this learning and then permit him to come to the table. Others let him have one meal, say breakfast, with the family and the rest by himself until he has achieved complete mastery. Others, perforce, have not the time for this, and the baby has all his meals with the family.

If your baby does eat with the family see:

That he is comfortably seated with a rest for his feet so they do not dangle and impede circulation.

That he eats at the table as early as possible, rather than from the tray of his high chair, and that his place is set with a liquid proof cover and his own china and his own food.

That he is given no morsels of the grownups' food so that he becomes dissatisfied with his own.

That he is given his food as he is ready for it and is excused when he is finished. Little children cannot sit still long.

That food is not the topic of the table conversation and that food dislikes of any kind are not discussed. Children are highly "suggestible" in this respect. This is more a behavior problem of adults than of children.

That he is not, either consciously or unconsciously, excluded from the conversation. If he is, he will feel "left out" and will revenge himself by getting attention, and his talents in this respect are almost unlimited! See that he is given some attention, though all the conversation should not revolve around him.

The Housewife

If you have an old linoleum floor in the kitchen or bathroom and are not yet ready to go to the expense of putting in a new one, why not brighten the old by painting it? There is a good quick drying enamel that will completely cover linoleum—even one that has a gaudily colored design. The finish is tough, resists wear and washing, and is easy to keep clean. Your floor will look like new after you've painted it.

Of course it can be used on furniture, too—on kitchen chairs and tables. And you can apply it to automobiles, fenders, wheels, doors, etc. It dries in four hours and has a highly glossy, smooth surface. Full directions are given with each can of this paint.

EMPIRE ROOM

Opera Patrons Are Treated to a Tense 'Tosca'

BY EDWARD BARRY.

"Tosca" is given far less frequently than "La Boheme" and "Madame Butterfly," the other two operas of Puccini's famous three. Therefore its production at the Auditorium theater last night by the San Carlo Opera company promised to add an extra fillip to Chicago's already active fall music season.

The promise was fulfilled. The intensely dramatic work was performed in a manner calculated to do justice to those theatrical qualities in which it is so rich. The cast managed to make real for the audience the passion and hatred and other similarly violent emotions which boil so ceaselessly throughout the opera.

The music enters so importantly into the drama of "Tosca" that it is impossible to consider it as a separate item. The clanging, explosive, aspiring orchestra and stage forces, alert to the huge opportunities for expressiveness that their parts of the score provide, were combined into a performance which allowed very little chance for calm dozing on the part of the audience.

Bianca Saroya, in the rôle of the handsome young Roman songstress whose love for the painter Mario ended in murder and suicide, turned in a powerful and well sustained performance. Her "Vissi d'Arte" all but stopped the show.

So did Dimitri Onofrei's "E Lucevan le Stelle" one act later. The work of both principals was characterized by deep sincerity and by a tenseness which infected the audience again and again during the performance.

This enthusiasm burst forth unexpectedly when Mario Valle, in the rôle of the villainous police chief to whom the lovers' woes are all due, writhed competently over half the stage after Tosca had stabbed him. It was not clear at this point whether the applause was directed to Saroya [for her singing or for her success in dispatching the villain] or to Valle [for his realistic death scene].

Natale Cervi, a careful artist, who can always be depended on to turn a minor part into a major one, enacted the rôle of the sacristan in such a way that the audience fell completely in love with the character.

The first concert of the Chicago Artists' association's season will be given in Curtiss hall, Fine Arts building, tonight. The artists will be Israel Baker, violinist; Eva Gordon Horadesky, contralto, and Mary Curry Lutz, soprano.

Reserve Officers Plan Reception for Gen. Ford

A military reception and ball in honor of Maj. Gen Stanley H. Ford, new commandant of the Sixth Corps area, will be held on Nov. 12 in the grand ballroom of the Hotel La Salle. Leigh H. Hunt, president of the Cook county chapter of the Reserve Officers association, announced plans for the ball yesterday. Col. Edward N. Wentworth is general chairman. Gen. Ford, successor to Maj. Gen. High A. Drum, will arrive about Nov. 1.

WEDDINGS

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Wetzel of 1127 Dearborn parkway announce the marriage on Aug. 6 of their daughter, Barbara, to Ralph Ulen Richards. Mr. Richards and his bride are at home at 40 East Oak street.

The wedding of Miss Pauline J. Bensinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert N. Bensinger of 804 West Lakeside place, to Saul C. Weislow, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Weislow of Glencoe, took place on Oct. 6 at the Edgewater Beach hotel. After Oct. 30 Mr. Weislow and his bride will be at home in Glencoe.

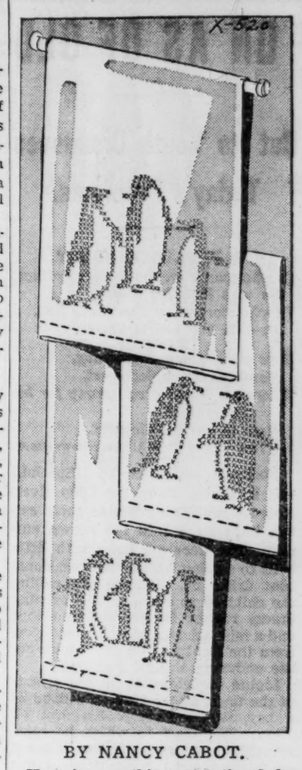
Penguins Afford an Exceptional Embroidery Motif



BY NANCY CABOT.

Here is something exceptional for the cross-stitch fans who like the penguin motif. Standing majestically on a white linen towel, these peaceful fellows exude an air of tranquility. This hot iron transfer pattern may be used for wall pictures, pillows, as a border for a child's crib, as well as for the utilitarian towel.

For a hot iron transfer pattern of the penguins, No. X-520, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

BOYHOOD TOWN OF LINCOLN GOES ON AS OF OLD

But Its Youth Discusses Today's Problems.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Ye who search for the Hidden Springs,
Ye who look for a sign,
Ye who worship at Freedom's feet,
Here is her holiest shrine.

Here grew a new democracy,
Here was the eaglet's nest,
Where his wings grew strong for his after flight—
Here in our middle west.
—From "Lincoln," by Albion Fellows Bacon.

Rockport, Ind., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—It is sunset along the Ohio river. Negroes are dozing beside their catfish lines flung into the brown current. The lines are hung with little bells to awaken them. An occasional boat drifts by. Women are calling the children to supper. The evening breeze rustles in the old tree tops and a mist arises against the red glow from the Kentucky shore. These are the enduring things.

Lights are gleaming in the streets of the town where Lincoln walked as a boy, where he saw his first oil lamp. The town to which he came from the home of his father, 17 miles away, to borrow books from Judge John Pitcher. The town from which he set forth on his flat boat trip to New Orleans to see the world of trade and slavery.

The Changeable Things.

Tonight the radio is blaring from the corner drug store about Europe and Washington. They actually heard Hitler's voice in these streets recently. Automobiles and airplanes are commonplace. These are the changeable things.

In searching for the forces that are moving American youth today along lines that forecast the future of this republic we must first learn of environment. No one can know the hidden springs of individual inheritance, but environment must be credited with at least a 50 per cent influence in the formation of character.

The middle west rural environment today carries on from the Lincoln tradition. The spirit of this farm boy, who lived here from 1816 to 1830, from his 7th to his 22d year, is an unconscious participant in the present outlook of youth, new pioneers in an economic wilderness.

Writer Tells Lincoln's Way.

Mrs. Bess V. Ehrmann of this town, who has spent many years in research and writing about Lincoln's formative years, puts it this way:

"Amid the confusion of the present, we are able to keep peace in our souls, to learn the lessons of the years and know that he who shall come to the best in life must give to the world his best, as did Abraham Lincoln.

"We learn from him to meet bravely whatever comes (it was here that Lincoln worked in the cornfields for 10 cents a day, then read books by firelight in the evening); to stand alone unafraid, for God has sent each person to serve his plan; so we must do the right as we see it and be ourselves."

The view of Lincoln which is important is that he did not come like a star out of heaven to shine above a backwoods people, but that he was made largely by his life here, among a plain, candid, straightforward people; that he acquired from this life toughness, tenacity, idealism, and moral quality of character; that he rose above poverty and lack of education. Until now, at least, this has been the essential meaning of America to all youth. Are they beginning to soften and to doubt it? Let us look around.

Youth Troubled by Changes.

Mrs. Ehrmann has a son, Carlos, 29 years old, who works for a rubber company in Hot Springs, Ark. She describes him as a conservative young man, well versed in economics and history, but troubled about conditions today. Her daughter, at the University of Indiana, had trouble about the old time religion. Evolution and other theories disturbed her and it seemed, she wrote, as if all her beliefs and faith from early life had been uprooted.

This touches probably the most vital problem of youth, or their elders, too, for that matter. For no human personality can develop its powers without faith in a greater power. As Spencer showed in "First Principles," both science and religion meet in the unknown. It is the technique of religion to bring this unknown into the human plane. Old cosmologies must go, but not this.

The winds of doubt were abroad in this land even in Lincoln's time. Out of New Harmony, a few miles away, a liberal and nonsectarian religion was putting forth its wings. The old struggles on, for it has too much truth in it to die, but here is the front line of the future, for teachers and colleges and homes.

Down the street in a handy restaurant is a girl waitress who is a descendant of a neighbor of the Lincolns.

"A Remarkable Young Man."

"The neighbors didn't think much of Lincoln," she said.

"No more than of that young man behind the counter," it is suggested.

"That is a remarkable young man," she says.

This young man is William Wetzel, whose father runs the restaurant.

At odd times while working at the counter, as Lincoln worked once in the stores of this neighborhood, young Wetzel discusses life and its problems.

He is an amateur radio fan, who talks by code with other young men in England and other parts of the world, something Lincoln never dreamed of. He did not go to college, he says, because he had seen so many go and come back with little to do. He figures they are not as well off as he is. His brother went to college in Evansville and is now working winters only, on a citrus farm in Florida.

"I guess I'll stay in business here," he says. "And no war for me. History shows a nation never gains anything by war. They will have an awful time dragging me off to Europe. I wouldn't fight unless we were picked on first.

Doubts Advantage of Luxuries.

"There are many things in the world I don't like. I am a Democrat, but I vote for the man, not the party. Life is getting so complicated we can't live with it. We think we are better off than the pioneers but I think, although they had less, they were happier. If we had fewer cars and other luxuries we would be better off."

Youth is not ordinarily very articulate. A young man of this town who is recommended as able to express himself is Paul Mason. Paul is a dark haired pleasant faced young lawyer who was graduated from the University of Indiana. He came back here to his father's office seven years ago to take up the burdens of business. Then his father died and he was left with the whole burden.

"I can't sleep nights for the troubles of my clients," he says. "Some of these are tax cases. Some companies have to pay out three-quarters of their incomes in taxes, so they are just piddling along, making less in order to pay less. These new labor laws are about the worst things that ever happened to this country. I know a company that has been forced to take back laborers that tried to hurt and sabotage their business. If the government would let business alone it would be all right."

Here was a young man in a small Indiana town, not allied with great wealth, yet talking astonishingly like a Wall street broker.

Avoids Political Action.

"I am a Republican," he continued. "I recently declined to make a speech at the Kiwanis club on the constitution for fear that it might offend some of my friends. [He does not take to political action but attends to his law business.]

"I don't know what I can do about things except gripe. The speech I might have made would run something like this. This is a government founded on law and the balance of power. Our troubles are due to the President reaching out from his own executive power to control first the judiciary and then, through this purge, the legislative. If he succeeds we will be just like Germany. Not on the way but there. There would be nothing to oppose him. The WPA is a presidential machine. Their local bosses tell them how to vote if they want to keep their jobs. This runs down to local elections.

"The war situation is history repeating itself. If England and France get drawn in we are likely to get in too. I would sit tight no matter what happens."

The political situation here may reflect that of the country. The Republicans who have been at odds are getting together and the Democrats who have been together are splitting into factions, the older ones going off and holding meetings by themselves.

Girl Lawyer Gives Views.

Youth is supposed to be radical, so we turn to another young person, a girl who works in this law office as a clerk, but who, in the fifteen years that she has been out of high school, has studied law and been admitted to the bar. She is Margaret Smith, a descendant of Allen Gentry, the young neighbor with whom Lincoln made his flatboat trip down the Ohio and the Mississippi.

"I am satisfied," she says, "that things are going in the right direction. I feel that the President is trying to help the underdog and in doing so has incurred the enmity of the money power. They are the ones who are doing most of the griping. [She admits that young Paul Mason does not represent any money power.] I do not believe that WPA is merely a political football."

She is a Methodist and a Democrat, who believes in putting her religion into social action, and that this is what the New Deal means.

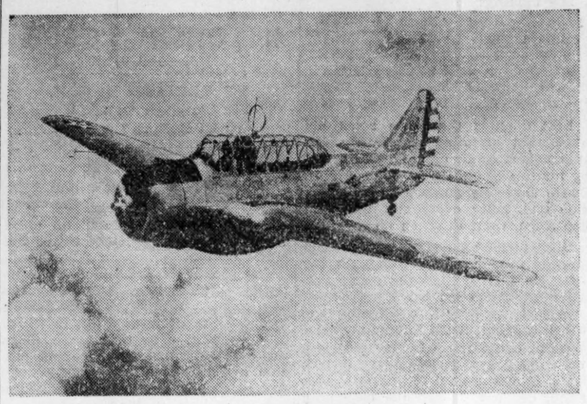
Chicago Guardsmen Get New Plane



Type O-47 airplane, 13 of which are to be given to the 108th Observation squadron, Illinois National Guard, by the air corps. The first arrived at Chicago airport yesterday.

Carries Crew of Three

Maj. Bernard T. Castor, regular army instructor to the 108th Observation squadon, Illinois National Guard, yesterday arrived at Chicago airport with the first of thirteen new airplanes that are to be issued to the squadron by the air corps. He flew to Chicago from Denver after making a flight on Sunday from the North American Aviation plant at Inglewood, Cal., to Denver.

The new airplanes are designated type 0-47. They are specially designed for observation work and carry a crew of three—pilot, observer, and gunner. The ships cruise at approximately 200 miles an hour, have retractile landing gear, flaps, constant speed propellers and are powered with 1,000 horse power Cyclone motors. The squadron will not be completely equipped with these new machines until next summer, when the new air base and hangar now under construction at the field are completed.

SCHOOLS TO PIT 10 CENT DANCES AGAINST CRIME

Board Approves Friday Night Hops.

The board of education yesterday authorized Friday night dancing parties in twelve high schools. They will begin this week. School trustees said they hope the plan is an answer to the problem of juvenile delinquency. Mayor Kelly, other city officials, and civic leaders have given their approval.

J. B. McCahey.

The schools are: Fenger, Hyde Park, Lindblom, Du Sable, Kelly, Waller, Senn, Crane, Wells, Lane, Steinmetz, and Medill. The dances will be held in the gymnasiums from 8:30 p. m. until midnight. Admission will be 10 cents for each individual.

"These evenings should show the pupils just what constitutes a good time," said James B. McCahey, president of the board. "Young people will learn what fun there is in meeting friends in a wholesome atmosphere."

Lessons for Wall Flowers.

Dancing classes starting at 7 p. m. will be held before each party. Those who want to graduate from the ranks of the wall flowers may learn simple steps such as the waltz and fox trot. Other pupils, it was announced, will find teachers eager to help them swing it with the Lambeth Walk, Big Apple, Shag, Rhumba, etc. The cost of instruction is covered in the admission fee.

School officials emphasized their intention of keeping order. Only high school students will be admitted. Three teachers will be at each school, one as manager and two as chaperons.

Students to Keep Order.

Pupils will be on guard in the corridors to maintain order and attendants will be assigned to the washrooms. Commissioner Allman has agreed to supply police wherever needed.

Miss Ernstine L. Badt, teacher of dancing in Chicago public and private schools for seventeen years, is supervising the venture. Music will be supplied by the Chicago Federation of Musicians, of which James C. Petrillo is president. His union is cooperating with the board to help pay the union orchestras until the school groups can support them.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD

Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or show poorly—your stomach pours out too much fluid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over.

Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called Bell-ans for Indigestion to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in 5 minutes and put you back on your feet. Relief is so quick it is amazing and one 25c package proves it. Ask for Bell-ans for Indigestion.

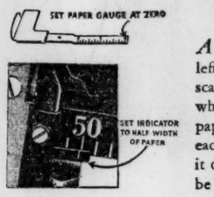
Question: What's the "short cut" for centering headings on a page?



Answer: Set paper gauge at zero, so left hand edge of sheet is at zero on the scale. Set printing indicator on the mark which represents one half the width of paper. Then press back spacer once for each two letters of heading as you spell it out. Now type out heading and it will be centered.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

by HOMER NEISZ

Wheat and Rye High

Oct. 17, 1938.

FIELDS are green with good stands of fall sown wheat and rye at the DuPage county farm, although the crops were seeded late on land from which corn had been cut and put in silos. There are 12 acres of wheat and 23 acres of rye.

These small grain crops are worked into the farm's planting program as a sort of crop insurance. Sown in the fall, they virtually assure a certain amount of grain the next season, regardless of weather conditions at planting time in the spring. With 35 acres of seeding already taken care of, the farm can expect some grain next year even though a bad spring might interfere with sowing oats and planting corn.

Two Uses Possible.

In case of favorable weather at planting time next spring, part of the rye likely will be plowed under for fertilizer and the land planted in corn. If the weather is bad the rye will be left to mature and harvested for grain.

Plans for spring planting depend largely upon the weather. The farm manager has found that he never can tell in advance how much corn or oats he will be able to plant.

Fall sown wheat and rye also help out in getting stands of clover, alfalfa, and timothy. Men at the farm have observed that they are much more likely to get a strong stand of these meadow crops when the seeds are sown in late winter or early spring in wheat or rye than where they are put in with oats in April or May. There usually is little trouble in getting grass and legume seeds to sprout when sown with oats, but the stands often thin out or die completely during the following winter. This seldom happens when the seedings are put in with wheat or rye.

Early Seeding Helps.

Apparently oats make just as good a nurse crop for the grass and legume seedings as the fall sown grains. The advantage of using wheat or rye instead of oats as a nurse crop is that the grasses and legumes may be seeded earlier, giving them a chance to establish strong root growth before winter.

Even well established meadows sometimes are winter killed. Most of the alfalfa froze out during the winter of 1936-'37. When this occurs, new meadows must be started as quickly as possible to take the place of those that are lost. By sowing some wheat or rye each fall, it is always possible to seed alfalfa before the oats are planted in case new seedings seem necessary to replace meadows that have come through the winter in poor condition. The farm manager says that usually it is possible to tell whether or not established stands of alfalfa have been ruined by the time the ground begins to thaw in late winter.

ILLINOIS CHANGES BACK FIELD FOR N. U. GAME

HAWKS MAKING GREAT GLIDES TOWARD TITLE

They Will Be Hotter When It's Colder.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 17.—Blame it on the heat wave, which is even hotter in Champaign than in Chicago or other outposts of the National Hocky league, but the Chicago Blackhawks hereby are picked to repeat as hocky champions of the world.

Paul Thompson.

This daring forecast is made from the champs' fall training camp here. Right now it doesn't seem that there'll ever be any icicles or snow flakes again, but there is plenty of artificial ice under foot on the University of Illinois rink, and this incongruous touch of winter, combined with midsummer temperatures outdoors, has enabled the Hawks to make great glides and strides toward another championship.

They Insist on Hard Work.

The Hawk management long has been almost fanatic in the matter of conditioning. Unfortunately, perhaps, it has been necessary to bore the athletes to tears with Indian club swinging, shimmy machines, and stationary bicycles. This year the lads are sweating it off while skating, thanks to the summer blasts that daily have been setting all-time records for the weather bureau.

The Hawks, as you probably have read, have been bearing down without the urgings of their manager, Bill Stewart, who has been ill in New England and will not join the team until Friday, just in time to see his lads in their first game, an intraclub exhibition Saturday night.

Optimism over the Hawks, therefore, does not appear at this early date because of listenings to managerial hopes and whistlings in the rain barrel. It comes from the players, who appear to be delighted with the revised personnel and the training progress to date.

Paul Drives the Boys.

Paul Thompson, coach in charge of the drills and all other training activities in the absence of Manager Stewart, has been a real slave driver—and Paul one of the stubbornest of the old dumbbell rebels, too. Hocky players don't like to be told to go through vigorous didoes by a gent who doesn't even own a pair of skates, but with a fellow like Paul it has been different. The Hawk veteran has been cracking the whip at his own hip pads just as sharply as he has been aiming the lash at his fellow players, which seems to have made everything fine and dandy.

Thompson has not presumed to anticipate any personnel or lineup assignments in the absence of Stewart. There is no need of his doing much in this direction.

Two Lines Are Set.

Two lines virtually are set. One of these is composed of Thompson, leading point maker of the United States division last year; Doc Romnes, sound of limb once more after a very unhappy spell of aches and pains last year and Mush March, hardened by six months as a pro golfer, who is skating as he skated ten years ago when he entered the league.

The other line is one which recently cost Owner Frederic McLaughlin a pretty penny. It is composed of Baldy Northcott, Russ Blinco, and Earl Robinson. The trio was a little below its own high standard last season because of the general doldrums, which culminated with the disbanding of the Montreal Maroons. Now they are all pepped up to the Stanley cup morale that inspired them three years ago, when Northcott and Robinson were the high scorers for the world champions of 1934-'35.

Johnny's Job Is Safe.

The third line virtually is two-thirds set. Johnny Gottselig, who topped all Stanley cup contestants last spring, with five goals and three assists, is sure of a regular assignment. Cully Dahlstrom, winner of the most valuable rookie cup last season, will work with the veteran Johnny. It appears that Joffre Delefs, 23 year old right winger who came to the Hawks in a swap involving Louis Trudell, has the call in the spirited competition for the third spot in the Gottselig line. Rogers Jenkins, Harold Jackson, rookies; Ab Demarco and Phil Besler are conceding nothing to Desilets, however.

There will be no change in the defense array. It is certain that Earl Seibert and Art Wiebe will play side by side on defense. Alex Levinsky and Bill Mackenzie will do for the other pairing.

Goalie Mike Karakas, who was able to play the last two games of the Stanley series with a broken toe encased in a steel casing, has the hottest job in camp. Fancy practicing these summer days clad in thirty pounds of nonporous upholstery.

Then snuggled up and whispered in my ear,
"I'd give my right arm for another stein."

We started home and he began to hunt

RAZZLE DAZZLES ARE GREAT STUFF WHEN THEY WORK

Strong Opponents Wreck Best Laid Plans.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

You may have heard the story about the football coach who shouted to the substitutes on the bench as he watched his varsity try repeated razzle dazzle plays: "One more lateral and we'll be back in our end zone for a safety."

This caustic criticism just about expresses the collective opinion of Western conference football coaches on the dipsy doodle, tricky down field lateral passes. These plays are great stuff on paper and they work against inferior opponents, teams that could be beaten with almost any attack, even if all plays started from a kick formation. But in a hard fought game between evenly matched teams the penalty for failure of sudden, unexpected laterals is too severe. Even when this wide open attack is included in the team's répertoire, it rarely is used.

Buckeyes Were Ballyhooed.

Long before this season opened Ohio State, so Columbus newspapers reported, intended to razzle dazzle the Big Ten. The Buckeyes have done more than their bit to popularize this attack, but Ohio State has discovered that razzle dazzle plays in themselves cannot take the place of hard effective blocking. Moreover, when a team becomes lateral pass minded, players who should be charging ahead of the runner to block, hang back shouting for a lateral.

This criticism does not apply equally to planned lateral-forward passes, or vice versa, for in such maneuvers, carefully worked out, each player has an assignment. Illinois has been successful frequently with this form of designed attack, the so-called flicker flea, and the like, but Bob Zuppke would prefer to use these plays, if possible, after Illinois has established its straight running attack.

Pitt Stays on Ground.

Then there are coaches who wouldn't give a lead quarter for the forward pass. Jock Sutherland's Pittsburgh eleven has done right well in recent seasons and while Pitt can pass, we don't recall it using the pass to any extent until the penalty for interception would not affect the final result. Pitt whipped Ohio State in 1936, 6 to 0, without passing, but rolled up more than 300 yards from scrimmage.

Pitt and Fordham have played three consecutive scoreless ties, not only because of fierce defensive line play, but because each refused to open up.

Speed probably is the most important factor in football. Speed in the charge of the line, and speed in the back field are foundations for the power of Pittsburgh. Speed is the principal stock in trade of Notre Dame's Ben Sheridan. Speed of pass receivers gave Southern California its winning touchdown over Ohio State.

Illinois' handicap Saturday, and its handicap this week against Northwestern is lack of speed. Minnesota's power can be shackled because the Gopher backs lack speed. The same is true of Ohio State.

They're All Fast.

Michigan, Northwestern, Wisconsin, and Purdue—the upper bracket of conference teams judged on speed—always will be dangerous in any game for that reason. Of course, other factors must be included to balance speed, else John Davenport, Chicago's conference sprint champion, would be the greatest player in the Big Ten. Chicago's problem, now solved several times, is to get Davenport into the open.

While the razzle dazzle hasn't materialized, most teams have broken established quarter back routine. The first down forward pass is so common that it's expected. Michigan brought back the delayed plunge through center from punt formation Saturday and worked the play, with Norm Purucker carrying the ball. Michigan's most effective play, however, was the off-tackle drive with a cut back over the center of the defense.

Jack Meyer, Michigan's quarter back, has been praised for the Pro Football Popular? Let Fans Answer

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

Three record crowds in eight days, following an announcement that attendance already was up 10 per cent, indicate that professional football, whose growth started with the debut of Red Grange in 1925, will set an all time high for the second consecutive year.

A throng of 23,000 at Green Bay a week ago Sunday for the Detroit game and 37,500 at Washington for the New York contest, plus the record crowd of 42,850 at Detroit Sunday, brought to 189,151 the number of fans who have seen the last eight National league games.

This outpouring of spectators is a tribute to the type of football played and the individual and collective talents of the stars under contract to the ten member clubs.

This Was a Thriller.

Few more spectacular games will be played this year than the one in which the Bears defeated the Cardinals, 34 to 28, in Wrigley field Sunday. From a technical standpoint, the game left much to be desired, but as a spectacle and crowd pleaser it reached the heights. Nine touchdowns and twenty-seven completed passes kept the 21,614 fans in an uproar throughout.

Competitively the game indicated that what had been said of the Cardinals was true. Their play in the early part of the game and throughout the last half established them as possessed of the ability and man power to be an important factor in the championship race.

Not a Pass to Be Seen.

The Cardinals' best feat of the day was the fifty-eight yard march to their first touchdown in the first period. In this advance they moved from their own 42 yard line to the goal in nine plays without the use of a pass. Defeat can be laid to their insistence that they be given another play after the first half gun and their collapse after the Bears had tied the score on a long pass in the first period. The extra play resulted in Dick Bassi's sixty-five yard run for a touchdown with a fumble.

But the turning point came late in the fourth quarter when the Cardinals had advanced to a first down on the Bears' 14 yard line with the score 34 to 28. In this situation a pass directly over the center was called by the Cardinal quarter back, who lacked either the sound judgment or the courage to run against a Bear defense already bocked against the wall. Ray Nolting intercepted the pass and the last Cardinal hope faded.

'Twas a Moral Victory.

Statistics of the game, as finally audited by the official scorers, were

GALENTO GETS MIXED-UP; HE IS ONE WEEK OFF

New York, Oct. 17. — [Special.] — Just as the Union City Rams and a Philadelphia professional team were ready to line up for their exhibition game in Union City, N. J., yesterday a bulky figure blotted out one of the entrances.

"Hey, buddy, I'm Tony Galento. Take me inside quick, wilya, I'm supposed to kick off the first ball here today."

It took a bit of diplomacy to explain that Tony was a week ahead of himself—that he was scheduled to kick off for an American Legion benefit game between Fort Jay and Fort Hancock next Sunday.

"I'll be back next week," said Tony.

IN THE WAKE OF THE NEWS BOOK

Joe Archibald Beats Belloise in Title Bout

New York, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Joey Archibald of Providence, R. I., beat Mike Belloise of New York and won the featherweight championship of the world as far as New York state is concerned in the St. Nicholas arena, tonight. Archibald weighed 124¾, Belloise, 125¼ for the 15 round bout.

The 6,000 fans who jammed the ancient arena saw one of the best fights between little men New York has had in years. Archibald, less polished than Belloise, took command in the second, held it until the seventh, lost it to Belloise's superior boxing ability for three rounds, and then surged back in the last two to gain the unanimous decision of the judges.

Archibald Launches Attack.

After feeling Belloise out for a round, Archibald aimed a two fisted attack at his slender opponent's midsection. He took four straight rounds before Belloise set him back on his heels with a series of darting left hooks.

For a while foxy Belloise had the fight in hand. He peppered the winner with lefts and rights, rushed him to the ropes and almost closed Archibald's left eye.

The eleventh was the turning point. Belloise caught Archibald with his Sunday punch twice, but each time Joey shook it off and waded in for more. Toward the end he had Belloise moving away before terrific lefts to the body.

Makes Strong Finish.

Archibald brought the crowd to its feet in the last two. He forced Belloise across the ring, hitting him with short vicious chops to the body. Four times in the two rounds the pair tumbled through the ropes. It was Archibald, bleeding from a cut in his forehead and with his left eye almost closed who was coming on at the finish.

Archibald now is featherweight champion as far as the New York state athletic commission goes. The National Boxing association wants him to fight the winner of the Leo Rodak-Freddie Miller bout before it considers him champion.

American A. A. U. Basket Team Beats Brazil, 58-19

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The United States Amateur Athletic union basketball team defeated a Brazilian team, 58 to 19, tonight. The American squad includes Bill Wheatley, San Francisco; Hal Kiesel, Washington; Vernon Russell, New Orleans; B. J. De Witt, Dallas; Royal Jensen, Salt Lake City; Dick Kreuger, Oklahoma City; Paul Eischen, Chicago, and Don Kristofek, Aurora, Neb.

TONY MAZEIKA, BOB WEHRLI GO TO FIRST TEAM

Brewer's Knee Put in Cast.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Beginning preparations for Saturday's Northwestern game, Coach Bob Zuppke shook up the Illinois back field today.

Bob Wehrli, who made the best showing of the Illinois backs against Notre Dame, was placed at left half back on the first team, with Tony Mazeika, who was so effective against Northwestern in the Illinois victory last year, at right.

Zuppke was prepared for the announcement that Mel Brewer, disabled quarter back, would be unable to play against Northwestern and possibly would not be available until the Ohio State game Nov. 12. Brewer's knee was placed in a cast today. Phil Pezzoli remained at quarter back.

Herb Young, sophomore wing man, who has seen no action, appeared at right end, with Bob O'Neil resting. George Bernhardt, left guard, who was held out of the Notre Dame game, is expected to be back this week. John Kanosky, who shared full back duties with George Rettinger, appeared in the second team and will relieve the regular.

The Illini morale seemed to be unshaken and there was confidence that they will give a good account of themselves against Northwestern.

N. U. SEEKS MORE SPEED.

Coach Lynn Waldorf, who rarely fails to estimate accurately the strength of an opponent, predicted yesterday that "Northwestern is in for a busy time against Illinois Saturday," and he produced statistics to prove his contention.

He pointed out that Indiana and Northwestern both made 16 first downs to 6 against Ohio State, but that Indiana was held to a minus nine yards from scrimmage by the Illini. He also pointed out that like Indiana the Wildcats meet Illinois the week following the Ohio State game.

Scores Are Compared.

Waldorf also drew on the comparative scores formula to show that the Illini are a much improved team over last year. Last year Illinois lost to Indiana, 13 to 7, and then came back to beat the Hoosiers, 12 to 2, this year. And lest it be forgotten, the Illini whipped the Purple, 6 to 0, in 1937.

As for this year's Wildcat team, Waldorf found several items on the plus side of the ledger and some on the minus side. He was pleased with the fine play of both the first and second string lines and with the line backing turned in by Nick Conteas and Dick Richards, quarter backs, and John Haman, center. The latter played the entire game.

Ryan Works Effectively.

Jack Ryan, who played 56 out of 60 minutes and carried the ball 25 times for a total gain of 75 yards, revealed that he will be a suitable successor to Don Heap at the left half back position. In addition to his ball carrying, Ryan completed two of Northwestern's five passes besides turning in a sparkling defensive game.

Biggest problem confronting the Wildcats is developing team speed. Against the Buckeyes, the ball carriers frequently broke loose but were unable to outrun the secondary defense. Every effort will be made this week to speed up the offense in general.

After viewing moving pictures of the Ohio State game, the Wildcats went through a light workout yesterday which consisted principally of offensive drills.

BERGNER LOST TO NAVY FOR PRINCETON GAME

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 17.—(AP)—Navy, toppled from the ranks of undefeated football teams by Yale last Saturday, faced more bad news today.

Al Bergner of Kankakee, Ill., star tackle injured two days before the Yale game, will not be able to play against Princeton in Baltimore Saturday, Coach H. J. Hardwick said. Bergner's knee still is in a cast and he may be out two weeks or more, Hardwick said.

FAVORITES HAVE UNLUCKY DAY AT SPORTSMAN PARK

Abdicator Checks Rout in Feature Race.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The crying rooms of little Sportsman's Park were filled to bursting with favorite players for the first four races of yesterday's program. The boys and girls who follow form wept and gnashed their teeth as one after another of their choices failed to win.

Came the Gary purse, feature of the day at a mile and a sixteenth. They wavered between Abdicator, Dr. Edmund F. Bennett's 4 year old gelding, and Morris Griner, finally establishing the former a 3 to 1 favorite at post time. Jocky Pete McLean, who had been doing right well for himself at Hawthorne, but had failed to excite his public in the first week at Sportsman's, took Abdicator to the rail shortly after the start, and kept him there to the finish.

Abdicator Pays $8.20.

The Abdicator followers were awarded with $8.20 in the mutuels. Agotaras, a winner his last time out, made a game bid to catch Abdicator, but had to fight for second with Grand Day, taking the place money in a photo finish.

The favorites in the first two races made a better effort than most of their fellows during the opening week, when one popular choice after another ran out of the money. But that effort yesterday was not enough to bring them home in front, for a long shot and a second choice accounted for the daily double, which paid $224.40.

The finish of the first race was a thriller in which half the field was battling for the money at the wire. The camera gave the decision to Red Magic, a 22 to 1 chance ridden by Jocky Page. The winner came up on the outside to nip Jere, co-favorite in the betting with Gladys Glad.

Busse Trumpet Wins.

Busse Trumpet, the brown gelding from the Hurn stable, completed the double after going to the post as second choice to Tracker and Blakeen, each of which went to the post at 3 to 1. Jocky Castille kept Busse Trumpet in contention up to the stretch, where they took command and went on to win by four lengths from the long shot Impunity.

The third race saw the daughter of one of the turf's greatest, Equipoise, win like a champion. She is Caddiecay, owned by the Lexbrook stables. Second in the wagering, she went to the front and never was headed. Jocky Bodiou brought her down a length and a half in front of Chief's Boy, which conquered the 3 to 2 favorite Peggy Byrd in the battle for second money. Caddiecay paid $7.20.

Symphon became the fourth consecutive favorite of the day to fail when he trailed Ozark home by three lengths after having set the pace to a point where it appeared he might be the first of the public choices to score.

Hold Trials for Hunters and Hounds in Connecticut

Greenwich, Conn., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—A representative field took part in the Fairfield and Westchester hounds and hunter trials here. Several falls occurred at the fences, but no horse or rider was seriously hurt. Marguerita Noble was thrown violently when her horse, Hallie S., stumbled as he landed after clearing a rail fence.

'Twas a Tough Job, but Londos Finally Wins Again

Jim Londos resorted to his famed airplane spin to throw Hans Schnabel of Germany in twenty-five minutes of wrestling last night in White City. Nearly 3,500 fans paid $2,400 to see the match. Ignacio Martinez, Spanish heavyweight, won a thirty minute decision over Friedrich Von Schacht. Jack Conley threw Jack Brown in 8:48, and Al Williams and Rudy Kay drew in 30 minutes.

Sigma Chi Team Wins N.U. Fraternity Pajama Race

Sigma Chi's four man team, clad in resplendent night attire, won Northwestern university's annual fraternity pajama race last night. Bill De Correvont, freshman football star, was anchor man for the winners, who sped along Noyes street, from Sherman avenue to Sheridan road, a distance of two blocks. The Delta Tau Delta cup was the prize.

REVENGE SPURS NOTRE DAME IN CARNEGIE DRILL

B Team Members Move Up to Varsity.

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Spurred by reports of scouts that Carnegie Tech is the best team they have looked over this season, Notre Dame today turned attention to the battle with the Tartans here Saturday. Notre Dame is doubly anxious to beat Carnegie for the Scots defeated them last year, 9 to 7.

In Carnegie's victory over Holy Cross Saturday, 7 to 6, the line played brilliantly. Carnegie backs are reported to run faster and harder than those of Kansas, Georgia Tech, and Illinois, whom the Irish defeated in their first three starts.

Coach Elmer Layden dismissed the first two teams today, but gave the rest of his charges a brisk drill on fundamentals. Several of those who starred in the Notre Dame B team victory over Illinois' B squad Saturday, 33 to 0, were advanced to the varsity.

Full Back Joe Thesing, who suffered a broken nose against Kansas, rejoined the team today, and started his comeback effort. Mario Tonelli, Ed Simonich, Milt Piepul, and Hal Gottsacker are ranked in that order at full back, while Thesing was No. 2 when he was hurt.

Chuck Riffle, right guard, who suffered a break of the fibula in his left leg just before the season opened, had the cast removed from his leg today and will begin light workouts tomorrow.

WOLVERINES ARE WELCOMED.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—With its spirits buoyed by the warmest welcome in recent years when it returned from Minneapolis yesterday, Michigan's football squad had a light one hour workout this afternoon. Two thousand enthusiastic students greeted the defeated team yesterday at the train, and transported it to the campus on a hay rack.

Michigan's two casualties Saturday were both on the field today. Fred Trosko, who stayed in a Minneapolis hospital Saturday night for observation, reported in top shape and ready to go against Yale this week, while Tackle Joe Savilla attended practice, although his injured instep may keep him out of this week's game.

YALE TAKES REST.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Facing its first game with a western eleven in recent years, Yale will take a two-day letdown before scrimmaging in preparation for Michigan, which lost a one point decision to Minnesota last Saturday.

Coach Ducky Pond said today that more tryouts for several positions will take place before the lineup is settled. The ends, center, and a tackle position are undecided. Only Bill Starbuck, the 197 pound reserve center whose emergency work last Saturday was brilliant, was injured in the Navy game, but Trainer Freddy Driscoll said Starbuck would be available by midweek.

BADGERS SHIFT BACKS.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Wisconsin's back field was reorganized today in preparation for the game at Purdue Saturday. Bill Schmitz, regular left half back, may be unable to play because of an injury suffered in the Pittsburgh battle.

Roy Bellin was shifted from right to left half back, a position he played throughout the 1936 season. Either Vince Cibik, a senior, or Claude York, a sophomore, is likely to take Bellin's old position, although Coach Harry Stuhldreher also tried out two reserve full backs, Karl Schuelke and George Paskvan, at right half back. Bellin's understudy at left half will be Tony Gradisnik, who was injured in the Iowa game and did not play against Pitt.

Vince Gavre and Howie Weiss will remain at quarter back and full back, respectively.

Outside of Schmitz, the Badgers came through the Pittsburgh game in good shape. Center Jack Murray, who was injured on the opening kickoff, is certain to be ready for the Purdue game.

As a reward for his fine play against Pitt, Bellin tonight was named acting captain for Saturday.

PURDUE REGULARS REST.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Weary and worn from two successive games on the road against Minnesota and Fordham, the bulk of Purdue's traveling squad was granted a rest today as the coaches started making plans for the homecoming game with Wisconsin Saturday. The reserves were given a lengthy workout.

At the half way mark in their season's schedule, the Boilermakers will face four successive Big Ten foes in the final drive. Scout reports indicate that Wisconsin made a much stronger showing against Pittsburgh than the score indicated.

Although most jubilant over the team play that made possible the second half against Fordham, Coach Mal Elward was pleased with the development of Dave Rankin, sophomore left end, the continued all around play of Joe Mihal at tackle, and the hard running of Lou Brock and Jack Brown in the final touchdown drive.

Clinton Frank Injured in Touch Football Game

Clinton Frank, 22 years old, football captain at Yale last year, was slightly hurt Sunday while playing touch football on Skokie playfield in Winnetka. He was treated in the Evanston hospital for a displaced cartilage in his left knee.

Manhattan, Wisla Soccer Teams Play Tomorrow

The Manhattan Brewers, holders of the Peel Cup, will meet the Wisla of the International league tomorrow night in Mills stadium in the first of a series of soccer games to be played under the lights.

Maroons Work on Supplement to Air Attack

Deeply concerned about the performance of his sophomore line, Coach Clark Shaughnessy intimated yesterday that preparation for Saturday's game with Ohio State in Columbus will center on improving the play of the forwards, particularly the tackles.

It becomes increasingly clear that Chicago's best offensive weapon is the forward pass. Against Iowa the Maroons threw thirty-two passes and completed thirteen, an average of 40 per cent, including two touchdown passes. But on only three plays did the Chicago running attack show very much. No passing attack can function well against a team like Ohio State unless the ground game is potent enough to draw in the secondary defenders, the coaches feel.

Remy Meyer and John Davenport apparently have won starting berths in the back field, displacing Solly Sherman and Mort Goodstein as regulars. The new Maroon back field will have Meyer at quarter back, Davenport at left half, Lew Hamity at right half, and Ed Valorz at full back. Carl Nohl, sophomore full back, who recently became eligible, may get his chance against the Buckeyes, however.

Only Maroon injury was to John Stearns, sophomore reserve tackle, and it is uncertain how long Stearns will be out.

OHIO REGULARS REST.

Columbus, O., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—All Ohio State regulars were excused from today's practice. It was the first day of rest the Buckeyes have had since the opening of the Big Ten football practice season on Sept. 10. When the regulars return to practice tomorrow preparations will be started for the game with Chicago here next Saturday.

The contest with the Maroons will give Coach Francis Schmidt a chance to look over untried sophomores such as Ray Elliott, fast 175 pound right half back, Jerry Grundies and Harry Bolser, tackles, and Frank Clair, an end.

Practically all Buckeyes who played against Northwestern last Saturday felt effects of the hard battle. Vic Marino is suffering from an ankle injury. The chunky guard also bruised his right knee against the Wildcats, but probably will be ready to resume his duties by Saturday. Other casualties were Charlie Gales, with a cut nose, and Bill Nosker, with a cut eyelid.

INDIANA AIMS TO IMPROVE.

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—A scrimmage to improve blocking and timing of plays was held at Indiana today as the Hoosiers began preparations for their homecoming game Saturday against Kansas State.

With motion pictures of the Indiana-Nebraska game showing that the Hoosiers missed many assignments, both on the offense and defense, Coach Bo McMillin devoted attention to correcting these weaknesses.

Joe Tifil and Cobb Lewis, sophomore backs, and Frank Patrick, veteran end, will be kept out of the homecoming game with injuries. Russell Sloss, center; John Janzaruk, end, and Bill Smith, guard who have been handicapped by injuries, continued to show improvement and are expected to play Saturday.

OFFENSE FOR KANSAS STATE.

Manhattan, Kas., Oct. 17.—(AP)—The Kansas State Wildcats, a bit battered but with no serious injuries from the Marquette game Friday, set to work today preparing their offense for Indiana. Jim Brock, blocking back, has a charley horse, but is expected to be ready for the Hoosiers.

HARVARD WORKS ON PASSES; PLAYS DARTMOUTH NEXT

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 17.—(AP)—Harvard's full squad was on hand today to begin preparations for Dartmouth. Austie Harding, who hurt a shoulder in the Army game, was excused from contact work and may not play against the Indians. The varsity worked on pass defense and offense after watching the third stringers put on Dartmouth plays.

DARTMOUTH DRILLS LIGHTLY.

Hanover, N. H., Oct. 17.—(AP)—Dartmouth's regulars, still weary from the Brown contest, worked lightly with the first and second teams' polishing pass defense and running signals. Coach Earl Blaik indicated he would stress tackling, blocking, and ball handling this week.

Do You Know Who Is Eligible to Take Passes?

[This is the eighth of a series of eleven articles. The others will appear daily.]

THE PASSING GAME.

Passes may be either spot or open. A spot pass is to one certain man at a designated place while his eligible teammates act as decoys. In the open type of pass the eligible men spread out and the passer picks the man who seems to be free.

These types of passes are now placed in two divisions—long and short. Which to choose depends upon the ability of the thrower, the ability of the receiver, the location of the scrimmage, the down, the score, and the form of defense used by the opponents. A general procedure is to pass long when the defense is close; short when it is back or there is a space between first and second defense; down the middle when it is wide; outside the flanks when the defense is narrowed.

All eleven men are eligible receivers. This bold statement is denied by some who claim that only ends and backs who are a yard behind the line of scrimmage are eligible. We admit that, in a sense, they are right, but we hasten to explain that the end men don't have to be ends, or that a man a yard behind the line doesn't have to remain a back and that there can be interchanging at any time before the ball is put in play.

Even the passer may be eligible. Just imagine we are on the opponent's 10 yard line; fourth down, nine yards to go, and a pass is in order. Suppose, furthermore, our passer is tall and rangy. What is to prevent him from throwing the ball high in the air and then have time to be behind the goal line to join those waiting for it to land. If he should grab it he would be credited with a touchdown.

Let us proceed with methods of getting out for passes. Assuming that the pass is played in orthodox fashion, we will send out the two men on the ends and two of the backs, the other two we will hold back—one to pass, the other to protect. If we are using linemen to protect, we are sending out five men.

Good acting by eligible receivers, such as feinting, faking, blocking, reversing, etc., gives a chance to draw in or throw off the defense in order to initiate the pass. When receivers break into the open they depend on speed, change of direction, or change of pace.

Razzle Dazzle Football O. K. on Weak Foes

eighty-nine yard touchdown march of the Wolverines against Minnesota. Meyer deserves the praise, but if the Gophers had lost, 6 to 0, Minnesota could point to one play which was the decisive maneuver of the drive.

They Scorned Three Points.

This play, a fourth down forward pass on Minnesota's 21 yard line, with nine yards needed for a first down, was the turning point. It was the first play of the fourth period and Dan Smick, who caught Tom Harmon's pass, had just been substituted for Valek, at end. Many thought Smick would attempt to place kick. But Michigan didn't line up for a placement. Thus, the play—a run or pass—was indicated clearly with the odds on the pass because of distance needed.

Smick's reception put the ball on Minnesota's 7 yard line. When Michigan made this play work, it must have reminded Minnesota of Nebraska's two fourth down passes last year [both when nine yards or more were needed] that whipped the Gophers.

GIVES BILLIARD EXHIBITION.

Charles C. Peterson, trick shot billiardist, will give an exhibition at the Reynolds club of the University of Chicago this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

De Paul, Loyola Book Basketball Double-Headers

The schedule for the college basketball double-headers to be played in the 132d Infantry armory, Madison and Rockwell streets, this winter, with Loyola and De Paul the home teams on each card, was announced yesterday by Judge John A. Sbarbaro, president of the Central Intercollegiate Basketball association.

Basketball teams from ten universities of the east, south, and west will play Loyola and De Paul in five double-headers. The schedule follows:

MONDAY, DEC. 19—Loyola vs. North Dakota, De Paul vs. University of Iowa.
MONDAY, DEC. 26—De Paul vs. Penn State, Loyola vs. Southern Methodist.
MONDAY, JAN. 2—Loyola vs. Michigan State, De Paul vs. Santa Clara.
MONDAY, JAN. 9—Loyola vs. Villanova, De Paul vs. Duquesne.
FRIDAY, FEB. 3—De Paul vs. Butler, Loyola vs. City College of New York.

Discussing the schedule, Arthur Morse, secretary of the basketball association, recalled that Villanova was the only team in the country to beat Temple last year. C. C. N. Y. is coached by Nat Holman, former star of the professional New York Celtics. North Dakota beat a strong De Paul team last season.

Judge Sbarbaro and Morse said the double-headers were limited to five this season because many of the country's leading teams were booked solid for the year before they received permission from Loyola and De Paul athletic authorities to schedule games.

Iowa Starts Practice for Colgate Game

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—The University of Iowa football team, winner of its first conference game since 1935 last Saturday when it defeated Chicago, today went into its first practice for the game against Colgate here next Saturday with new vigor.

Coach Irl Tubbs was cheered by the fact his team showed improved tackling against the Maroons, but was far from satisfied with the Hawkeyes' blocking. Coach Tubbs indicated that this phase of the game would come in for heavy practice this week.

Pass defense also will get a thorough working over during the week. The Iowa coach concentrated on this department in today's practice, with Ed McLain and Ray Murphy, the starters at the halves against Chicago, getting the major portion of his attention.

Colgate is expected to employ an aerial attack against the Hawkeyes, and Coach Tubbs said he wanted no repetition of the two touchdown passes thrown by Chicago last week.

COLGATE STARS IDLE.

Hamilton, N. Y., Oct. 17.—(AP)—Hal Lube, who has completed nineteen out of thirty-one passes for Colgate, and Quarter Back Bob Johnson were on the sidelines with bruises as the Red Raiders began preparations today for Saturday's game with Iowa in Iowa City. Trey Coley was at quarter and Johnny Long and Wallie Davids alternated at left half in place of Lube.

OFF DAY FOR GOPHERS.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—It was an off day for the Minnesota squad, aside from a look at motion pictures and a chalk talk review of the Michigan game of Saturday. The Gophers have an open date next Saturday.

There was joy on the campus, too, since it developed that Wilbur Moore, right half back, was not as severely injured as feared. He suffered a sprained ankle in the 7 to 6 victory over the Wolverines, but today he was up again, limping, but ready if necessary.

Harold Van Every, injured left half back who led the Gophers to their victory, also showed no ill effects of Saturday's play. Both Moore and Van Every are certain to be ready for Northwestern in Evanston a week from Saturday.

NILES, HAWKEYE SOPHOMORE, IS LEADING SCORER

Jerry Niles, Iowa sophomore full back, is the individual scoring leader in the Big Ten conference with 16 points. Four of the points came on kicks after touchdowns and supplied the margin of his lead over four others who have scored two touchdowns apiece. They are Ray Murphy, also of Iowa; Paul Kromer of Michigan, Bill Schmitz of Wisconsin, and John Davenport of Chicago.

Annual Trials for Hunting Dogs Open Saturday

BY BOB BECKER.

Chicagoland's outstanding hunting dog event, of especial interest to all duck and pheasant hunters, will be held Saturday and Sunday three miles north of Barrington. It is the Midwest Field Trial club's fourth annual field trial for retriever breeds and springer spaniels.

F. Fletcher Garlock, president of the organization, yesterday said the entry list includes Labradors, Chesapeake Bay retrievers and goldens from kennels as far east as New York. Among eastern kennels represented will be those owned by A. W. Harriman, Jay Carlisle Jr., and Anthony Bliss, well known Chesapeake Bay retriever fancier.

The trial starts Saturday morning and ends Sunday evening. The springer spaniel stake on the program for Saturday will draw the best trained springers in the middle west, including a number of imported dogs which have been pointed for this event.

Sportsmen who want to see some of the best trained retrievers and the spaniels working on live game will find the following points of interest:

1. All events will be held on the grounds of the Biltmore Country club, three miles north of Barrington.

2. The public is invited. There are hills around the marsh where the dogs will be worked so a natural amphitheater is provided for spectators.

3. Events start about 9 o'clock both on Saturday and Sunday mornings.

4. Dogs will be tested on pheasants and ducks. The shooting by official guns is in itself well worth watching.

5. Dogs will be tested on land as well as in the water.

BLUENOSE AND THEBAUD ARE STOPPED AGAIN

Gloucester, Mass., Oct. 17.—(AP)—Absence of a breeze again forced postponement of the third race for the international fishermen's trophy tonight between Capt. Angus Walters' Bluenose and Capt. Ben Pine's Thebaud.

Eight days have been devoted to two races and Capt. Charles M. Lyons, chairman of the race committee, after scanning a vacant sky, ruled the next race would be sailed Wednesday.

The respite was used to advantage by both vessels. Capt. Walters replaced a bowsprit which had developed a weakness. Thebaud was hauled out on a marine railway to have her keel inspected. While towing out of the harbor yesterday she struck hard on a submerged boulder, but after she was taken out of the water damage was found to be slight.

Her last coat of paint, however, was discovered to be hanging from her in ribbons and her hard working crew immediately accepted the task of rubbing her down with pieces of burlap to make her as slippery as possible in the water.

Budge Dickers with Manager of Pro Tour

Donald Budge of California, world's No. 1 tennis player, contends his services for a professional exhibition tour are worth at least $100,000. This was revealed yesterday when Budge refused an offer from Jack Harris of Chicago guaranteeing the star $75,000 with the option of a percentage of the gate receipts.

Harris, who managed the tour of Fred Perry and Ellsworth Vines last winter, made the announcement following a long distance telephone conversation with Budge in California. Harris said he had delayed negotiations for Budge's services until after the close of the amateur tennis season last Saturday.

Plan Tour with Vines.

When Budge agrees to terms, as Harris expects him to, he probably will be paired for a tour with Vines, who won a majority of his matches with Perry last winter.

Harris' statement follows:

"Questioned as to what he considered a worthwhile offer, Budge replied, 'At least $100,000.'

"Budge's request for a guarantee of $100,000 is beyond reason, despite the fact that he may be the greatest attraction in the history of professional tennis.

Tells of Offer.

"I have made him the best offer, more money than ever has been made by any one in his first year in the professional ranks, $75,000, with the option of a liberal percentage. If Budge is the attraction he thinks [and I believe] he will be, he may earn that $100,000."

CIOLEK LOST TO MICHIGAN STATE ELEVEN FOR YEAR

East Lansing, Mich., Oct. 17.—(AP)—The football career of Eugene Ciolek, Michigan State half back, apparently was ended today because of injuries received in last Saturday's game against West Virginia university. Ciolek suffered two broken transverse processes in his back while blocking an opponent and is now in a plaster cast. He returned to East Lansing with the team.

SPORTS WRITERS RANK PITT BEST TEAM OF NATION

Panthers Get 83 of 94 First Place Votes.

New York, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Pittsburgh, unbeaten since midseason in 1936, was ranked as the nation's first football team by eighty-three of the ninety-four sports writers voting in the Associated Press gridiron poll this week. The Panthers got 926 points on the final checkup of the nation-wide ballot.

The emphatic thumping administered Wisconsin by Pitt and Minnesota's narrow margin of victory over Michigan combined to give the Panthers a margin of 235 points over their closest rivals, the Gophers, who tallied 691 points. Six writers chose Minnesota as the top team, three picked Texas Christian, while Dartmouth and California each had a single vote for first place.

How Teams Rank.

The leaders [first place votes bracketed, points scored 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1]:

First ten:	Points.
Pittsburgh [83]	926
Minnesota [6]	691
California [1]	517
Dartmouth [1]	515
Notre Dame	500
Santa Clara	496
Texas Christian [3]	453
Tennessee	419
Duke	128
Syracuse	82

Second ten: Fordham, 77; Michigan, 48; Carnegie Tech, 45; Oklahoma, 40; Alabama, 34; Vanderbilt, 32; Baylor, 31; Northwestern, 23; North Carolina, 18; Villanova, 9.

Others mentioned: Arkansas, 7; Oregon, 6; Auburn, 5; Iowa State and Boston college, 3; Ohio State, Southern California, Louisiana State, and Stanford, 3; Tulane, Cornell, Columbia, Purdue, Idaho, and Holy Cross, 1 each.

Of the first ten only Pittsburgh [third], Minnesota [fourth], California [first], and Duke [tenth] were in the select circle a year ago when the first poll of the season was made, an indication of the rise and fall of football power in a year's time.

Some Upsets Occur.

Saturday's rash of upsets is reflected in the rankings. Cornell, supposedly Dartmouth's chief threat in the Ivy league, and Columbia, a dark horse which had gained plenty of fame by beating Yale and Army, are out of contention after rude smackings by Syracuse and Colgate.

Alabama ran into an improving Tennessee team and as a result is out of it in the south for the present.

Of the unbeaten first ten only Minnesota, Tennessee, and Duke appear to be safe this week. The Gophers don't play, while the Vols meet the Citadel and Duke plays Wake Forest.

Pittsburgh must trim Southern Methodist. Dartmouth faces dangerous Harvard. Notre Dame plays unbeaten Carnegie Tech. California meets a Washington team surely due for victory. Santa Clara engages airminded Arkansas. Texas Christian plays Marquette. Syracuse journeys to East Lansing for Michigan State.

SYNDICATE MAY GET C. & O. STOCK OF CHESAPEAKE

Expect Board to Consider Bid Today.

A syndicate headed by Kidder, Peabody & Co. is expected to offer the Chesapeake corporation a bid for the 60,490 shares of preference stock of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad which the corporation holds, the Wall Street Journal said yesterday. The Chesapeake corporation is the middle holding company in the railroad system of the late Van Sweringen brothers of Cleveland O.

Plans are under way for the dissolution of the Chesapeake corporation. The top holding company is the Alleghany corporation.

Directors May Decide Today.

Directors of the Chesapeake corporation are scheduled to meet in Cleveland today when it is expected they will make a decision as to whether they will sell the stock or distribute it among the stockholders of the Chesapeake corporation.

Preference stock of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad sold last week at $75 a share on the New York Stock exchange. If the stock is sold for cash it would net the Chesapeake corporation about $4,200,000, which eventually would go to the Alleghany corporation when Chesapeake is liquidated.

Award Davenport School Bonds.

A group headed by the Harris Trust and Savings bank yesterday was awarded $1,346,000 of Davenport, Ia., school district bonds on a bid of 100.027 for 2 per cent interest. The bonds are due 1942 to 1958.

A syndicate headed by B. J. Van Ingen & Co. was awarded $1,000,000 of Buffalo, N. Y., sewer bonds on a bid of 96.60 for 3¼ per cent coupons.

A new issue of $550,000 of sewer bonds of Manitowoc, Wis., will be offered for sale on Oct. 21. The issue is to be dated Oct. 1, 1938, and will mature serially from Oct. 1, 1939 to 1958. Bidders are to name a rate of interest not exceeding 3 per cent.

American Home Products.

Investors' Guide: I would appreciate some information about the American Home Products corporation. What dividends are being paid on the stock?—Mrs. C. R. M.

Answer: By aggressive merchandising and expansion of products handled, the American Home Products company has steadily increased its sales volume since starting business in 1926. Sales were $4,432,807 in 1926. By 1937 they had climbed to $25,711,195. During this period volume slipped in only two years, 1932 and 1933, and these declines were less than $1,000,000 a year.

Competition, however, has become increasingly keen in the company's field. Its chief products are medicines, pharmaceuticals, and dentifrices. Lower selling prices plus heavier taxes and advertising costs have reduced the ratio of earnings to sales, although profits have been shown in every year since formation. In 1937, with a sales volume nearly twice that of 1929, net income was 14 per cent less than the 1929 net income.

Sales and earnings in recent years follow:

	Sales.	Net income.	Per share.
1937	$25,711,195	$2,872,661	$3.88
1936	21,377,625	2,822,839	3.81
1935	16,301,160	1,727,793	2.57
1934	16,171,130	2,030,949	3.02
1933	15,355,740	2,644,200	3.93
1929	13,644,607	3,340,692	5.47

A large addition to the firm's line was made in 1936 by the purchase of Affiliated Products, Inc., maker of Kissproof, Outdoor Girl, Incarnat, and other lines of cosmetics. American Home's most important products include Kolynos dental cream, Petrolagar, and Bi-So-Dol. Sales promotion campaigns in recent years have been concentrated on a few of the most popular and profitable lines.

Earnings showed only a moderate decline during the first half of this year. Net income in the first six months was $1,355,097, or $1.83 a share, compared with $1,552,661, or $2.10, in the first half of 1937.

The company has no funded debt but has notes payable outstanding of $1,750,000 as a result of new subsidiaries recently acquired. Its entire capitalization consists of 741,060 shares of $1 par capital stock.

Dividends have been paid in every year since formation. These ranged from $2 a share in 1926 to $4.20 in 1930, 1931, and 1932. Regular monthly payments of 20 cents a share are now being made. This rate has been in effect since 1934. Extras of 10 cents a share in 1936 and 20 cents in 1937 were paid.

PRICES OF CORN, LARD, HOGS FALL TO 4 YEAR LOWS

Wheat, Soy Beans Also Are Weak.

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES

Closing prices on the December delivery of principal grains on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday:

	Yesterday.	Saturday.	Year ago.
Wheat	$ .64⅝	$ .65½	$ .99⅛
Corn	.44¼	.44½	.60
Oats	.25	.25	.30⅝
Rye	.42⅝	.43⅛	.73⅜
Soy beans	.68¼	.69½	.98⅜

The lowest prices in four years or more were reached yesterday in the corn, hog, and lard markets.

At the Chicago Board of Trade, corn for December delivery slid temporarily to 44 cents a bushel from 44½ cents in the preceding session. This was the lowest since May, 1934. Later it rallied ¼ cent, closing at 44¼ cents.

All deliveries of corn and soy beans sold at new low levels for the season. Outdoing the ¼ cent decline in corn futures, soy beans dropped 1 to 1¼ cents a bushel. Wheat also was weak, closing at net losses of ⅝ to ¾ of a cent. Brokers said lack of buying interest, rather than heavy selling, caused the drop in grain prices.

Lard Down 10 to 12½ Cents.

Lard futures declined 10 to 12½ cents per 100 pounds to a new low since July, 1934. Selling of lard was induced by a disappointing reduction in cold storage stocks in Chicago during the first half of this month.

In the hog market, the top grades sold at $7.60 per 100 pounds, the lowest since November, 1934. A week ago the same grades sold for $8.35. While there was a fairly good demand for hogs and pork, it was not sufficient to offset the large supplies, which in the last three months have increased 75 per cent.

Owing to the relatively low prices of pork compared with other meats, consumer demand is swinging over to it, packers report. Top light loins as well as the heaviest loins sold steady in wholesale markets at $17.50 and $14.00 per hundred pounds. Some in-between kinds were reduced as much as 50 cents.

Average Price 10 Cents Lower.

Prices for live hogs were steady to mostly 10 cents lower, spots indicating downturns of 15 cents. The average was off 10 cents at $7.40. The price range was narrowed again, with the top and average only 20 cents apart, the narrowest spread since last May.

A large part of the receipts consisted of young hogs weighing 180 to 230 pounds that were sold from $7.35 to $7.50. Prime 284 pound butchers topped at $7.60 and 40 pound sows reached $7.00.

A short-lived sitdown strike of feed and scale men affiliated with the C. I. O., delayed trading in the cattle alleys for about an hour yesterday. After the grievance had been settled trading progressed slowly. Prices were weak to mostly 25 cents lower. Some final sales were off more and a good many cattle remained unsold in the pens. Arrivals at 21,000, including 6,000 westerns, were largest for any day this year.

Load of Steers Reaches $13.50.

Only one load of steers reached the $13.50 top, equaling the 1938 peak. Most sold from $8.50 to $12.50. Beef cows and hefers sold steady to slightly lower.

Slaughter lambs slumped 25 cents, influenced by the lower prices for cattle and hogs. Natives and westerns to shippers reached $8.15.

In the Liverpool wheat market, futures closed unchanged to ⅝ cent a bushel lower. The May contract was steady as a result of unfavorable Autralian crop news.

Chicago received about 1,250,000 bushels of cash corn yesterday. Included in the arrivals were many carloads of new grain. Weather conditions have been extremely favorable for field work during the last month, and the new grain has dried out rapidly. Country elevator interests sold about 200,000 bushels for deferred shipment to Chicago. Export demand was slow, the only business confirmed being a few small lots for November-December shipment via the Gulf of Mexico.

EGG CONTRACTS SAG ON DECLINE IN CONSUMPTION

Reduced egg consumption resulting from the unusually warm weather sent egg futures ⅛ to ⅜ cent a dozen lower yesterday on the Chicago Mercantile exchange. Withdrawals of eggs from storage yesterday were lighter than a week earlier and a year ago. Cash prices were steady.

Butter contracts finished unchanged to ⅛ cent a pound higher, with the December delivery making the gains under influence of "switches" to that month by traders. The Federal Surplus Commodities corporation, government agency buying for relief distribution, took 317,960 pounds, compared with 555,785 pounds Saturday and 633,465 pounds a week earlier.

$3,640,000 CHICAGO APARTMENT PROJECT IS APPROVED BY FHA

Washington officials of the Federal Housing administration yesterday approved a proposed $3,640,000 apartment project for the southwest corner of Cottage Grove avenue and 83d street.

An FHA insured mortgage amounting to $2,440,000 was authorized. This loan has not been made, according to Dovenmuehle, Inc., which is handling the project's financing. The architects, Shaw, Naess & Murphy, however, will start at once to make working drawings, it was said.

The project, the biggest of its kind announced for Chicago in many years, will occupy a twenty acre site. It will have accommodations for 549 families in apartments and row houses. The residential units will cost a reported $3,240,000. In addition a $400,000 business development planned for the Cottage Grove-83d corner. This will not be financed with an FHA insured mortgage.

Yesterday's decision of the FHA officials requires the raising of $110,000 additional equity money. The original mortgage asked by the sponsors of the project was for $2,550,000. This was cut down to $2,440,000.

INQUIRY ORDERED ON NATURAL GAS RATES IN ILLINOIS

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 17.—(AP)—The federal power commission will investigate rates charged by the Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America and the Texorma Natural Gas company for natural gas sold chiefly in Illinois. The Illinois commerce commission announced the decision of the federal body to make the inquiry.

In asking the investigation, the state commission said the two companies supply gas which is retailed in Chicago by the Peoples Gas, Light and Coke company, and elsewhere in the state by other utilities.

More than 92 per cent of the gas sold by the Natural Gas Pipeline company is sold in Illinois, the commission said, about 90 per cent of it in the Chicago district. The commission contended the pipe line firms' rates were "unjust and unreasonable."

USE OF CHECKS DROPS 23.6% IN CHICAGO AREA

Checks written on banks in the Chicago federal reserve district in the week ended Oct. 12 showed a decline of 23.6 per cent from the preceding week. This was disclosed yesterday in the weekly report of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago which said that debits [checks written] to individual accounts of banks in the 7th reserve district totaled $910,382,000, against $1,190,998,000 in the preceding week.

As compared with the corresponding week of 1937, when the total was $1,036,476,000, there was a decline of 12.2 per cent.

Debits to individual accounts of the Chicago banks alone totaled $526,236,000 in the week ended Oct. 12, against $583,407,000 in the like 1937 week.

Prices of 2 Lincoln-Zephyr Models Cut; Raised on One

The Ford Motor company yesterday announced price reductions of $15 and $25, respectively, on the Lincoln-Zephyr four door sedan and the two door coupe-sedan. The price of the Lincoln-Zephyr coupe has been increased $25 and prices of two other cars in the line remain unchanged.

RFC Judgment Against Dawes Bank Assailed

Oral arguments were presented yesterday before the United States Circuit Court of Appeals by attorneys for 5,000 stockholders of the old Central Republic Bank and Trust company. The stockholders are seeking to have set aside a judgment of $14,000,000 awarded against them in favor of the Reconstruction Finance corporation. The judgment was awarded last year by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson. RFC attorneys also made their oral arguments yesterday.

The judgment by Judge Wilkerson was based on the Illinois law providing "double liability" for stockholders of state banks. Suit was brought by the RFC, the bank's largest creditor, which made the famous $90,000,000 loan to the "old Dawes bank" in 1932 shortly before it closed.

Transaction Is Assailed.

Franklin J. Stransky, attorney for some 1,400 small stockholders, yesterday charged that "fraud on the stockholders" has been committed in the transaction whereby $50,000,000 of the $90,000,000 loan was turned over to the City National Bank and Trust company. That bank took over deposit liabilities of the Central Republic in October, 1932.

"The $50,000,000 was used with the active coöperation of the RFC," Stransky said, "to finance the new bank, and was not for the benefit of the depositors of the old bank, which was not in failing circumstances at the time."

Another attorney for a group of stockholders, Carroll J. Lord, argued that the $50,000,000 advance was illegal because the Illinois state auditor was not consulted by the Central Republic bank and the RFC before it was made.

RFC Case Is Presented.

Stating the RFC's case, Attorneys O. John Rogge and Harold Rosenwald disputed the contention that the bank was in good condition at the time it closed its doors and its deposit liabilities were taken over by the new bank, City National.

The RFC lawyers said deposits of the Central Republic declined at the rate of $1,000,000 a day from June 1, 1932, to Oct. 6. They read data showing the bank was operating at a loss rate of $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 a year in the last few months of its existence.

Attorneys for the RFC said $7,800,000 of the $14,000,000 has been paid in by stockholders under Judge Wilkerson's decree. These payments are subject to refund in case the decision is reversed by the Appellate court.

The latest report of payments by the Central Republic to the RFC showed that as of July 31 the original $90,000,000 loan had been reduced to $43,944,000.

INSURANCE CODE UPHELD BY HIGH COURT OF ILLINOIS

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 17.—(AP)—The Illinois Supreme court today upheld the constitutionality of the insurance code. The court affirmed a decree of the Logan county Circuit court authorizing the director of insurance to liquidate the National Bankers' Insurance Company of Lincoln.

Upholding the building and loan act, the court affirmed another Logan county circuit court decree ordering State Auditor Edward J. Barrett to terminate the corporate existence of the Logan County Building and Loan association.

TREASURY'S DEFICIT FOR 3½ MONTHS TWICE SAME PERIOD YEAR AGO

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—(AP)—The treasury today reported a deficit of $908,980,284 for the first three and a half months of the fiscal year. This was more than twice the $411,560,270 shortage for the similar period of the previous year.

Expenditures in the period amounted to $2,564,735,321 and income totaled $1,655,755,037. Corresponding figures last year were expenditures $2,231,566,562 and receipts $1,820,006,292.

WPA was the principal factor in increased expenditures. This agency, whose relief rolls now are at a record total of more than 3,100,000 persons, spent $646,568,565 in the three and a half months, compared with $378,198,886 in the same months last year. The public debt has reached a new record of $38,429,193,207.

COURT BACKS FTC INTERPRETATION OF PATMAN ACT

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—(AP)—An attack on the federal trade commission's interpretation of a section of the Robinson-Patman act failed today in the Supreme court. The Robinson-Patman act is designed to prevent price discrimination.

The tribunal refused to review a decision by the Second Circuit Court of Appeals against the Biddle Purchasing company of New York and a group of wholesalers and manufacturers. The law makes it illegal under certain circumstances for any one to pay or receive a commission on goods sold or bought.

The Biddle company, which sells a market information and purchasing service to wholesalers, contracted with sellers to dispose of goods. Sales were made to wholesalers. Commissions received by Biddle from the sellers were credited against its regular charge to wholesalers for the information service.

The Masonite corporation of Chicago failed to obtain a review of a decision authorizing the Securities and Exchange commission to disclose certain confidential information submitted by the company.

RAILROAD WAGE HEARING ENDS IN CLASH OF PLEAS

Plan of Settlement Due Oct. 27.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—(AP)—A fact finding board appointed by President Roosevelt heard final pleas today for and against a proposed 15 per cent wage cut for railroad employés. The hearing, which had lasted three weeks, then ended.

J. Carter Fort tells cause of rail ills.

The board has until Oct. 27 to make recommendations to the President. These recommendations are generally expected to form the basis of some settlement designed to prevent the strike which the rail unions have called against the pay cut.

Labor Presents Arguments.

During the hearings, attorneys for the railroad brotherhoods told the board that a cut would disjoint the whole machinery of industry, sharply reduce buying power, and check the improvement beginning to be shown in business indices.

Counsel for the railroads argued, however, that an adjustment of wages would "improve the general economic situation and ultimately increase the general consumer purchasing power."

Tom Davis, attorney for the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, closed the unions' argument with a plea that the railroads be sent back to congress for the financial relief he agreed they need. He said the serious financial condition of many of the roads was due primarily to mismanagement.

Fort Explains Rails' Ills.

J. Carter Fort, chief counsel for the carriers, replied that the railroads' business was not showing as high a seasonal increase as in 1937 and that a third of the industry faced bankruptcy.

"Those old reliable bobgoblins of alleged overcapitalization, increasing debt, 'watered stock,' and 'Wall Street banker control' have been made to do heavy duty," Fort declared. "But the record is perfectly clear as to the real cause of the present railroad situation. The railroad crisis is due to a constantly narrowing spread between income and outgo."

BLEDSOE GIVES WARNING

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

It is high time that some means be found for adjusting railroad revenues to expenses if the nation wishes to keep railroad operation in private hands. This warning was given last night by Samuel T. Bledsoe, president of the Santa Fe railroad. He spoke before the Western Railway club at the Hotel Sherman.

"It is practically certain that if the railroads are taken over by the government there will be no competitors of the railroads operating privately," he declared. "Whatever competed with the railroads under government operation would also go under government operation."

Declaring that the present railroad situation is more disturbing than it has been since he entered railroad service in 1895, Bledsoe presented figures to show the problem they face. His figures covered the two six year periods of the last twelve years.

In the first six years operating revenues averaged 5 billion 730 million a year, against 3 billion 527 million a year in the second period—a decline of 38.44 per cent, he said. Expenditures on maintenance of way averaged 777 million in the first period and 397 million in the second, a decline of 48.49 per cent.

Steel Firm Orders $4,000,000 Equipment for Chicago Plant

Youngstown, O., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—The Youngstown Sheet and Tube company today awarded two contracts involving about $4,000,000 for steel finishing equipment. The awards are part of an improvement program costing about $16,000,000 at the company's Indiana Harbor plant in the Chicago district.

The improvement program will virtually double the plant's tin plate production. It will assure steadier employment of workers there, while also increasing steel production capacity about 25 per cent, officials said.

Cold Rolling Mill Ordered.

An order for a four-stand tandem cold rolling mill and a 45-46 inch blooming mill went to the United Engineering and Foundry company of Pittsburgh. A contract for a 54 inch hot strip mill went to the Mesta Machine company of Homestead, Pa.

The electrical equipment contracts will be divided among General Electric company, Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company and the Allis-Chalmers company. The contract for foundations has not been awarded but negotiations are under way for the 7,500 tons of structural steel needed for several new buildings which will replace some old buildings.

The work is expected to start soon and will be completed by July 1, 1939.

Discloses Other Improvements.

Other improvements at the Indiana Harbor plant will include construction of an additional open harth furnace and enlargement of the capacity of three old open harths. This will increase open harth steel capacity by about 150,000 tons a year. Present open harth steel capacity is about 600,000 tons.

The company, it is understood, decided to locate the equipment in the Chicago district to replace its twenty-four old fashioned hand tin mills which have been demolished, leaving it a large unused tinning capacity. Some hot strip has been shipped from Youngstown to Chicago for tinning, while some was rolled here.

The favorable freight rate differentials enjoyed by Chicago district mills and the nearness to the canning factories in the south and west helped to induce the company to locate the new equipment in Chicago.

STEEL MILLS RESTRICT PRODUCTION FOR WEEK TO 49.4% OF CAPACITY

Operations in the steel industry will decline this week to 49.4 per cent of mill capacity, the American Iron and Steel institute estimated yesterday. This is a decrease of 2 points from the 51.4 per cent of capacity rate at which steel ingot mills began last week.

A month ago operations in the industry were at 47.3 per cent of capacity and a year ago at 55.8 per cent of capacity.

The Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation, largest subsidiary of the United State Steel corporation, announced yesterday that it is increasing operations this week at its Youngstown, O., and Braddock, Pa. works.

At Detroit, the Great Lakes Steel division of the National Steel corporation this week is operating only thirteen open harth furnaces against fifteen last week.

Man Who Sold Mexican Oil Is Found Guilty of Fraud

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Oct. 17.—William Rhodes Davis, American independent oil operator who was reported to have negotiated the sale of expropriated Mexican oil to Germany, Italy, and Sweden, today was found guilty of conspiracy to defraud a Danish oil company.

GEN. ELECTRIC'S PROFIT REDUCED BY 56 PER CENT

DuPont Shows Much Lower Earnings.

General Electric company's profit for the first nine months of this year fell 56 per cent under that of the same period of 1937, Gerard Swope, president announced yesterday. Sales billed by General Electric during the period fell 26 per cent under last year's figure, he said.

Gerard Swope.

Net income available for dividends for the nine months was $17,548,256, or 61 cents a share on the outstanding common stock. This compared with profit of $39,663,931, or $1.38 a share, in the first nine months of 1937.

Sales billed during the period totaled $192,510,173 and orders received aggregated $188,736,958, Swope reported. Billings in the same period of 1937 were $260,773,533 and orders received totaled $305,276,556.

Du Pont Earnings Fall.

E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., which has a large interest in the General Motors corporation, reported that for the first nine months of this year it had net profit of $2.31 a share on the common stock. In the like 1937 period its earnings were $5.33 a share.

The indicated profit for the quarter ended Sept. 30, 1938, was equal to 95 cents a share, against $1.92 a share in the quarter ended Sept. 30, 1937.

Cream of Wheat corporation reported net income of $227,319, equal to 38 cents a share, for the third quarter of this year. This compares with $264,557, equal to 44 cents a share, in the third quarter of 1937. For the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1938, the company's profit was $648,893, equal to $1.08 a share, against $848,760, equal to $1.41 a share, in the first nine months of last year.

Harbison-Walker Refractories company reported that its profit for the quarter ended Sept. 30, 1938, was only $154,760, equal to 8 cents a share. This compared with a profit of $782,

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 17.—Late selling on the stock market today partly offset early gains in the aircraft and utility divisions and drove rail and industrial issues into lower territory. Final changes in the power and light shares were mostly fractional. Aircraft stocks held a good part of their advances. Losses in the other sections ranged from fractions to around 2 points.

Both aviations and public utilities continued active to reach new 1938 highs in the first two hours of trading. In the early afternoon their forward movement was stopped due to the failure of other sections to come along. Irregularity cropped out and selling spread to all sections.

Starting with a block of 30,000 shares, Curtiss-Wright went on to become the most active issue on the board. It closed fractionally higher at 6⅜, a new peak for the year. Douglas also made a new high at 57½, up ⅝. Boeing, United Aircraft, Glenn Martin, and Continental Aircraft closed fractions to 1 point higher. Reflecting the large dividend payment, North American Aviation jumped 2 points.

Persistent selling kept other industrials lower throughcut. Losses ranging to 2 points were registered by United States Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, United States Rubber, General Electric, Westinghouse, Montgomery Ward, Republic Steel and Sears Roebuck. Steel shares were depressed by the decline in the steel operating rate.

Switching by buyers from rails to utilities and aviations worked against the carrier group, but losses were limited. Allied was a strong spot in the chemicals, rising 2 points, while du Pont and Union Carbide both dropped 1 point. Oils declined fractionally for the most part.

Exceptional weakness cropped out in United States Gypsum, which cracked 7 points on 700 shares. Johns Manville also was weak, losing 4½ points.

New York Bonds.

New York, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Buying activities in the bond market today continued to center in the utility group. Rails gave up more of their early October gains.

Selling in the carriers reached fairly large proportions in late trading and at the close losses in leaders ranged from fractions to around 5 points. Nickel Plate 6s dipped 4¾ to 80¼.

Demand for utility liens brought a further small gain in the Associated Press average to a new high for the year. Industrials were mixed.

United States government issues were somewhat uneven.

Chicago Stocks.

Late selling wiped out many fractional gains in Chicago stocks yesterday, leaving closing prices irregularly lower. Volume picked up to 59,000 shares, compared with 49,000 Friday. THE TRIBUNE average of twenty stocks finished 0.08 lower at 31.63.

Volume leaders were mixed, with some stocks keeping part of their gains. Central and South West common closed up ⅛ point at 2⅛, after reaching a new 1938 high of 2⅜. Commonwealth Edison advanced ⅛ point to 27¾.

Bank Stocks.

Leading Chicago bank stocks moved lower yesterday. City National Bank and Trust company shares lost $2 lower at $106 bid, $110 asked. Stock of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company also finished $2 lower at $74 bid, $76 asked. Shares of the First National bank and Northern Trust company each were off $3. Dealers reported that trading was light.

BANKS' BUSINESS LOANS RISE 28 MILLION IN WEEK

Total Outstanding Near Four Billion.

In one of the largest gains reported for any week this year, loans made by the member banks of the federal reserve system to commerce, industry, and agriculture in the week ended Oct. 12 rose 28 million dollars. This was disclosed yesterday by the federal reserve board in its weekly report on member bank conditions in 101 cities.

The increase brought the total outstanding to 3 billions 924 millions. This was the third consecutive week in which business loans have shown increases. However, the general trend of business loans has been upward since early in the summer.

St. Louis Gains 6 Million.

Of the increase made last week the largest gains were reported by the St. Louis and New York federal reserve districts. Banks in the St. Louis district had an increase of $7,000,000 and banks in the New York district reported a gain of $6,000,000.

Loans to brokers showed an increase of 22 millions but were still 508 millions below the total outstanding on the corresponding 1937 week. Changes in bank holding of securities of the federal government were negligible, but the banks increased their holdings of other securities by 77 millions. Demand deposits increased 208 millions and time deposits declined 12 millions.

Comparative Figures.

Following are comparisons of the principal assets and liabilities of member banks of the federal reserve system [last six ciphers omitted]:

POUND AND FRANC GAIN ON DOLLAR AS SHORTS COVER

British and French currencies led an upswing yesterday in foreign exchange dealings in New York. In terms of the dollar, the pound sterling closed 1⅛ cent higher at $4.74⅝. The French franc advanced .00⅞ cent to 2.65½ cents.

Trading was quiet, however. The rise was attributed to short covering. Commercial demand was small.

The New York Federal Reserve bank announced engagement of $5,400,000 of gold in London for shipment to this country. In London gold was quoted in the open market 2½ pence lower at the equivalent of $34.77 an ounce.

Air Line's Week-end Traffic Out of Chicago Sets Mark

United Air Lines carried more passengers out of Chicago over the week-end than in any other similar period in its history. The record was announced yesterday by R. F. Ahrens, district traffic manager. Traffic on Sunday was the heaviest, with 225 passengers. The total of 605 for Friday, Saturday, and Sunday was 14 per cent higher than that on any other week-end. T

German Imports Decline, but Hold Above Year Ago

BERLIN, Germany, Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Imports by Germany in September amounted to 493,000,000 marks. This was a decline of 16,000,000 marks from August, but an increase of 31,000,000 marks over September, 1937. [The mark is about 40 cents.] Exports in September were 442,000,000 marks, a decline of 3,000,000 from August and a decrease of 52,000,000 marks from September, 1937.

Treasury Bill Price Rises Third Week in Row

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—(AP)—The price of 91 day treasury bills rose today for the third week in a row. The treasury announced that $100,000,000 of the short term securities were sold at an average discount price of 99.995, equivalent to borrowing at .018 per cent. Last week's price was equivalent to .022 per cent.

Union Pacific Considers Large Locomotive Order

The Union Pacific railway is reported to be considering the purchase of 30 locomotives. If the road decides to buy the engines it will be the largest individual locomotive order since late in 1936 when the New York Central bought 50. Last year the largest order was one for 25 which the Union Pacific gave to the American Locomotive company.

Bankers' Acceptances Rise in September; Below 1937

New York, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Bankers' dollar acceptances outstanding in the United States totaled $261,430,941 at the end of September, the federal reserve bank reported today. This was an increase of $3,111,329 during the month but $82,988,172 below the Sept. 30 figure last year, the federal reserve bank reported today.

Hides to Lether—12.

Few animals have escaped the experimenting itch of the tanner. North American Indians are reported to have preserved the skins of 150 different species of animals. Even the skins of the seal, walrus, ostrich, alligator, snake, frog and shark have been tanned commercially.

Bird and rodent skins are usually too small and fragile for wear. A morbid historical reference also excludes human skin from commercial tanning, although there is evidence that the weird ritual has been performed. In 1829 the skin of the murderer William Burke was preserved after his execution in Scotland.

Commercially, however, these instances of tanning are insignificant. The cow, sheep, goat, horse, hog and deer contribute most of the skins used in industry. The first three provide 95 per cent of the hides consumed. They are relatively abundant and their skins most suitable for durable goods or fancy accessories.

PENNSY'S AUGUST NET IS $1,727,131; TOPS JULY MARK

Net income of the Pennsylvania railroad in August after provision for fixed charges, was $1,727,131, the road announced yesterday. Net income was $1,121,063 in July, and $2,762,209 in August, 1937.

Substantial increases in net income in recent months have enabled the Pennsylvania to reduce its loss for the eight months ended Aug. 31 to $895,502. In the first eight months of 1937 the road had a net profit of $21,008,615.

WESTERN PACIFIC REORGANIZATION PLAN IS APPROVED

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—[Special.]—Present outstanding common stock of the Western Pacific Railroad company would be wiped out under the reorganization plan approved today by the interstate commerce commission.

Officials of the road would not discuss the decision, but it was believed in other quarters that the company would ask further hearings.

Under the I. C. C. plan capitalization was fixed at $93,726,517. Fixed interest charges were set at $511,001 and fixed and contingent interest charges, plus capital and sinking fund payment, at $1,898,223. The plan will be effective as of July 1, 1938.

The plan provides that the reorganized company will issue $10,000,000 or more of fifty year first mortgage 4 per cent bonds, $19,716,040 of seventy-five year income mortgage 4 per cent bonds, $29,574,060 par value of 5 per cent preferred stock and 313,703 shares of par value common.

Three Roads' Trafic Rises; Rock Island Loadings Drop

Three of the four major railroads which reported car loadings yesterday had increased freight trafic in the week ended Oct. 15, compared with the preceding week. They were the Santa Fe, the Baltimore and Ohio, and the Milwaukee. The largest increase was reported by the Santa Fe. The Rock Island system reported a decline in loadings from the preceding week. Car loadings of railroads which reported yesterday follow:
